Selling of the Christmas season begins

A Herald Staff report

The Christmas crush begins today. Traditionally the best — if not the top — selling day of the year, the day after Thanksgiving marks the unofficial start of holiday sales at stores in the Northwest suburbs and throughout the U.S.

"I have the feeling that generally consumers are ready for Christmas like they haven't been for the past several years," said Hugh Muncy, president of the Illinois Retail Mechants Assn. "They're looking for something to believe in." The holiday season will provide a welcome change from the frustration and confusion caused by worries about inflation, recession and Watergate, Muncy said.

Consumrs are "shopping more carefully, looking for bargains," he continued. Total retail sales will equal 1973 Christmas season sales, he said. Muncy said the actual volume of sales may dip, if the impact of inflation is taken into account. This is seconded by a recent U.S. Dept. of Commerce survey that indicates U.S. retail sales increased a few percentage points above 1973 sales, yet the figures did not keep pace with the rate of inflation.

ALTHOUGH RETAILER forecasts of holiday sales are mixed, there are indications that some shoppers started scouting for Christmas gifts early this year. "Christmas business so far is super," reports Jay Persin of Persin and Robbin Jewelers in Arlington Heights. Holiday shoppers, prompted by early Christmas advertising, are buying early.

"The shopping season has started, but not with a bang," said Tillie Menshing, manager of the Lorraine-Anne women's dress shop in Arlington Heights. Loungewear and sportswear will be the biggest holiday sellers, she said.

"Everyone here is quite bullish about the way things are going," said Harold Carlson, manager of the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect. Today should be "our biggest people day," he said. "I'm never sure if it's our biggest dollar volume day." Strong November sales indicate good holiday traffic, he said, "and when shoppers find a bargain they're making a purchase."

BARGAIN HUNTERS will be looking for less expensive items this year in an effort to cope with rising costs, predicts Paul Trom, manager of the Treasury Store in Rolling Meadows. He views the trend as a booster for sales. "Maybe people who would normally shop at a more expensive store will come into our store," he said. "I would not expect people to buy less, but I do expect they will try to buy it less expensively." Sales of pocket calculators, jewelry, battery-operated toys, men's sport coats and women's sweaters and slacks are good, he said.

Men's leisure suits, women's long-sleeved shirts and coordinated outfits are among the items that should sell well during the season, predicts Sam Basofin, vice president and general merchandise manager at Crawford's department store in Rolling Meadows. "We're planning for a good Christmas," Basofin said. "Economic conditions affect day-to-day spending, but people still spend on Christmas." Shoppers may buy fewer gifts or less expensive gifts to stretch their dollars further, he said.

"Some people might be buying less but they're buying quality," said Vernon Hagenbring of Hagenbring's Department Store in Arlington Heights. Sales of fabric, and children's clothing should top last year's holiday sales he said, adding, "Each year you have to beat last year because of inflation."

COLD WEATHER and snow usually spark heavy holiday sales, said James Svoboda of Svoboda and Sons Menswear in Arlington Heights. Men's leisure suits and brightly colored shirts are big sellers, he said.

A spokesman for Marshall Field and Co. at the Woodfield Shopping Center in Schaumburg and James Coyne, manager of the Books Unlimited store in Arlington Heights, said they are optimistic about strong holiday sales volume.

Man's body found near Wheeling

The body of an unidentified man was found Thursday morning by a man walking his dog along Portwine Road in the Potawotami Woods Forest Preserve near Wheeling.

Sheriff's investigators worked Thursday afternoon to determine the circumstances surrounding the death.

The badly decomposed body was found shortly before 9 a.m. in a wooded area about 100 feet off Portwine Road and about one block north of Dundee Road.

Sgt. Ray Voelker of the Sheriff's police said the body was found about 100 feet from the road in the Potawotami Woods. He indicated there was no immediate identification of the body available and that it would be difficult to determine the cause of death.

OBSERVERS SAID THE body was partially buried and that only the shoulders and head were above ground.

Police found a boot and several other articles of clothing near the body. A spokesman for the county morgue also said that a set of upper teeth were found by police.

Identification also will be hampered by the fact that parts of the body had been eaten by animals, police said.

Sheriff's investigator Warren Shwartz has been assigned to investigate the incident. Crime lab technicians were going over the scene searching for possible clues Thursday afternoon.

Wheeling Police and Sheriff's investigators said they had no reason to believe the body was that of any local resident.

Shooting victim 'stable'; police still seek gunman

A Wheeling woman shot near Jack London High School on W. Dundee Road Wednesday, was reported in satisfactory condition Thursday at Holy Family Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said the vital signs of the victim, Lelia Edgerton, 758 Lake View Dr., were "stable". She has been scheduled for surgery on Monday afternoon, to remove a pellet or bullet fragment which lodged in her head, the spokesman added.

Meanwhile, Wheeling police said they were still investigating the case Thursday. They refused to release any further information concerning the shooting.

The pellet or bullet fragment which struck Mrs. Edgerton shattered the window of the car in which she was a passenger as it traveled down Dundee Road.

POLICE REFUSED to confirm a report that they have found the pistol that may have been involved in the shooting.

Another woman, Barbara Petykowski, 298 N. Ashland Ave., Palatine, was slightly injured during the shooting, but did not require medical attention.

Police said Mrs. Petykowski was shot as she reached for her child's hand while they were walking in the area of the Sears Catalog Outlet store, 835 W. Dundee Rd. She told police she heard five shots before she was hit.

Police said neither woman saw the gunman. According to one source, however, police are seeking an 18-year-old suspect for questioning.

Arson suspected in $2,000 fire

Arson is suspected as the cause of a fire that did $2,000 worth of damage to a storage shed behind Grace Lutheran Church, 1624 E. Euclid, Mount Prospect police reported.

There were no reported injuries in the blaze that occurred early Thursday.

Police said the only thing in the shed was a tractor lawnmower which also was damaged. No damage was reported to the church.

Arson came under suspicion when an empty 2½-gallon gasoline can was found by firefighters next to the shed.

Mental health center seeks funds

The Elk Grove-Schaumburg Township Mental Health Center has applied for $23,000 in state funds to set up a day treatment program for emotionally disturbed adults beginning Jan. 1. Jordan Rosen, executive director of the mental health center, located next to Alexian Brothers Medical Center, said the program will provide intensive counseling to help adults avoid hospitalizaton.

Palatine weighs tunnel suit

Palatine officials are prepared to go to court to block the Metropolitan Sanitary District's decision to eliminate Palatine from a passive flood control plan. If Palatine is left out, village officials say local taxes will be needed to pay for much of a separate project. Palatine officials say it is unfair to eliminate Palatine from the MSD-funded project while Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines are included. The MSD contends it would be too expensive to include Palatine in the program.

Schaumburg grows by 4,200

Although company officials will not comment on the plans, Des Plaines Mayor Herbert Behrel has met with officials and groundbreaking reportedly is scheduled next March.

Quasar shutdown next month

Quasar Electronics Corp. of Franklin Park will shut down production at two plants in Illinois and one in Canada for three to four weeks in mid-December because of declining sales. About 1,000 workers at the Franklin Park plant, 460 at Pontiac and about 100 at Toronto, will be laid off.

'ORD': yes, it stands for 'O'Hare'...

by JILL BETTNER

You are flying into John F. Kennedy Airport so your luggage is tagged JFK, and for Honolulu's airport it is HNL and so the logical making for O'Hare Airport is ORD.

What is ORD? Few people know and few seem to notice when it's on their baggage. All the taveler apparently is worried about is getting to O'Hare with baggage close behind.

Several travelers interviewed by The Herald in the bustling domestic terminal at O'Hare this week said they had never really worried about their bags winding up somewhere other than Chicago with "ORD" tags. Most said they assumed the letters somehow identify the airport and stand for something, but few could even guess what.

ONE CAREER Air Force enlisted man, accustomed to cryptic military nomenclature, said he had flown into O'Hare many times during his 24-year stint in the service but never thought much about the "ORD" designation.

"I always just thought it stood for 'ordinary,' you know, not military," he said. His explanation for the tousands of other "ordinary" airports in the country was "This one's the biggest, isn't it?"

A few travelers came up with the right answer to the ORD question, but for the most part, airline personnel seem to be the only ones generally familiar with the reason for the call letters.

The designation actually originated long before jumbo jets came on the scene and before O'Hare became the busiest "ordinary" airport not only in the country, but in the world.

BACK WHEN O'Hare was little more than a small landing strip for Douglas Aircraft Co. and the military, it was known as "Orchard Place Airport."

After World War II, the airstrip and adjacent property was purchased by the City of Chicago and renamed in 1949 in honor of the late Lt. Comdr. Edward H. (Butch) O'Hare a young Naval hero from Chicago.

In the same way that the "ORD" designation is puzzling to anyone who does not know the history of O'Hare, there are call letters for many other major U.S. airports that appear mysterious, at least on the surface.

For example, the Los Angeles airport is identified with the letters "LAX." That could be because a Las Vegas airport is designated with "LAS," but it is hard to say.

The New Orleans airport has the designation "MSY," and Dulles Airport in Washington, D.C., is known by "IAD."

Fortunately, some designations are entirely clear such as "DEN" for Denver, "MSP" for Minneapolis and "ATL" for Atlanta.

When New York's Idlewild Airport was renamed after John F. Kennedy, the call letters were changed to the logical "JFK."

ASKED WHY THE "ORD" designation was kept when O'Hare was renamed, one man said he thought the call letters were well known and close enough to "O'Hare" to be retained.

Airline personnel, including stewardesses, passenger service representatives and reservations clerks are generally required to memorize at least some designations for major airports as part of their training. For example, stewardesses for several companies are tested each year over the designations of the airports served by their airline.

One airport information clerk said she has occasionally been asked about the meaning of the "ORD" designation, but most people seem to be unconcerned about the O'Hare call letters or the designations used for other airfields.

"I guess people just figure the airlines know what they're doing," she said.

A baggage man, who said he has been working at O'Hare since 1950 and has never been questioned about the airport's call letters, offered a reasonable explanation for the lack of interest at least in the "ORD" designation.

"They see their stuff is here so what's the difference what's on the tag?" he asked. "Sure, baggage gets lost sometimes, but it's usually here when they get here. That's all they care about."

Family groups, elderly, servicemen

Holiday travelers—you meet all kinds at O'Hare Airport

On an ordinary Thursday moring, O'Hare Airport is filled with businessmen and salesmen with attache cases.

But on Thanksgiving morning, the airport takes on a different feeling. While not as crowded as during the Christmas rush, the terminals are nevertheless the temporary destination of family groups and the elderly, most of them already dressed for a festive Thanksgiving dinner.

"It's during the holidays that we get people who don't fly at any other time of the year," a woman at an information desk across from the United Airlines ticket counter said Thursday as she directed an elderly couple to their gate.

Airline employes working on the holiday were unable to estimate whether the number of passengers flying was down in this year of double-digit inflation. "I guess it probably is," a ticket agent for United said. "But it doesn't seem like we're that much less busy than last year."

THE SCENE in the airport terminals was relatively relaxed, probably partly because planes were arriving and departing on time in the clear, crisp cold weather.

Children, most dressed in "Sunday best" scurried about the terminal, sometimes prompting their parents to tell them to "get off the floor, you'll get your clothes dirty."

Servicemen on leave also were much in evidence on Thanksgiving morning. Many paused to talk to several representatives of a religious organization who greeted them with "Hello, brother. How's the service these days?"

The airport itself showed few signs of the Thanksgiving holiday except for the headlines on the newspapers in the vending machines.

Instead, the airport was already decorated with wreaths and holly, signs that will serve to remind passengers caught in the inevitable Christmas rush a month from now what holiday they are preparing to celebrate.

The trans-Alaska pipeline . . .

On schedule for mid-1977

WASHINGTON (UPI) — — Late in 1973, five years after discovery of huge new oil reserves on Alaska's Arctic coast, Congress voted overwhelmingly to allow private construction of a $3 billion pipeline to carry the oil 789 miles to ice-free ports for shipment to West Coast refineries.

President Nixon signed the bill into law three days later, on Nov. 16.

Environmentalists fought the trans-Alaska pipeline vigorously, charging it would destroy the delicate ecological balance of the unspoiled Alaskan tundra. But the Arab oil embargo triggered by the October, 1973, war with Israel dashed their hopes of stalling construction in Congress and the courts.

The way was cleared for construction of the 48-inch pipeline from Prudhoe Bay, across the tundra, over the Yukon River and through two mountain ranges to the port of Valdez, where tankers would carry the oil to refineries in California and Washington state.

The oil companies promised the pipeline would be operating by mid-1977 and would reach full capacity of 2 million barrels a day — 10 per cent of U.S. needs — by 1980.

Today, the pipe lies stacked in the frigid Alaskan wilderness waiting to be laid, and the estimated cost has risen from $3 billion to nearly $5 billion. But the Alyeska Pipeline Service Co., the construction firm formed by the oil companies, says the project is right on schedule or slightly ahead.

The most visible evidence of progress is a new, 360-mile, allweather road stretching from the Yukon River to Prudhoe Bay, built in five months by 3,400 men working from both ends. Completed in September, it allows the start on the pipeline itself. Actual laying of pipe is to begin next spring. If all goes well, Alyeska says, oil will start flowing toward the continental United States two years later.

Attack high price of Canadian oil

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William E. Brock, R-Tenn., said Thursday that because of a special export tax the United States pays more for oil from Canada than from anywhere else in the world.

In a letter to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, Brock suggested that the State Department try to eliminate this tax, which has particularly raised oil costs of Americans who live in the northern states. As a "bargaining chip," Brock suggested taxing or restricting Canadian oil in pipelines that cross the United States.

Brock said he was "asking that this government act to protect American consumers from what we feel is a discriminatory tax by the Canadian government." An aide said 17 senators had joined Brock in signing the letter.

The United States currently pays between $11 and $13 for a barrel of crude oil imported from the Arab nations belonging to the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries. Canada, not a member of OPEC, levied an additional $5 a barrel export tax, apparently in an effort to restrict exports.

Meanwhile, in Vienna, experts of the major oil exporting countries Thursday recommended holding oil prices at the current level and fixing future prices for longer periods than before for the sake of economic stability.

A delegate to OPEC said that the hold-the-line stand on prices would be "for a longer period" than the usual quarterly price-fixing. But he said the period would be decided by OPEC's oil ministers.

The experts also agreed on the outline of a new pricing system aimed at protecting consumers from price fluctuations and manipulation by the oil companies.

The recommendations will be submitted for approval by ministers of the 13 OPEC countries scheduled to meet Dec. 12 in Vienna.

Idled coal miners Thursday began receiving copies of a proposed new contract that is expected to end the nationwide strike by the 120,000-member United Mine Workers union.

If voting begins Monday as expected, ratification of the pact could see the miners back at the jobs before the end of the week.

The contract, which provides a 64 per cent increase in wages and benefits, means miners now getting $45 a day would receive $54 per day in the third year of the pact. They also won cost-of-living protection, sizable pension increases, improved holiday and vacation benefits, paid sick leave and extended health coverage for workers and widows.

Push terrorism prevention bill in Britain

The British government urged Parliament Thursday to approve "with determination and reasonable expedition" emergency legislation outlawing the Irish Republican Army. Scotland Yard told the public to beware of reprisal bombings. Home Secretary Roy Jenkins, warning the fight to stop terrorism in Britain "may not be short," launched what appeared to be a marathon session on the "Prevention of Terrorism" bill. The government hopes the bill will become law by Friday night.

Cyclone batters Bangladesh coast

A severe cyclone battered the southeast coast of Bangladesh Thursday with 90 mile-an-hour winds and 10-foot tidal waves, heavily damaging part of the famine wracked nation's rice crop. Preliminary reports said five persons died in the storm which submerged low lying areas on the southeast coast near the port of Chittagong and off-shore islands. Houses also were destroyed or damaged and communications lines cut.

Confusion breaks up march in Saigon

Roman Catholic opponents of President Nguyen Van Thieu failed to muster strength for a march through downtown Saigon Thursday, and broke up in confusion because of police precautions, including barbed wire barricades around two churchyard mustering points. When some protestors were contained, they showered police with stones. Police retaliated by shooting pieces of wire from slingshots at the crowd.

ADDIS ABABA (UPI) — Deposed Emperor Haile Selassie traded part of his huge fortune for his life, diplomatic sources said Thursday.

The deal between the 82-year-old former absolute monarch saved him from being among victims of a mass execution last weekend.

The diplomats said Selassie signed a document authorizing transfer to Ethiopia of part of his personal fortune in Swiss banks, estimated at millions of dollars. Details of the transfer are being worked out between Ethiopian and Swiss diplomats.

Politburo OKs arms agreement

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union's ruling Politburo has given its formal approval to the results of the Soviet-American summit near Vladivostok, the Tass news agency said Thursday.

Tass said the Politburo and other branches of the Soviet government gave the pro forma stamp of approval to Communist party General secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev after his talks with President Ford last weekend.

"These results, which gave great significance to the continuing development of Soviet-American relations, relations based on the principle of peaceful coexistence, give new impetus to the expansion to world detente," the official Tass statement said.

GOP losers claim Ford has cold shoulder

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defeated Republican congressmen and their aides are going to the White House for jobs but feel President Ford is giving them the cold shoulder, congressional informants said Thursday.

About 25 GOP congressmen who lost their seats to Democrats on Nov. 5 and about 50 of their administrative assistants are job hunting. Aides say that within a few months, Ford will shake up the Cabinet he inherited from Richard M. Nixon.

Said John W. Hushen, Ford's deputy press secretary: "We are trying to be of assistance where we can, but there is no mandatory placement program for defeated congressmen."

Some congressional aides went to the White House recently to discuss possible presidential appointments. Instead of seeing William Walker, head of White House personnel, the sources said, "they were shunted off to two of Walker's underlings."

The aides asked about the "job bank," a highly publicized computer list of administration openings. They were told it had been sent to Nixon in San Clemente, Calif.

The informants say Ford has not called his former colleagues personally to offer any positions "or consolation." They said President Lyndon B. Johnson "did a lot of calling and at least stroked" the losers after the 1966 Democratic setback.

"They have an 'I don't give a damn' attitude," said one congressional aide. "The people who carried water for the GOP elephant won't be around if Ford wants to win an election in two years. If Ford lets the men experienced in politics go down the drain there won't be anyone to help him."

Meanwhile, there were reports in Washington that Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., defeated for re-election, would be named Health, Education and Welfare secretary, succeeding Caspar P. Weinberger, and that Housing Secretary James T. Lynn is expected to become director of the Office of Management and Budget, succeeding Roy Ash who will leave by the end of the year.

Inflation and recession . . . shadows lengthen in Europe

by JOSEPH FLEMING

BRUSSELS (UPI) — "It took Genghis Khan years of rape and pillage to achieve the chaos to which inflation has brought the world's economics by stealth in a bare 18 months."

That is the way the Economist magazine of London described Europe's beset condition, a compound of inflation, balance of payment deficits and all the other economic, financial and social distortions caused by the quadrupling of world oil prices.

Not since the great prewar Depression has fear of economic disaster been so widespread. Bankers, industrialists, politicians and technicians and workers are rattled.

"The world's current crisis is a 'lasting one," French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing told a news conference. He said the world may be heading for an economic catastrophe.

Mikhail Suslov, the Soviet Union's top ideologist, stated that the crisis, which the Kremlin views without great displeasure, had strengthened the Communists in the West: "The number of unemployed is growing, the life of the working people is becoming harder, their uncertainty of tomorrow is growing and the entire system is bursting its seams."

Thousands have lost jobs. Unemployment is increasing in West Germany, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Ireland. The Swiss government, however, reported only 78 persons unemployed.

In West Germany 702,000 were out of work, and five leading West German economic research institutes predicted unemployment would increase to one million this winter.

Italian Labor Minister Luigi Bertoldi said unemployment in Italy may reach two million next year.

All over the industrial West prices have soared. Economists are baffled and divided on how to solve the problem.

The inflation rate ranges from 7 per cent in West Germany, the lowest of all industrial nations, to 23.6 per cent in Japan; 24.6 per cent in Italy; 33 per cent in Greece and 40 per cent in Israel.

At the center of the problem is the fourfold increase in crude oil prices imposed in the past year by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

West Germany's five largest independent economic research institutes said in a report they do not anticipate a worldwide recession, unless nations take harsh protectionist measures against imports.

The report said that Japan, West Germany and the United States — where the economic downswing started — would recover soonest and spur an economic upswing in other nations.

This conclusion is not universally accepted.

Emile van Lennep, secretary general of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, said forecasts of a slow upturn may be wrong; the risk of a depression has to be accepted in order to stop inflation.

Economically robust nations fear the effects of a general recession. "There are no signs of a recession in Holland," said Dutch Finance Minister Wim Duisenberg, "but it would be impossible for this country to escape a worldwide recession."

"The Belgian economy in the long run cannot escape the malaise now besetting all western industrial nations, especially because a large part of output is exported," said the Belgian Economic Ministry.

Many French businesses are going bankrupt or reporting losses. The bankruptcy figure for July was 3,556 compared with 2,861 in July, 1973.

The Italian firm Fiat has cut production by 200,000 cars and put 71,000 workers on a three-day week.

In West Germany, Volkswagen laid off 49,000 of its 118,000 work force for eight weeks. Daimler Benz laid off for one week about one-fourth of its truck and tractor workers.

Britain, trying to keep prices down, is subsidizing many foodstuffs. Bread is subsidized and so is cheese. A cheese sandwich that cost 25 cents a year ago now is 39 cents.

The Oct. 10 general election, Britain's second in seven months, was a referendum on inflation and the economy. Laborite Harold Wilson won because voters felt he could manage things better than Conservative Edward Heath.

Wilson's victory, according to columnist Bernard Levin, means that Britons "will keep our heads above water this winter. Then we shall drown."

Road project coming through

Homeowner awaits the bulldozer

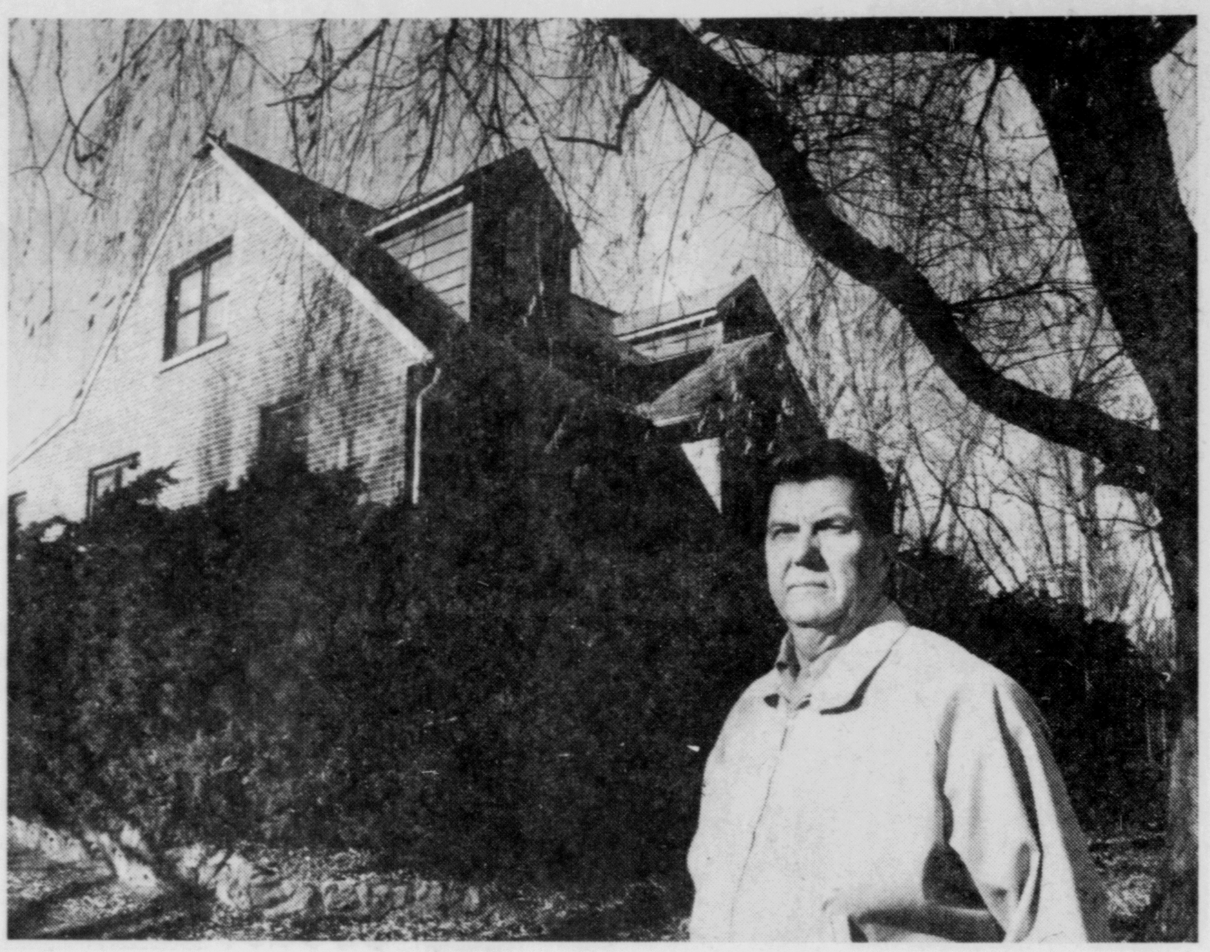
by BETTY LEE

Wheeling resident Walter Schneck has been hearing rumors for years about a Lake-Cook Road project that would eliminate his home. Thinking that he lived far enough away from the road, Schneck paid no heed. "We weren't on the county line (Lake-Cook Road), so I didn't worry," he said.

The talk is no longer rumor because the Cook County Highway Dept. has planned the project, routing the roadway from Highland Park, through Wheeling and Buffalo Grove, and on to Barrington.

This time Schneck's property is affected because it lies between McHenry and Buffalo Grove roads, right where the road is to be expanded and extended.

"We dislike losing our home, but in reality that's impossible," Schneck said. "You can't stop a road from coming through. So the second best thing would be to keep the house until the last minute."



THE HOUSE Walter Schneck built in Wheeling 25 years ago is on borrowed time. The Cook County Highway Dept. wants the land for the Lake-Cook Road project, but Schneck does not want to sell until he retires in 1978.

THE COUNTY HAS already made an offer to buy the property, but Schneck says he wants to keep the house until he retires in 1978.

The reason is not so much sentiment as it is practicality: Schneck does not want to move unnecessarily because of the high mortgage and moving rates. He wants to save for a possible major move when he retires.

Schneck, who has lived in the house for more than 25 years, contends that road construction invariably gets delayed. "If they take our home now, the house can sit here for two or three years," he said. "I think they're too quick to want to grab it."

The county, however, has something else in mind. Officials say that construction in the Wheeling and Buffalo Grove area will start around August next year. Completion of that road segment will probably be finished in 1½ years, officials said.

CURRENTLY THE project is centered between Waukegan and Skokie and construction will shift westward, officials said.

Schneck came to the Northwest area from Chicago in 1948 and built the house himself. Using his carpentry skills, he constructed the home with the best materials he could afford and installed other extras such as an oversized furnace and good well system.

Schneck said he has heard of the Lake-Cook Road project for many years. Because of the constant changing of plans, Schneck said he became less concerned as time passed.

"WE BUILT THIS home with the intention of staying," he said. He, his wife and two children live there. "My wife's parents go to St. Mary's Church, just up the road," he said. "We go there, too."

"Right now I wouldn't know where to go if I had to move," he said. "It would have to be in the community because of my job.

"I didn't say that I won't move . . . I will," he said. "But I hope they (highway officials) look at it with a more realistic attitude. I just want them to leave me alone until they know for sure when the project is coming through."

Schneck has just sent a letter to the highway department, asking them to discuss the problem further. "There's nothing to do right now, except to wait," he said.

Panel urges hitting MSD move

Palatine weighs court fight for inclusion in tunnel plan

Palatine officials are preparing for a court battle to block the Metropolitan Sanitary District's plans to exclude the village from a massive tunnel and reservoir plan.

The flood committee decided Tuesday to recommend the village take whatever steps necessary to force the MSD to put Palatine back into the tunnel and reservoir plan. If Palatine is excluded, village taxpayers likely would pay much of the cost of a separate project.

"They can't exclude us from the deep tunnel and still say we are part of the MSD. They must treat us fairly," said Trustee Robert J. Guss Jr., committee chairman.

The tunnel and reservoir system is designed to solve flooding and water pollution problems by building reservoirs and digging deep tunnels. MSD officials voted in October to exclude Palatine from the deep tunnel plan because it was not the most cost effective solution to the village's flooding and water pollution problems.

MSD OFFICIALS have suggested that Palatine solve its problems by separating nearly 1,000 acres of combined sewers in the older sections of the village. The cost of separating the sewers is estimated by MSD officials at between $11.1 million and $12.7 million but Palatine officials say it could run anywhere from $20 million to $100 million.

Palatine officials feel the MSD has a responsibility to solve the village's problems since it is solving the problems of neighboring Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Des Plaines.

The only cost village officials are willing to pay is for providing hydraulic relief of the existing combined sewers to hook in with the proposed deep tunnel.

WALTER HODEL of Consoer and Townsend and Associates, village engineering consultants, has estimated the cost of the hydraulic relief of the existing system at $9.7 million. Hodel said state or federal funds might be available to pay partially for this expense.

Guss has suggested the village take Hodel's report to the MSD board and demand the MSD pay any costs in excess of $9.7 million to solve Palatine's problems on the basis of equity. Any court action over the matter would be based on the inequity of excluding Palatine from the deep tunnel system but continuing to charge the village MSD taxes.

Village Mgr. Anton H. Harwig also has suggested the village could use its political power to object to any reversal of the Environmental Protection Agency's requirement of a users-charge fee instead of real estate tax. If the users-charge fee system is maintained as a requirement for a federal grant the MSD would be forced to install separate meters on sanitary sewer lines from every home in the district.

IF MSD officials continue to maintain separation of Palatine's combined sewer system is the most cost effective method to handle the village's water and sewer problems, the village will ask the district to pay for all costs in excess of the $9.7 million. The village will also ask MSD to pay for the maintenance of a separate sewer system.

The flood committee will make its recommendations to the village board on Monday where a path of action will be developed to attempt to get Palatine back in the deep tunnel system.

Trustee Bryan P. Coughlin Jr. has suggested that regardless of the MSD decision steps should be taken by the village to make property owners in the central business district pay their share of any improvements of the sewer system as part of the redevelopment.

The central business district covers approximately one-third of the area now served by combined sewers. The irregularly shaped area is bounded roughly by Northwest Highway on the north, Gilbert Street on the south, Cedar Street on the west and Rohlwing Road on the east.

Wineseller out to spread holiday cheer

by LEA TONKIN

He munches on cheese and crackers with satisfaction, talks about the romance of fine wines and readies baskets of Scotch and gourmet goodies for holiday giving.

"I wish I was 21 years old and knew what I know now," says A. (Dobby) Dobkin, rubbing his hands together. "I really think the wine business has just begun."

Dobkin, a co-owner of World Wide Liquors in Palatine, is hopeful in the face of a bumpy sales year for the wine industry. Few customers are willing to shell out more than five bucks for a bottle. "I don't know if it's the economy or what," Dobkin said. Wine sales are fair this year, following several boom sales years. And the prices — from a dime to two bucks a bottle, the cost of package liquors has taken an unusual upward swing.

"You have to be flexible," Dobkin said. "There is no such thing as a predictable customer." He confides, "If you're smart, you don't get stuck with anything."

DOBKIN IS counting on a nose for what the customers want to carry his business through the current economic slump. "In our business, the whole thing is in the last two months of the year," he said.

So there will be a variety of price ranges for holiday gifts this year — packages of cheese and wine, gourmet foods and cookware. "In the long run, if people are staying at home more to entertain and stretch their dollars, they may end up buying more from us," Dobkin said. "This is the market we're looking at."

He says the shakeout in the wine industry is good for everyone. Starting in 1969 and 1970, a horde of new customers started coming into the market to buy the "pop" wines. Selling the less expensive wines was good for business then, Dobkin says. But now the fledgling wine drinkers — many of them young people — are changing their taste to better wines.

"Price is important. Even more important is knowledge," Dobkin said. When he talks about a soft, full-bodied Bordeaux wine, he may mention the good years, the price a customer should expect to pay and several comparable wines.

"THIS IS WHERE the romance comes in, I can picture the chateau where it is made, most of the people there," said Dobkin, an occasional visitor to the wine-producing regions of Europe. He speaks of wine as a living thing. "Wine needs a chance to rest and become acclimated," he said. Crushed in childhood, and bewildered in adolescence — "It doesn't know what it wants to become" — a wine may improve with age or die.

The unpredictable wine market requires constant study. "Six out of every 10 items we sell in this market were not available several years ago," Dobkin said. He will stock the fine wines of France, Austria and Germany, for example, peppering the displays with lesser known wines of South Africa, Argentina and other countries.

Party goods and gourmet foods are one means of heading off the competition from big chain stores that are hurting sales. Dobkin regards his service to customers as flexible and personal, and this is something a customer can only get from the small local business, he said.

"I'm very fortunate because I love the business. You have to like what you're doing — the liquor business is an entertainment business," Dobkin said. "This business — it's so damn personal. When I recommend a wine to a customer, if I'm right, I'm God. If I'm wrong, I'm a bum."

Liquor store sales expected to rise

Sales at Chicago area package liquor stores during 1974 likely will increase 10 to 12 per cent above last year's sales, reports Morton Siegel, executive director and general counsel of the Illinois Liquor Stores Assn.

"A large portion of that amount can be attributed to inflation," Siegel said. "The price of liquor had been rather stagnant the last 10 years. There have been more than the usual amount of price increases passed along to retailers within the last year, he said.

"The wine business, particularly import wines are not realizing the same growth as they had the year before," Siegel said.

Retailers are hoping that budget-conscious customers will not reduce purchases of package liquors during the holiday season, he added. Thirty to 60 per cent of annual sales generally are recorded in the six-week period of Thanksgiving through the end of the year. The Illinois Liquor Stores Assn. has 2,200 members.

NEW ARRIVALS are inspected by A. (Dobby) Dobkin and Bob Burton of World Wide Liquors. Wines and liquor sales are riding out a bumpy year.

Be careful with leftover turkey, U.S. report warns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thousands of homemakers may be running a risk of spreading salmonella food poisoning in their homes by careless handling of leftover Thanksgiving turkey and dressing, U. S. Agriculture Dept. specialists warn.

The warning was issued after studies of replies to a food safety survey indicated many consumers are taking "unnecessary risks" in handling both turkey and stuffing, officials said.

The survey indicated that about 37 per cent of homemakers polled in a national sample usually allow cooked turkey to remain at room temperature for two hours or more before it goes into a refrigerator.

That much exposure to room temperature may not always result in bacterial contamination of the turkey — but it might, experts said.

ALSO, THE AGRICULTURE Dept. report added, the estimate that 37 per cent of all householders leave cooked turkey unrefrigerated for a potentially dangerous length of time is probably conservative. That's because the survey question focused on the first big meal at which the turkey is served and did not measure the times during which leftovers may be exposed to room temperature.

"A homemaker's handling of leftover turkey and any accompanying stuffing and gravy is . . . critical," experts warned. This is because the 2 to 3-hour room temperature period in which salmonella bacteria could reach dangerous levels can be reached in several separate installments.

For example, specialists explained, suppose Thursday's Thanksgiving turkey was exposed to room temperature for one hour and then put into the refrigerator. Then, two days later it is taken out of the refrigerator and left at room temperature for another hour while members of the family cut sandwiches from the leftover.

THE TOTAL EFFECT, officials said, is the same as if the turkey had been left at room temperature for two consecutive hours. Refrigerating or even freezing the turkey holds down further growth of salmonella bacteria which began to multiply during the first exposure — but it does not kill the bacteria and they will resume their growth when the leftovers are taken out of the refrigerator.

Salmonella bacteria cause an estimated 2 million cases of illness annually. The sickness normally produces flu-like symptoms, but in specially vulnerable persons like infants and the elderly there have been fatalities.

Officials said their survey indicates that many consumers underrate the amount of care needed in preparing and handling meats to avoid salmonella contamination. The bacteria can be killed by normal cooking or reheating temperatures, but experts said many consumers do not seem to realize that bacteria can grow just as rapidly in cooked meats as in raw meats.

The Friendship Junior High School Parent Teacher Organization will hold its first meeting of the year Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 8 p.m. at the school, 550 W. Elizabeth Ln., Des Plaines.

The Friendship Chorus, under the direction of Gay White, will present a program of seasonal music. The PTO also will sponsor a bake sale. Junior Girl Scout Troops 116, 503 and 510 will hold a craft sale before and after the meeting.

The public is invited.

Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15

Students at Sanborn School in Palatine will see performances next week by Urban Gateways, a nonprofit arts-education agency in the Chicago metropolitan area.

"The Truck Inc.," a repertory theater company will perform for students at Sanborn Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.

The student body at Palatine Hills Junior High School collected more than 2,000 ounces of food this month in a canned food drive for Little City in Palatine, a private school for handicapped children.

The drive was sponsored in connection with the Thanksgiving holiday. Little City will use the canned food to add variety to menus. The drive was conducted from Nov. 19 to Nov. 26.

Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Dist. 21

Nancy Wood and Beth Caldwell were selected for the citizen-of-the-month award at Field School, 51 St. Armand Ln., Wheeling.

Schaumburg Township Dist. 54

The Nathan Hale School PTA will present a program on early-childhood education in Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room of the school, 1300 Wise Rd., Schaumburg.

The district's program for preschoolers will be discussed and parents will be given ideas on how they can help a child in school by working with him at home.

School Dist. 102

A Christmas party and meeting will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Aptakisic-Tripp School, Rte. 1, Prairie View, by the school parent-teacher organization.

William Santello, music teacher, will discuss the music program and present a choral demonstration by the school children.

Maine Township High School Dist. 207

The Dave Remington band will perform in concert at 8:15 p.m. Dec. 5 at Maine West High School, 9511 Harrison St., Des Plaines.

The 16-piece group — a contemporary, jazz-oriented big band — features singer Gerry DeHaas, an original cast member of the musical "Hair." An improvisational jazz septet called "Ears" also will perform with the group.

To reserve a seat, call 298-5500, ext. 211. Tickets will be on sale for $3 at the door. The concert is sponsored by the Maine North Music Dept. and the Fine Arts Boosters.

'Anne Frank' at Maine North

The Maine North High School chapter of the International Thespians will present "Anne Frank" at 8 p.m. Dec. 12-14 at the school.

Based on the best-selling book "Anne Frank: Dairy of a Young Girl," the two-act play is set in Amsterdam during World War II. Anne Frank's family and the Van Daam family are attempting to escape Nazi capture by securing a poorly furnished three-room attic.

Cast members include Barb Rasmussen as Anne Frank; Ed Henzel as Otto rank; Libby Goerss as Mrs. Frank; Sharon Nuter as Margot Frank; Dan Strba as Peter Van Daam; Joe Schlanger as Mr. Van Daam; Laura Helgren as Mrs. Van Daam; Ken Pearlman as Mr. Dussel; Wally Peterson as Mr. Kraler, and Maxine Stein as Miep.

The play is directed by Kurt Steinhauser. Steve Diemenna will act as stage manger.

Tickets may be purchsed from cast members, Thespian members or in the school's bookstore.

Reservations open for 'Trim a Tree'

Reservations are being taken for Mount Prospect Plaza's "Trim a Tree" contest from women's clubs, Scout groups, schools or other organizations.

Trees will be set up in the plaza for decoration Saturday, Dec. 7. Each participating group will receive a $5 award upon completion of the decoration. A $25 prize will be awarded to the group judged to have the most beautiful tree. All decorations are to be handmade.

To reserve a tree or for further information, contact Adele Jeschke, director of public relations at the plaza, 255-0644.

Herald opinion

Our greedy county board

It's absolutely inconceivable that the 15 members of the Cook County board of commissioners have done anything in the last four years to warrant a $5,000 per year salary hike. Yet, in a cynical and brazen move Monday, they voted unanimously to fatten the 1975 paychecks of newly reelected (and elected) commissioners.

It was part of a package deal in which most of the county's other elected officials — George Dunne, Thomas Tully, Stanley Kusper and the rest — also received pay hikes. It was the board's final meeting of the fiscal year, and if the winners in the November election were to receive generous pay increases, it was the last opportunity for the board to approve such hikes.

We can tolerate the pay hikes for Dunne, Tully and the others, for these men are expected to attend to county business for approximately 40 hours a week.

But increasing the salaries for the 15 men and women who allegedly supervise county government would be laughable if it didn't cost the taxpayers of Cook County so much money.

Most of the commissioners receive an income from another source (for example, local commissioners Carl Hansen and Floyd Fulle conduct private businesses). None of the present or future commissioners face immediate starvation.

A salary increase might be worth considering if this were truly the time-consuming, full-time job which the commissioners on Monday claimed it is. But the invisibility of the commissioners, except at election time, is well known, and that's a sad reflection on the few demands that we, the voters, place on these elected commissioners.

In this year of a growing recession, in this year of welfare lines and no jobs, a $5,000 pay hike is a travesty against efficient government, as well as a cynical disregard of the public interest.

It isn't too late, however, for the commissioners to reject the increases. They could write it out of the 1975 budget, or they simply could refuse to pick up some of their paychecks in the coming year.

It would be naive to suggest, however, that these 15 greedy men and women will suddenly realize that they are elected to serve the public, not line their pockets with the public's money. But that's always been too much to expect of most of the Republicans and Democrats who sit on the county board.

Poor guy needs it. Barely manages on two jobs!

He rejects 'inflation combating inflation'

by TOM TIEDE

ROANOKE, Va. — Wilbert Moss is one of an uncounted number of Virginians and other Americans who have decided to fight inflation with inflation. What he's done is to plant a sign in his front yard announcing the creation of a new industry. "Garage Sale," the sign reads.

Moss is one of many who have turned their yards into perpetual flea markets; "I buy from neighbors and sell to neighbors. Every Saturday and Sunday. And times being what they are, I get every penny I can get."

The enterprise is admirable, of course. The accompanying philosophy, however, is something less. Moss has concluded that inflation is here to stay, that prices can only go up; so he has made hs choice: since he can't fight it he has joined it. "I got $5 for a $2 picture frame last week; I wished I'd asked $6."

The mentality here is worrisome. But it is decidedly American. Like the auto and oil companies, Will Moss does nothing less than contribute to his personal well-being while ignoring the nation's economic health. The refusal to hold the economic line and the readiness to go along with inflation are two solid reasons why we have inflation at all.

To be sure, the cave-in attitude can lead only to disaster. John Stafford, research director of the U.S. League of Savings Associations, has computed that inflation abetted will in a short time be inflation unimaginable. At the present rate of double digit escalation, says Stafford, "today's dollar will be worth 50 cents in six years time, and only 32 cents four years after that."

Put another way, says Stafford, if people continue to feed inflation rather than starve it, "We'll all of us need about three times as much to live on 10 years from now." Thus a family earning $10,000 today would need $31,337 in a decade, at the current rate of inflation, and those earning $20,000 now would need $62,674.

What's more, the figures do not account for taxation; as one earns more one pays more, as in the law, thus most families would fall even further behind.

So far behind, says Stafford, that true catastrophe would befall millions. For example: a family head who today takes out a $10,000 life insurance policy, and who died 10 years from now, would leave his dependents the equivalent of $3,191. "And what about people retiring?," Stafford adds. "If a man is planning now on $1,000 a month 10 years from now, he'll wind up with only $318 a month purchasing power. My wife already says we can't make it."

But even for people who do continue living and working, under the outlined inflation prophecy times would be shuddersome. Stafford says that, based on 1973-74 price increases, a $20 bag of groceries would cost $80.91 in a decade, $3 worth of drycleaning $8.75, $5 dungarees $25, a $3 babysitter $15.70, and a 15-cents newspaper almost 75 cents.

Under such circumstances, naturally, not only financial but social and institutional changes would multiply. There are predictions that the United States would have to employ "go along" measures such as those exercised in inflation-skinned South America, where nations such as Chile have experienced up to 5,600 per cent cost of living increases in the past five years. In one South American country, inflation-accommodating bank officials keep only noon to 4 p.m. hours, so that employes can go out to other jobs.

Beyond this, say the gloomers, the time would come when bloated American currency would have to be deflated by dropping zeros. Thus $10 would become $1, or something similar. This is what repeatedly happens in South America; the Brazilian real of the 1880s has been devalued and renamed so many times that today it would take seven billion of them to equal even the weak value of the U.S. buck.

Still, all this escapes Wilbert Moss and many others whose only interest is No. 1. Too bad. A decade from now, statistically, we may all be paying for sugar on time payment. The year: 1984.

Blasts mayor's argument

Fence post

Dear Mayor Teichert:

In the Mount Prospect Herald's coverage of the motion to remove George March from the downtown development commission, I noted with interest and a measure of disgust your defense of Mr. March's "character and reputation" and your reference to a previous Herald article on March's business relations with the village as "conjecture and innuendo."

It is perfectly obvious to any objectively thinking citizen that if any member of any village commission who is in a position to specify or recommend engineering projects and then proceeds to participate in the bidding for those projects is, in an ethical sense, violating his charter. This is especially true in Mr. March's case because by reputation, background and experience in engineering related matters, he would heavily influence any engineering related project. This represents an absolute and obvious conflict of interest.

I am surprised that you as an administrator would condone this practice and somewhat amazed that a man of George March's capability would place himself in this very indefensible position.

Concerning the suggestion by some of your board members that Mr. Hendricks step down and by so doing remove any "questioning" of those policies and programs which you and your administration wish to quietly push through, I cannot help but observe the strong correlation between the administration of the village of Mount Prospect and that of the city of Chicago. There is an ever increasing similarity in the conduct of the "rubber stamp" action of our village board in the form of the Scholten and Gustus combine to the strategy employed by Tom Keane and Mayor Daley. Board decisions ranging from the infamous village calendar to the more recent decision to fund a new public library without public referendum represent this administration's disregard for the people of this village.

Please be advised that Mr. Hendricks has the support of many thousands of citizens in this village. He has a quality which is rare in politics today, that of having the courage of his convictions and the determination to oppose the local machine when necessary. Perhaps if the board regains their objectivity and for a moment focus away from the mayor's chair, they may very well learn something from this young man.

County line

Assessor's 'incompetence' debated

by AL MESSERSCHMIDT
Metropolitan Affairs Editor

George Bernard Shaw talked of "voting for dummies and nincompoops" who lack good sense or judgment.

Officials in the county assessor's office are not "a bunch of nincompoops," according to a Mount Prospect taxpayer. The moon, another authority says, is made of green cheese.

The taxpayer was criticizing last week's commentary about problem-plagued homeowners listed on the county's delinquent taxpayer list.

"I'd appreciate seeing it in print," said the unsigned letter, which was mailed in an envelope of the same brown paper used to wrap dirty books.

The Herald does not publish unsigned Fence Post letters. But fair is fair, and with a nod to Len O'Connor, who lost a job recently in a battle over a commentary rebuttal, the following summary is offered.

Our letter writer apparently is a Mount Prospect homeowner, New Town variety, who was underassessed in 1970. He called the assessor "immediately" and "within one week's time a man did ring my doorbell" to reassess the property. "We were taxed correctly the next yer."

Comment: something strange has happened here. Normal travel time from the sleepy environment of the County Building to the suburbs is two weeks. Some county officials cannot find the suburbs without the blessing of a precinct captain or the anointment of the mayor.

Our writer then points the fickle finger. "On my block several neighbors called and several did not." The neighbors who did not call have waited three years for the county to determine what taxes are correct.

Comment: something is missing here. A desired characteristic of policy makers is the ability to spot trends. No one has suggested that county officials are "desired," but the failure to recognize the pattern of underassessment in New Town makes one wonder what those expensive super-computers downtown are watching.

Al Messerschmidt

Our writer then adds, "I'm not in sympathy with these people. What were they thinking and doing when these erroneous tax bills arrived?"

Comment: the answer is simple. First, they marveled at the county's mistake. Then they worried that any county responsible for an error to its disadvantage could reverse everything and overtax the homeowners, which is what has happened. Finally, after calling numerous officials, some homeowners hired an attorney to correct things.

Our writer observes that "the assessor's office should be accused of being in error for only one year." The taxpayer was in error two years and should be termed "a criminal tax evader."

Comment: some questions are needed. For his "one year error," should the assessor be called a criminal property assessor? Or does the three year blame rest entirely on the county's confusing, inefficient tax system which failed to correct a simple problem of omission?

Our writer: "You should be thankful you still have an opportunity to pay."

Comment: correctly stated, the term is pay through the teeth. For its first year error, the county has levied a 10 per cent interest penalty against the homeowners.

Our writer ends with this observation that "this is America — there is no need to panic."

Comment: this is Cook County and the rules are determined by one political party. None of the notices sent by the county — which talk of tax sales, forfeiture of property title and penalties — warned anyone not to panic. In fact, the only warning — which was not true — was that if taxes weren't paid within days, the property would be sold.

No one should fear sale of property for taxes. Years of legal pushing and pulling are required to obtain title as a back tax firm pumps interest.

This is America and homeowners can fight for fair assessment, improved tax collection and better government. Fighting takes time and, in many cases, requires a lawyer. Some people equate time with money, which is what nincompoops are paid by taxpayers to continue the system.

Backs band, but...

It is time the residents of Arlington Heights decided to be mature adults. Whether or not we agree with the immature attitude of the band director of Hersey High, in that the only philosophy that counts is to win, we must give the young adults of the Hersey High band the support and encouragement they deserve for attaining the honor of marching in the Rose Bowl Parade.

These young adults have given up all other school activities, which in many instances could serve them to a better degree in their adult years. Let us give them the credit due, quit arguing pro and con about monies received from various agencies, and be proud of this fine group who will bring Arlington Heights, Illinois, to the attention of the nation as they are televised marching in the Rose Bowl Parade.

New math, poor results add up to changes

by JUDY JOBBITT

New math is getting a new look.

The teaching method that sent parents into a panic when Johnny came home with problems Dad couldn't solve, is undergoing changes.

Born of the academic craze that hit the country after the Russians shot off Sputnik in 1957, new math was designed to help America catch up in the scientific world.

It entered the classroom with its sets and regroupings and properties and received a cool welcome from teachers and parents who couldn't cut through the jargon to the method.

EDUCATORS THEN and now place "new math" in quotes because nothing new was discovered in math; instead it placed a different emphasis on teaching math. Memorizing endless math tables and working 100 problems in three-minute drills went out the window. Instead students learned "the why" behind math. They studied the concepts, why a problem is done a certain way and how math processes are related.

IN THEORY it was a practical, logical, methodical way of teaching. In practice, however, something was lacking. Slowly the fear that "Johnny can't add" replaced "Johnny can't read."

Poor national test scores in math problem-solving skills sounded the alarm among educators.

Some educators say the national tests are invalid because they test areas no longer considered important in the new math approach. Others point to the absence of problem solving skills and memorization drills in the new texts as the problem.

IN RESPONSE to the poor scores and the concern of parents and boards of education, the pendulum is swinging back. The concerns have caused a rejuvenation of skills and drills and a reworking of math textbooks.

Most school districts in the Northwest suburbs have reevaluated the math curriculum within the past two years and are now using texts that put more stress on the traditional skills.

Although some of the "old" has been added, most educators are reluctant to drop totally the "new."

"The concepts learned with the new math are good and important," said Mary Gilmore, math consultant for Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Dist. 21. The district is piloting a different math series this year and plans to adopt a new text next year.

She said Dist. 21 is looking for a combination of the new math and traditional skills. Most math teachers realized something was lacking in the new math texts, she said, but the cost of materials prevented changing the curriculum quickly. Instead supplemental materials were adopted to fill the gap.

CHARLES BASSFORD, Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 curriculum review director, said the books stressed the concepts and terminology so hard that the basics were forgotten for a while. Teachers also were not trained in the new math and were forced to lean too heavily on the text while learning new math themselves, he said.

"Far too many kids get to junior high and don't know the basics," said Jay Hansen, math teacher at Frost Junior High School in Schaumburg. "When you try to expand they get lost. Younger students can make a game out of memorizing multiplication facts. The older students think of it as work" and begrudge basic drills.

The emphasis in the early math programs was on curriculum materials, said Mike Powers, sixth-grade teacher at South School in Des Plaines. He said now more courses are designed with the student's needs in mind and try to reach students through various techniques geared away from reading.

"Parents and teachers felt it was the cure-all," said Mary Kay Karl, Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 math consultant. "But they got a little hung up that this was an end-all cure, a way to eliminate drill. That was wrong."

PUBLISHERS OF MATH texts also took a second look at the curriculums they were offering.

"The greatest disservice was we alienated so many parents" when the new math was adopted, said Jo Timmer of Science Research Associates. "Parents could only look at what was happening to their child from their own experience and standardized achievement scores."

Now skills are emphasized in SRA's texts in the primary grades with the expectation that students will master the skills by the fourth grade, she said.

When Scott, Foresman and Co. reviewed math texts, it tried to give students more practical applications, Nick Lovdjieff said. He said the heavy concentration on symbolic logic, number theory and set theory in the primary grades, was ended after standardized test scores showed students could not add, subtract, multiply or divide.

THE CONCEPTS still are included in the curriculum presented in the most recent series that will be published for the 1975-76 school year, he said, but the company has eliminated theory names and stressed basic skills again. Once students learn the basics and can compute, the names and meanings behind the computations are developed, he said.

More practice exercises also are included in the curriculum with workbooks on the basics an integral part of the study program.

He said the publishing companies have also been besieged with requests for the curriculum to include more references to minorities, more applicability to the individualized programs as well as traditional classroom approaches and inclusion of consumer and career education. These pressures as well as the necessity of bringing up math scores have required a total program revamping.

But as the publishers, administrations, school boards and teachers grapple with the problem of improving math, they all seek the same goal — helping ututdents achieve the best understanding and working of math.

Parents! After 15 years it's back to math basics

You soon may be able to help Johnny with his math again.

Publishers of math texts, administrators and teachers are making a concentrated effort to bring math back to the grassroots level by bringing back the basics and minimizing the jargon and terminology that has reigned for the past 15 years.

Children still may bring home terms and methods of computation that appear foreign. But the computations are still the same, and 2 plus 2 still equals 4.

What has changed is that students are learning more about math rather than just the rote memorization of tables and skills.

Some parents still may be concerned when Suzie brings home her math book and asks for help. Only the help she needs is hidden behind updated terms.

The following glossary is designed to help parents become acquainted with some of the terms presented in the "revised" new math:

Addend: A number used in addition. In the equation 3+4=7, 3 and4 are addends.

Associative property: The way numbers are grouped in an addition or multiplication problem does not affect the answer. (3 + 4) + 5 = 3+(4+5); (3x4)x5= 3x(4x5).

Commutative property: The order of numbers in an addition or multiplication problem does not affect the answer. 3+4=4+3; 3x4=4x3.

Distributive property: It demonstrates how addition and multiplication are related. 3x(4+5)=(3x4)+(3x5).

Multiple: Multiples of 3 are 3, 6, 9, 12, etc. Multiples of 5 are 5, 10, 15, 20, etc.

Number sentence: An arithmetic problem such as 3+4=7.

Segment: A part of a line.

Set: A group of numbers or objects.

Regrouping: Also known as carrying. Used to subtract an equation such as 95-36.

$$\begin{array}{r} 95 \\ -36 \end{array} = \begin{array}{r} 80 \\ -30 \\ \hline 50 \end{array} + \begin{array}{r} 15 \\ -6 \\ \hline 9 \end{array} = \begin{array}{r} 50 \\ +9 \\ \hline 59 \end{array}$$

Ladder method of division; A graphic way of demonstrating division using repeated subtraction. 52+15=52—15=37; 37—15=22; 22—15=7 (7 is less than 15, but you cannot take any more groups of 15 away); three groups of 15 are taken away from 52 with 7 left over; answer equal 3 with 7 as a remainder.

$$\begin{array}{r|l} & 3\text{R}7 \\ 15 & 52 \\ -15 & 1 \\ \hline & 37 \\ -15 & 1 \\ \hline & 22 \\ -15 & 1 \\ \hline & 7 \quad 3\text{R}7 \end{array}$$

Legislators getting back to business

From Roll Call Report

In the first week of congressional business following the Nov. 5 election, the House of Representatives overrode President Ford's veto of amendments strengthening the 1966 Freedom of Information Act, and the Senate approved spending of $11.8 billion for urban mass transportation.

Following is a summary of key votes by members of the Illinois congressional delegation for the period from Nov. 18-20. Included in the summary are the votes of Illinois' two senators, Republican Charles H. Percy and Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson III, and Northwest suburban congressmen Rep. Philip M. Crane, R-12th, and Rep. Samuel H. Young, R-10th.

Percy

Crane

House

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION: President Ford's veto of amendments to the Freedom of Information Act, overridden 371-31. The bill amends the 1966 act which permits citizen access to certain categories of executive branch documents.

Yes: republicans Crane, Young, Derwinski, McClory, Erlenborn, Anderson, O'Brien, Michel, Railsback, Findley, Madigan. Democrats Metcalfe, Murphy, Kluczynski, Collins, Rostenkowski, Yates, Annunzio, Shipley, Price.

No: Republicans Collier, Arends, Hanrahan.

Not Voting: Democrat Gray.

DRINKING WATER: The 1974 Safe Drinking Water Act, passed 296-84. It sets federal purity standards for drinking water and requires states and communities to at least match them or face intervention by the Environmental Protection Agency. The Senate has passed similar legislation and a House-Senate conference committee will be convened.

Yes: Republicans Young, Derwinski, McClory, Erlenborn, O'Brien, Michel, Railsback, Findley, Madigan, Arends, Collier, Hanrahan. Democrats Metcalfe, Murphy, Kluczynski, Collins, Rostenkowski, Yates, Annunzio, Shipley, Price, Gray.

No: Republican Crane.

Not Voting: Republican Anderson.

PRIVACY: An amendment limiting the access of federal civilian and military employes to their government personnel files, passed 192-177.

Yes: Republicans Crane, Young, Derwinski, Collier, McClory, Erlenborn, Arends, Anderson, O'Brien, Findley. Democrat Gray.

No: Republican Hanrahan. Democrats Metcalfe, Kluczynski, Rostenkowski, Yates, Annunzio, Shipley, Price.

Not Voting: Republicans Michel, Railsback, Madigan. Democrat Murphy.

Senate

MASS TRANSIT: The conference report on legislation establishing a new policy for federal funding of urban mass transit systems, passed 64-17.

The conference report, now before the House, authorizes a six-year, $11.8 billion outlay in the form of matching grants to cities for construction of mass transit facilities and operating costs.

Yes: Percy.

Not Voting: Stevenson.

MEALS-ON-WHEELS: An amendment increasing from $135 million to $160 million the current fiscal year appropriation for the "meals on wheels" program which provides elderly shut-ins with one nutritious meal daily, rejected 52-36.

Yes: Stevenson.

No: Percy.

Seniors' reduced-fare plan for Milwauee Road

Eight new rush-hour suburban commuter trains and a new senior citizens' reduced fare policy will begin Dec. 1 on Milwaukee Road routes.

The fare for senior citizens will be $1 from anywhere — on any nonrush-hour commuter trains on weekdays, or any trains on weekends and holidays. The fare will be experimental for 90 days, and may be continued if it is successful, a spokesman said.

Senior citizens will save $1.10 on a round-trip ticket from Roselle, and as much as $3.20 from Elgin. Nonrush-hour trains are those that arrive in Chicago after 9 a.m. and depart Chicago before 4 p.m. or after 6 p.m.

And now the bad news – more flu expected this winter

BOSTON (UPI) — An increase in the incidence of flu was predicted for this winter by the medical director of John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. this week.

In addition, Dr. Harry R. Mushlin said, "The influenza epidemic, if it does occur, will occur at an earlier date than in previous years."

Mushlin said modern medicine is unable to keep up with the rapid mutations and variants of influenza A, which is expected to cause the outbreak this year. While the vaccines are as up-to-date as possible, he said, they commonly are a year behind the mutation which causes the flu.

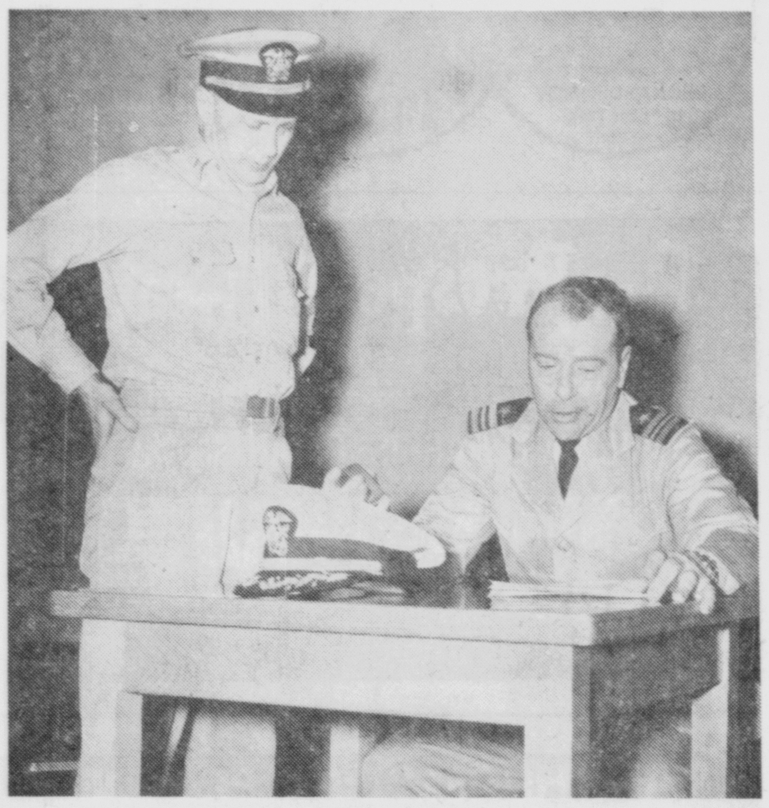
Village Theatre's anniversary

Will next 25 years be good as the first?

CHARTER MEMBERS Kay and Bob Hawley appear with newcomer Kvet Mueller in VT's anniversary production of "The Marriage-Go-Round" opening tonight. The Hawleys have played opposite one another several times but not always as man and wife. Both have been president.



BOB TINDALL AND Wilbur Pownall appeared together in Village Theatre's production of "Mr. Roberts" staged in the late '50s. Pownall is also a past president of VT. Both were active during the early years.

by GENIE CAMPBELL

The opening of "The Marriage-Go-Round" tonight marks the 25th anniversary of Village Theatre.

And in commemoration, two veteran actors who have been active with VT since the beginning, Kay and Bob Hawley, will take on the leading roles of man and wife.

It's not the first time the couple have played opposite one another. Several times Kay was cast as Bob's mother . . . "which didn't do much for my ego," she recalls.

"Once, however, Bob played my father so that kinda evened the score."

Village Theatre was founded in the fall of 1949 by Ruth Waldbillig, a former resident, who ran an ad in the Arlington Heights Herald inviting all persons interested in forming a community theater group to come to her home.

THIRTEEN PEOPLE showed up. That was enough. On Feb. 3, 1950, the curtain went up on VT's first play, "Night Must Fall." Tickets sold for $1.50 apiece.

Most of the cast members also doubled as crew. Expenses were met with IOU's payable after the performance. Members crossed their fingers. But the house was full. The bills were paid off and work began on the second production, "Blithe Spirit." Again the reception was good.

Village Theatre quickly expanded its season from two productions a year to four, including one children's show annually presented during the Christmas holidays. (This year is an exception. "The Marriage-Go-Round" is being produced instead.)

Charter member Kay Hawley, who has held every office possible on the board and some of them more than once, looks back on Village Theatre's record as both very successful and clear sailing.

NO PRODUCTION has ever been cancelled nor any actor laid up during a show.

Once Kay herself stayed up all night to learn the lines for one girl struck suddenly with a bad case of laryngitis. But the girl recovered by the time it was her turn to go on stage. Kay was left exhausted with a memory bank of unspoken lines she never did get to use.

Village Theatre, however, has experienced its share of animal problems when the four-legged creatures were required for certain scenes.

Once a goat escaped between acts into the parking lot, a temperamental parrot proved quite nasty to deal with, and a norse on opening night, deciding he wasn't getting enough of the attention, did his "constitutional" right on stage in front of an unsuspecting but delighted audience.

WHEN RUTH Waldbillig moved to Florida shortly after organizing the group, it was the late Marian Malcolmson, VT's first president, who is credited with being the driving force behind the community theater group.

She directed many of the early plays herself and her husband, Dennis, often acted as house manager.

CONSIDERED THE driving force behind Village Theatre during its first years, the late Marian Malcolmson was the group's first president, and directed many of its plays including "The Tender Trap" in 1956.

Now residing in Hinsdale, Malcolmson humorously recalls VT's second year when "State of the Union," a politically-oriented play, was being staged during the time of a national election.

"We decided to stage a parade for our 'candidate' Grant Mathews. We made posters and placards and carried them parade-like through downtown Arlington Heights. As luck would have it, it snowed and while many people watched from store windows, it wasn't exactly a smash . . . or we didn't think so until after the general election when Grant Mathews got a write-in vote."

MANY OF VILLAGE theatre's charter members have since dropped out or moved away. New members constantly joining up continue to provide VT with a youthful image.

With other community theater groups having formed in the northwest suburbs, it has become common practice for the various groups to exchange actors and crew members. Though that provides a good cross-section of talent, Mrs. Hawley maintains, "It is the basic core of dedicated people that is really going to make Village Theatre continue to thrive.

"A group can hurt, too, with all this back and forth traffic."

"The future is mixed," she said. "Economic conditions right now are excellent for community theater which is able to offer good entertainment outside the home at a reasonable price compared to skyrocketing costs of legtimate theater.

"But there is also an absence of good plays right now. Very little is being written that is really entertaining."

AND WITH THE continual growth of community theater in the area, there remains a problem of locating and sharing adequate staging facilities. The high schools, with increased activities of their own to schedule, can no longer always accommodate local theater.

Plans for a cultural center to serve the entire area are now discussed only in the softest of whispers. Its future looks bleak for the time being.

VT's own building fund, though once considered substantial, is indeed now insignificant due to inflationary increases in building and production costs.

Yet as long as community residents find the need to expend their creative efforts on stage, ways will be found to get around the inconveniences. In fact, chances are, Village Theatre will be celebrating its golden anniversary another 25 years from now.

Secretariat's triumphs relived in new book

by ED WORKMAN

For a quarter century, American horse racing fans had clamored for another "Triple Crown" winner, a thoroughbred so perfectly bred and conditioned to sweep the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont.

When the dreams finally were realized, they were in the form of what many proclaim the finest racing machine ever foaled — Secretariat.

He has been tabbed the "Horse of the Century" by millions. The life story, with its ups, downs and near-tragedies, has been profiled by Ray Woolfe, a photojournalist for the Daily Racing Form and lifetime racing enthusiast.

Woolfe's new book, appropriately entitled "Secretariat," is 200 pages of sights and sounds, defeats and the ultimate triumph of the horse that became a household word in just one great season.

THE IMPACT OF Secretariat on the American public might best be illustrated by the fact that President Gerald Ford used Secretariat as a comparison for Congress — fast afoot, but not much as a producer. However, the rumors about Secretariat's failings in the stud barn proved to be nothing more than rumors — the same kinds of rumors that hinted Secretariat had bone chips in his knee before shattering the Kentucky Derby speed record.

Ford added yet another chapter to the Secretariat saga when he publicly apologized to the horse and its fans for his remarks.

The racing fan will find his $12.50 (hardback) or $8.95 (paper) well spent for the Chilton Books publication. The first full-page color portrait of Secretariat with jockey Ron Turcotte aboard, in front of the field as usual, almost tells the story — the ultimate race horse in perfect motion.

THE BOOK IS more than a story of the super horse. It also is a tale of how that horse saved Meadow Stable for owner Penny Tweedy, who assumed control upon the illness of her father, Christopher T. Chenery, noted Virginia horse breeder.

It also is a story of trainer Lucien Laurin, who quietly ignored rumors that he was working the horse too hard, not working him hard enough, running him too often and not running him often enough.

Laurin and Penny Tweedy also listened to the old rumors that colts bred by Bold Ruler couldn't win at the classic distances.

EARLY IN Secretariat's year, it appeared many of the rumors could be true. Secretariat lost his last big prep race before the Kentucky Derby. Angle Light went wire-to-wire in a shocking upset in New York's Wood Memorial, Sham was a close second while Secretariat trailed four lengths behind without an apparent excuse.

Then Secretariat went to Louisville for THE race, the Kentucky Derby. Prior to the Derby, Pancho Martin told everyone who would listen that his colt, Sham, could beat Secretariat — again.

On Derby Day, 150,000-plus persons watched to see if Secretariat could regain his old form. And at the start, it appeared the critics could be right. Secretariat immediately trailed the field. But going into the first turn, Secretariat started moving.

The big red machine was picking off horses swiftly, but with an eighth of a mile to go Sham was in front. At that moment, Secretariat accelerated, drew alongside Sham and the long-awaited duel was ready to begin.

BUT THERE WAS no duel — Secretariat zoomed past Sham and past the finish line in record time.

From that moment on, there was no more doubt that Secretariat was something special. He beat Sham again in the Preakness by the same two and a half lengths.

The Belmont Stakes was an even more impressive victory. Secretariat won by an unbelievable 31 lengths to take the Triple Crown.

Just the other day, a mare in foal to Secretariat was sold for a whopping $375,000.

Now it is history. The fan letters keep pouring in and many wonder if a son of Secretariat can possibly be as good as the father.

If you missed seeing Secretariat run, this book will tell you how it all was. It's 6 to 5 you'll enjoy reading it.

SUPER HORSE Secretariat, now the subject of a book, drew crowds to Arlington Park when he raced there in July of 1973. The jockey, Ron Turcotte helped Secretariat take the Triple Crown.

Cast iron apple peeler handy Yankee invention

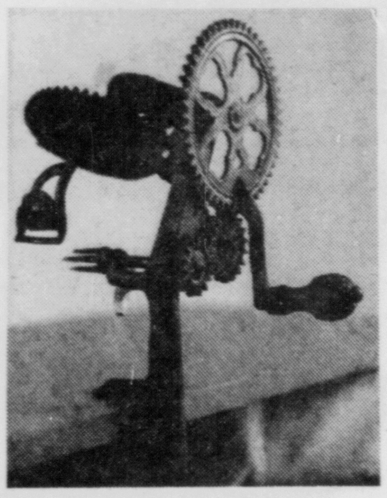
with Grace Carolyn

The advent of cast iron in this country about 1850 caused a frenzy of inventions and novel ideas for its use. Lacy, airy looking gears, sprockets, wheels, handles, turntables, blades and clamps were welded and bolted together to form implements and tools in infinite variety.

If he couldn't build a better mousetrap, perhaps the Yankee inventor could construct a better apple peeler, and between the years 1850 until about 1900, I have read, more than a hundred different patents for peelers in all shapes and sizes were taken out with the U.S. Patent Office. The first recorded U.S. patent for a peeler, or parer, had been issued to one Moses Coates of Pennsylvania, 'way back in 1803. The first peelers were constructed mostly of wood, with metal used only for the knife blade, which was hand held. These now bring more than $100 in shops.

During the next 45 years or so, various other patents were issued, up until Dec. 1, 1849, when it appears that the first cast iron peeler, such as the one pictured, was patented by Julius Weed of Ohio. This ingenious device not only peeled, but cored and sliced the apple as well.



APPLES HAVE BEEN a staple commodity in America since pioneer days, for they could be used in so many ways: dried, baked, fried, cooked into pies, cobblers, puddings, cakes, dumplings and, of course, swiped by small boys from orchards. The legendary Johnny Appleseed is said to be responsible for the planting of apple trees coast to coast, but I am sure that tree rootlings went along with the move westward by the covered wagon crowd.

No wonder that with so many apples available, man — always looking for some way to lighten the workload of woman — (small chauvinist dig) would be quick to hit upon and thereafter to improve a machine to do the tiresome job of peeling, coring and slicing.

I have a small collection of apple peelers, but the ones I own are of the rather common type, quite readily available in antique shops and shows. To find a rarity usually involves some searching and dickering to get it away from its owner. Most of the cast iron types are similar, differing in the way the gears are assembled, but some must have been made in much greater numbers than others. One model was advertised in the Sears-Roebuck catalog of 1912, and since that is one I see often, they must have sold a million of 'em!

THE PEELER PICTURED is one of the models of the Goodell Company, Antrim, N.H. Inscribed on its top in raised letters are the words "Turntable '98. Pat. May 24, 1898."

The best thing about many of these old peelers is that sometimes — not always — they actually work. This past summer, a friend who owns a restaurant was engaged in the production of 150 pies for a big banquet and borrowed my best peelers to do the job. It worked too well. She won't give it back. I could sue, I suppose, but I'd hate to ruin a friendship and forfeit those delicious steaks she serves. Perhaps I'll just call it an extended loan until I can find another for her which works as well. The cast iron types usually cost from $16 to $25 in shops.

(If you have a question or a collection you would like featured, please write, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope, together with a clear black and white glossy picture, if possible, to Grace Carolyn Dahlberg, in care of Suburban Living, Paddock Publications, Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.)

Albee play tryouts next Tuesday night

Auditions for Country Players' production of "Everything in the Garden" by Edward Albee will be conducted Monday and Tuesday evenings at 8:30 at the Yorkshire Pub Theatre on Rte. 72, two miles west of Rte. 59.

Mrs. Monica Miller of Barrington will direct the production. Copies of the play are available at most libraries or may be obtained from the theater group by calling 438-2024. Those wishing to read before auditioning may come at 7:30 p.m. either night.

The play will be given at the Yorkshire Pub Theatre in January and February.

Dickey's 'Jock Empire' smacks of sour grapes

"THE JOCK EMPIRE"
by GLENN DICKEY
Chilton Book Company, $7.95

The blurb on the fly leaf of Glenn Dickey's book "The Jock Empire" says it all: "Running the gamut of sport, this is an indictment that just won't go away — as nagging and persistent as a case of athlete's foot."

So as if he were typing with a pair of burning, itching athlete's feet, Dickey takes a swipe at just about everything even remotely connected to sports. And that is his problem.

I have always mistrusted blanket indictments, especially the type that won't go away, because they fail to take into account the positive points that exist in even the most nauseous situation.

Dickey, a sports columnist for the San Francisco Chronicle, has this handful of stuff he wants to throw, most of it innuendo or scraps of gossip that he has collected at the back of his notebooks, but he isn't quite sure of the target.

SO HE THROWS the stuff at everything.

Dickey is somewhat astute in observing that all facets of sports, from the management to the performers to the fans to the media hangers-on, are interwoven in a fabric stupendously appealing to the American public. Dickey often seems content to put what he wants on paper, as long as it falls under that hypnotizing title of "Sports," just because he feels people will automatically be interested, no matter how mundane or poorly presented.

And if "Sports" isn't enough of a hook to get the reading public, then Dickey goes with another sure thing, "Sex," as the topic of his opening chapter. In so doing, Dickey spills his hand much too early and obviously for the reader to want to proceed any further.

Dickey isn't against athletes having sex. He just thinks it's big news to his readers and likes to write about it.

FLAILING AWAY, Dickey takes shots at George Allen, sportswriters in general, every broadcaster from Cosell to Gowdy, Charlie Finley and the circle of owners in professional sports, Little League and the Olympics, racism, intercollegiate sports and athletes in general whom he describes as "the spoiled class."

He makes some good points about Billie Jean King and attempts to win the loyalty of the reader by bitching about the high price of watching pro sports these days.

Nothing works. Dickey is too wrapped up in indicting people, places, institutions and entire cities. He smacks, actually, of sour grapes and long before he has thrown his last handful of whatever, you'll find yourself itching for him to go away.

"WARD 402"
by DR. RONALD J. GLASSER
Pocket Books, $1.50

At what point does a doctor try to save a life just for the academic achievement of prolonging a heartbeat?

Dr. Ronald J. Glasser's novel, "Ward 402," pays careful attention to the doubts, fears and questions of a young intern serving his hospital time in a children's ward, where death and the struggle against it occur daily.

The feelings grow intense when a father admits his young daughter, near death from leukemia, with instructions to let her die painlessly, without suffering. The hospital staff resists his wishes in every way possible, at times listing treatment as related to seizures or other complications.

Dissension builds when the doctors find themselves questioned by parents about their techniques and diagnoses. Glasser explains the thinking of physicians who are not used to being doubted because they traditionally have been respected as experts. Where else can a patient go?

THE ACHES AND pains of the young leukemic girl become very realistic as her arms and body are perforated with repeated shots, intravenous injections and blood tests. Glasser's descriptions of near-fatal complications are almost grotesque and disturbing, but appear to be accurate. He explains in the foreward that the events in his novel actually happened.

Glasser's greatest fault is that in his effort for accuracy, he neglects to explain medical terms, procedures and medicinal names that he uses freely.

He develops true sympathy for the interns who perform almost mechanically after sleepless hours of emergencies. The real question in the book is how much doctors really try to communicate with their patients and parents, and how they handle touchy, human situations. One hopes that doctors are also reading Glasser's book.

Soloists for the 7:30 p.m. oratorio will include Rosemarie Morgan of Itasca as Gabriel and John Lundeen of Palatine as Raphael and Adam. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for students. Tickets will be sold at the door.

New humor albums views

Playback

by Tom Von Malder

"Here's Johnny . . . Magic Moments From the Tonight Show" (Casablanca records) is at best classic and at worst typical selections from the most popular late night television show ever.

This two-record set, which reportedly cost $1.2 million and took two years to produce (royalties to be negotiated with more than three dozen persons), comes in the 25th season for the Tonight Show and the 13th year of Carson's being the host.

The set is the first of four planned by the record company with the next volume to concentrate on previous show hosts Jerry Lester, Steve Allen and Jack Paar. This first volume concentrates on Carson, although some of the material is obviously more than 12 years old.

The album is centered on comedy, but there are strong musical selections as well, including songs by Billie Holiday, Judy Garland and Aretha Franklin. One of the funnier selections is Carson's duo with Pearl Bailey on "Our Love Is Here To Stay." Carson hilariously proves he's no singer.

OTHER COMEDY highlights are a mock interview with Jay Silverheels (The Lone Ranger's Tonto), the Smothers Brothers first appearance on the show and John Twomey playing "Stars and Stripes Forever" with his hands. Of course, the regulars are there too, including Ed McMahon, Doc Severinsen, Joey Bishop, Don Rickles and Buddy Hackett.

Almost every famous comedian of the last 20 years is included, with others being Groucho Marx, George Carlin, Lenny Bruce, Lucille Ball and Jerry Lewis.

Two minor faults with the album are that it includes very few women (unless they are singers) and only one of Carson's comedy skits is included. It is "Art Fern and the Teatime Movies" and it makes you wish there were more.

In all, the album has sometime for about everybody and it would make a great gift for real fans of the show.

ANOTHER TELEVISION show to make it on record recently is the Hollywood Squares, but "Zingers From the Hollywood Squares" (Event records) suffers from lack of variety. After a while, the smart remarks and retorts just don't seem as funny anymore.

Naturally, dozens of stars are on the album, including such favorites as Charley Weaver, Paul Lynde, Rich Little, Rose Marie and Vincent Price.

When it comes to comedy though, I'd take W. C. Fields to George Carlin or Cheech and Chong any day.

Columbia Records has just released three records of Fields' radio performances taken from his own private tape collection. The albums are "The Further Adventures of Larson E. Whipsnade," "The Great Radio Feuds" and "Poppy."

FIELDS, ALTHOUGH now known mostly for his movies, was a radio institution in the late 1930s and early 1940s, appearing on such shows as the Lucky Strike program and the Chase and Sanborn Hour. Three selections from each show are found on the "Whipsnade" album.

The Chase and Sanborn Hour saw the birth and continuance of one of the funniest radio feuds. It was Fields versus ventriloquist Edgar Bergen's dummy Cnarlie McCarthy. The "Feud" album documents much of the hilarity, including such classic lines as: Charlie McCarthy saying, "Mr. Fields . . . are you eating a tomato, or it that your nose?" And Fields replying, "That's a comical . . . that's a comical . . . keep quiet. Stop scratching yourself, you'll get sawdust all over the floor." The radio announcer was Don Ameche.

The third album, "Poppy," is the play Fields first did on Broadway and then made two movies of. This 1937 radio version was produced by Cecil B. DeMille and features Anne Shirley.

WHEREAS FIELDS' comedy seems as fresh today as it must have then, today's comedians often seem stale to begin with. George Carlin's "Toledo Window Box" (Little David records) is a bit better than his last two albums, but more often it is in poor taste rather than funny. He, like Cheech and Chong, is heavily into drug humor.

I would not recommend the Carlin album for small children, particularly because of the cut "Nursery Rhymes" where he reads drug references into several of the more popular children's nursery rhymes.

Where Carlin is his funniest, I think, is when he has fun with words and their meanings and combinations. "Some Words" is the best example from this album. His semi-outrageous "Snot" is also pretty funny, while his equally outrageous jokes on farts and urinals seem to fall flat.

CHEECH AND CHONG, when not playing up the obvious ethnic aspect of their humor, too often come across as just plain dumb. It is no different on "The Baby Sitters" routine on "Wedding Album" (Ode records), their new album.

Where Cheech and Chong are effective and genuinely funny, I think, is in their song parodies. The new album has two of these and both have been released as singles. "Earache My Eye" is a well done parody of heavy rock, such as performed by Alice Cooper. The humor is not only in the lyrics but also in the adopting of the hard rock style. It is the same in "Black Lassie" which takes off on the "Superfly" soul type song.

Surrounding "Black Lassie" is "Wake Up America" which is a good spoof on the television show "Good Night America" and the only non-song humor that works.

The opening "Championship Wrestling" is perhaps the dumbest thing they have done. It is ultra juvenile — heavy petting, etc., while wrestling is on television with matching groans — and made me feel I had wasted time listening.

Arlington man organizes new theater company

A new non-profit theater company, Chicago Star Theatre, was recently organized by Harry H. Golden of Arlington Heights.

The theater's first production, "Plaza Suite," a Neil Simon comedy, opens Dec. 12 at the Athenaeum, 2936 N. Southport at Lincoln Avenue in Chicago.

"The intent of Chicago Star Theatre," said Golden, "is to present professional theater starring Chicago actors. I believe that Chicago has enough good actors here to provide our town with excellent theater."

The play stars Tony Mockus and Michael Karm will direct. Ticket information, 935-6860.

Murder's cozy at Mysterie Theatre

You know this much from the start — someone quite nearby is a murderer.

No one is above suspicion. Not the old dowager, not the emotionally disturbed architect, not the host and his wife, certainly not the mysterious foreign gentleman who arrived late. Thank goodness a police constable is on the way.

For 23 years this tale has unfolded nightly at St. Martins Theatre in London and now Agatha Christie's old chestnut, "The Mousetrap," has been pulled from the fire and placed on stage at the new Chateau Mysterie Theatre at the Chateau Louise resort in Dundee.

Chateau Louise is the latest plaything of nightclub impresario Burton Browne who started the idea of private bistros in 1953 with his Gaslight Club. Now Browne has added another facet to his Dundee mansion with his Mysterie Theatre.

MYSTERIOUS, INDEED. In an English boarding house just opened by earnest, young Giles and his wife Mollie, a most curious band of guests assemble. It is winter and the weather so disagreeable that power lines are down and the house virtually unapproachable.

Too bad someone begins killing off the guests.

The play is Agatha Christie's way of telling us to watch every shadow. It has a surprise ending and finally, an appeal from the cast members to the audience not to reveal the ending to friends who have yet to see the play.

Competing with the events on stage is the theater Browne has erected for his guests. The audience is seated in wide, comfortable booths with small cocktail tables scattered about. Cocktails are available during the play. The effect is that of an intimate, very private viewing of the play without the clutter and distractions of a dinner playhouse.

As for "The Mousetrap," it is frivolous and entertaining rather than spooky. Nothing dire takes place other than the murders; nothing is disturbing other than the psychopath on the loose. The English have such a droll sense of humor.

IF YOU GO: Performance times are Tuesday through Friday at 8:30 p.m., Saturday at 7 and 10:30 p.m. and Sunday at 3:30 and 7 p.m. The whole of Chateau Louise is available before or after the play, from dinner to the cozy Snug nightclub.

The best way to get to Chateau Louise from the Northwest suburbs is the Northwest Tollway (or Rte. 72) west to Rte. 31 and follow the signs.

Relax during this Thanksgiving weekend, put away the turkey leftovers, and catch the rundown of new shows opening in the following week.

LESLIE CARON and LOUIS JOURDAN appear together in a new French comedy, "13 RUE DE L'AMOUR," opening Friday, Dec. 6, at ARLINGTON PARK THEATRE.

"ON BORROWED TIME" has been held over at COUNTRYCLUB THEATRE for an additional two Monday nights, Dec. 16 and 23. You can also attend this Monday. The price is only $2.50. Hungry? Lobster dinner and show are priced at $9. And that isn't bad.

"FORTY CARATS" starring GINGER ROGERS premiers Wednesday at DRURY LANE EAST, a new theater-in-the-round at Chicago's MCCORMICK PLACE.

Leslie Caron

And if you haven't seen "THE GREAT SEBASTIANS" yet at the IVANHOE THEATRE, you still have a chance. The show has been extended through the holidays until Jan. 12.

THE MILL RUN CHILDREN'S THEATRE has its premier performance of "You're A GOOD MAN, CHARLIE BROWN" Saturdey at 1 p.m. The show is being staged every Saturday through Jan. 31.

TONY SANDLER and RALPH YOUNG will be appearing with RED BUTTONS in a comedy show at MILL RUN beginning Dec. 6 through the 15th. Entertaining now are SERGIO MENDES & BRAZIL '77 with THE MIRACLES.

Back for a return engagement in the BLUE MAX is singer JOHN GARY, who opens Monday with comedian ALBERT T. BERRY.

HARRY HOPE'S, a new combination bar and concert room, opens its doors tonight in the ski chalet at Fox Trails, 9000 Cary Road, one mile off Rte. 14. Hope's opening week act is RED, WHITE AND BLUE, a combo featuring bluegrass music.

Nightclub openings on Tuesday include TAMI NOVAK AFFAIR at PICKWICK HOUSE, DAVE MAJOR AND THE MINORS at ALLGAUER'S FIRESIDE, and THE BILL PORTER JAZZ SEPTET at FIDDLER'S DOWNSTAIRS for one night only on Tuesday.

And if you didn't get enough to eat on Thanksgiving, take advantage of the half price day Sunday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at SIEGELMAN'S OLD TYME RESTAURANT AND DELI in Surrey Ridge Shopping Center in Arlington Heights. Everything on the menu is half off.

Looking for excuse to give up smoking?

Tobacco smoke is a very complex mixture of gases, liquids and particles, says the American Lung Association.

Research has shown there are hundreds of chemical compounds in tobacco and hundreds more created when tobacco burns. Some of the most hazardous compounds are tar, nicotine, carbon monoxide, cadmium, nitrogen dioxide, ammonia, DDT, benzene, formaldehyde and hydrogen sulphide.

The first museum in New York devoted exclusively to photography opened Nov. 16 with three major exhibitions scheduled to run concurrently through Feb. 15, 1975.

CHARACTERS FROM "Puss in Boots," Rich McMahon, Hoffman Estates, seated, as King Claude and Tom McAvoy, Chicago, as The Enchanter will be entertaining children at Schaumburg Township Library starting Sunday. "Puss" will be performed at 1 and 4 p.m. on that day and again Dec. 8 and 15. Tickets may be reserved by calling 359-9476 or 885-2360.

"ELECTRIC SOUP" is the title of this print by Sam Parker of Macomb, one of 23 in the "Illinois Printmakers I" exhibit now on view at Harper College, Palatine. Exhibiting artists were winners of the Illinois Arts Council's first juried competition. Show runs through Dec. 10.

'Cowardly King' opens five performances at Playhouse

A treat for the youngsters is in the offing at Guild Playhouse in Des Plaines when "The Cowardly King" is presented Dec. 8, 14 and 15.

Five performances of the original play have been scheduled. It is written and directed by Ed Sauer of Des Plaines, who has been active with Des Plaines Theatre Guild since its beginning 29 years ago and with several other community theater groups in the suburbs. Kathy Hugo of Glenview, chairman of DPTG's Children's Theatre activities, is producing the show and playing the role of the Queen.

Ten junior and senior high school youngsters have roles in "The Cowardly King" along with eight adult members of DPTG. Several parts have been double-cast, said Sauer, to give more young actresses a live theater experience.

Maren Dokmo of Arlington Heights and Don Collignan of Mount Prospect, who appeared as Zar and Zan in last season's DPTG production of "The Emperor's New Clothes," will appear again on the Guild Playhouse stage in "The Cowardly King." Maren plays the Court Jester in three performances, sharing the role with Laurie Stevens of Mount Prospect, who will perform it twice. Don plays the Captain of the Guards.

MONICA KENDALL of Arlington Heights, another "Emperor's New Clothes" cast member, plays Sonja Meerly in "The Cowardly King," alternating with Andrea Krolick of Northbrook. Another Northbrook actess in the cast is Debbie Rosen, who shares the role of Jennifer Neerly with Shelly Harney of Des Plaines.

Princess Grenadine in the children's play will be Ingrid Borgslien of Des Plaines and Maryann Casciani of Edison Park, while Maryann's brother, Mike Casciani, plays Prince Omen in all five performances.

Curtain times are 2:30 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 8, and at 1 p.m., and 3 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 14 and 15. Tickets are priced at 75 cents for children 10 and under, and $1.50 for adults. They may be reserved by calling the Guild Playhouse box office, 296-1211, between noon and 8 p.m. daily except Sunday.

BESIDES KATHY HUGO, adult members of "The Cowardly King" cast include Cathy Pasowicz of Chicago as Lady Quaverly, John Norenberg of Schaumburg as King Torrabul and John Schile of Rosemont as Sinus, a Guard.

Other actors, all from Des Plaines, are John Burke as King Julian, Marshall Kievit as the Prime Minister, Mark Schellenberger as Lord High Muckety Muck, Ken Johnson as Secretary of Things and Jim Curren as Minus, a Guard.

The action in Sauer's play takes place in the Throne Room, hallways and balcony of Haddox Castle in Closbigh Kingdom . . . "Once Upon A Time."

Chaplin films being shown at Harper

Two classic films of Charlie Chaplin, the silent movies comedian, will be shown to the public at 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 6, in E106 on the Harper College campus in Palatine.

"Pay Day," released in 1922, portrays Chaplin as a construction workman. This essay on a day in the life of a much beleagured construction worker was to be Chaplin's last short comedy. He then entered into feature-length films. The musical score, added in 1971, was composed by Chaplin.

"The Gold Rush" remains the most ambitious of the Chaplin films from the standpoint of sheer production. To tell this story of turn-of-the century Klondike gold fever entailed 14 months of filming.

When released in 1925, "The Gold Rush" supplanted all previous Chaplin films in popular acceptance. There are other Chaplin films with more laughs and others that are more moving, but the blending of comedy, drama, and excitement to be found in "The Gold Rush" is considered unique.

When the film was reissued in 1942, Chaplin added an original score and replaced the printed narrative and dialog titles with his own spoken narration. This is the version to be shown at Harper College.

Admission is free to the college and community.

Countryside Center sells Gourmet Books

The third edition of the Town and Country Gourmet book sponsored by Parents Association of Countryside Center for the Handicapped is available now. The book includes 19 coupons from excellent restaurants in the north and northwest suburban area, including two in Chicago.

Some of the special features offered in this book range from two dinners for the price of one, free drinks with dinner and discounts on carry outs such as chicken and pizza. The donation for the 19 coupon book is $10 and all coupons may be used until Oct. 31, 1975. These Gourmet Books can be given as Christmas presents.

Besides the Gourmet Books, the Parents Association is selling calendars and two Christmas card designs. Persons interested in any of these projects may call the center at 438-8855 and in the evenings from 5 to 9 Harriet Swanson, Parents Association president, at 358-5429.

Leave tree burls alone

by Dorothy Ritz

Dear Dorothy: Now that the leaves are just about gone, I've noticed some knobby growths on different parts of our trees. Any idea what they might be? And how to get them off? — Fred Holmes
Home Line — standing —

If they're about an inch or less in diameter, these bumps are called "burls." Any number of reasons may be involved — insects (usually wasps), disease organisms, bacteria, extremes of weather or even lawn-mower damage if they're down low. While they increase in size as a tree grows older, it's best to leave them alone. They don't harm a tree.

Dear Dorothy: Maybe the treatment which works on cloudy vases might work on the ice cream dishes. Soak overnight in a solution made of hot water and one denture cleaner tablet. If one night doesn't do it, try again. When the cloudiness is removed, the original lustre can be returned to the vase by thoroughly drying on the inside, then twirling around one drop of baby oil. — Annice Tracy

I don't think this treatment wise for leaded or crystal pieces.

Dear Dorothy: I know that fresh bread will soften brown sugar if contained in an airtight container, but my way is simpler and cheaper. I dampen a piece of paper towel and wrap it in foil, leaving the wrapping half-open. The sugar gets soft within 24 hours, and I check every week or so to see if the paper needs wetting again. It gets to be a habit — and my brown sugar is always soft. — Ann Carl

Dear Dorothy: I've never seen this in your column and maybe readers might be interested. When the children get fruit stains on their clothes, I let the hottest tap water pour through from the wrong side until the stain comes out. — Carolyn Steuer

(Mrs. Ritz welcomes questions and hints. If a personal reply is required, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Write to her in care of Suburban Living, Paddock Publications, Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.)

Newcomers set 'Snowflake Ball'

A "Snowflake Ball" highlights the holiday season for Arlington Heights Newcomers Club. The annual Christmas dance will be held Saturday, Dec. 14, at Lancer's Steak House in Schaumburg.

Cocktail parties in members' homes will precede the affair which begins at 8 p.m. Dinner will be served at 8:30, followed by dancing to the music of The Lamplighters.

Tickets are being sold by all board members or can be ordered from Mrs. Cheryl Wersland, 394-2897.

Des Plaines Soroptimists offer youth citizen award

To recognize and reward outstanding contributions of youthful citizens in the Northwest suburbs, Soroptimist International of Des Plaines is seeking applicants for its annual Youth Citizenship Award.

In announcing rules for the 1975 competition, Margaret Moehling, chairman of the service and projects committee, stresses that this is not an award for scholarship, but rather a cash prize of $100 and certificate of appreciation for unselfish service in home life, school, church, political and/or community activities.

In addition to the $100, the winner will be eligible to compete at district and regional levels for more cash awards.

THE LOCAL CONTEST is open to any senior high school boy or girl living within the area bounded by Tri-State Tollway on the east, Palatine Road on the north, Route 53 on the west and Devon Avenue on the south. This includes the suburbs of Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows and Elk Grove Village, from which membership in the Des Plaines Soroptimist group can be drawn.

Application forms may be obtained from chairman Margaret Moehling, 678 Lee St., Room 202, Des Plaines, 60016, phone 634-3836, or members of her committee: Ruth Wendt, 827-5535, and Sylvia Thomas Roman, 827-4272.

Forms are also available in the offices of High School Districts 207 and 214.

Deadline for return of the completed applications is Dec. 21, 1974.

MT. PROSPECT WOMAN'S CLUB

"Christmas Rendevous" is the title of the program to be presented by Northwest Choralettes for the Mount Prospect Woman's Club meeting on Tuesday.

The Choralettes appeared for the club in March this year and received a standing ovation.

Tuesday's meeting starts at 1 p.m. at the local community center, 600 See-Gwun. Guests are welcome but should make reservations with Mrs. Thomas Grafton.

Tickets for the club's Jan. 29 luncheon and card party will be available at this December meeting.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB

Members of St. James Friendship Club will have their Christmas luncheon party Tuesday at Floyd's in Carpentersville. The bus leaves at 11 a.m. at the rear of the St. James Parish Center, 820 N. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights.

The club's next general meeting is Tuesday, Dec. 17, in the convent hall.

Senior citizens throughout the northwest area and of all denominations are welcome into membership. They may call Dorothy Brefeld, 253-0488, for further information.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Park Ridge Alumnae of Sigma Alpha Iota plan the annual Christmas talent auction and cookie walk for Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Mrs. Charles Johnson's home, 15 University Dr., Buffalo Grove.

A short program of "Christmas in Song" will be presented by Mrs. Douglas Peterson, Mrs. William Wilkins, Mrs. Mary Stitt and Mrs. George Galvan.

Area members may call Mrs. Peterson at 255-5397 for further information.

TWA CLIPPED WINGS

It will be mostly conversation over fondue snacks for Tuesday's meeting of Chicago Chapter of Trans World Airlines Clipped Wings Club. This final meeting of the year is primarily a social one that starts at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. James Sutton of Wilmette.

Former TWA hostesses interested in the club may call Mrs. Sam McGoun at 392-2074 for further information.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Hors d'oeuvres and punch will be served Alpha Gamma Delta alumnae of the northwest suburban area at their Christmas party Tuesday evening. The refreshments will spark an exchange of handmade decorations and ornaments.

The alumnae will meet at the home of Mrs. Philip Ehlers, 334 S. Bothwell, Palatine, at 7:45 p.m. Co-hostesses are Mrs. David Bammer and Mrs. James Hagelow.

Alpha Gams new in the area are welcome and may call Mrs. Kenneth Roy at 991-0836 if interested.

PI BETA PHI

Members of Park Ridge-Des Plaines area Pi Beta Phi alumnae club will be entertained Tuesday with a Christmas party and an old-fashioned "cookie shine." It begins at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Holst, 1327 Elliot Ave., Park Ridge, with Mrs. James Davlin as co-hostess.

Members are asked to bring a Christmas ornament for exchange. All area Pi Phis are invited.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta Tau Alpha Northwest Suburban Alumnae will meet Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. in the home of Florence Yaroch, 1303 Cedar Ln., Mount Prospect. At this Christmas program there will be an auction of baked and handmade items brought by the members.

All Zetas in the area are welcome and may call Mrs. Yaroch, 392-4937, for details.

HOLY ROSARY AUXILIARY

Holy Rosary Auxiliary of the Knights of Columbus meets Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Fran Luby in Arlington Heights, with Mrs. Pat Ragone as cohostess. Members will have their grab bag gift and cookie exchange.

Eligible women who are not members may attend by calling Mrs. Luby at 392-3525 or Mrs. Pat Beatty, 259-2249.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Sleighbell Day starts early on Tuesday, 9:30 a.m., for members of Northwest Suburban Alumnae Chapter of Delta Delta Delta. The women will be making wall decorations for the waiting room at the Cleft Lip and Palate Institute at Northwestern University.

Sleighbell Day is an entire day set aside by each local chapter to undertake service or financial contributions to hospitalized children. Mrs. Clifford Cooper, 209 S. George St., Mount Prospect, will be host Tuesday to area alums, with babysitting available for small children.

During the past 21 years Chicago area members have also donated over $60,000 to the institute.

Another holiday event for the Tri-Deltas is a progressive dinner Saturday, Dec. 7, beginning with cocktails at the home of Mrs. Donald Anderson, 719 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights. Cost is $5 per couple. Mrs. Donald Rouse, 882-0365, is taking reservations.

LUMINARIA KITS are packed by Christy Wright and Cathy McIntyre of Girl Scout Troop 101, Hunting Ridge School, Palatine, to help the Palatine Center of Infant Welfare with its benefit sale. Candles placed in brown paper bags with enough sand to hold them erect will light the outside of homes on Christmas Eve.

Luminaria sale in suburbs

A non-electric celebration to "light the way" outdoors on Christmas Eve is being established by several community groups in the Northwest suburbs.

The Mexican Christmas custom of lighting rows of luminarias, meaning little fires, in front of homes creates a sparkling fairyland effect. It dates back to a tradition in a colony along the Rio Grande River where families burned small piles of pinon wood to light Christ's way on Christmas Eve.

Today they are plumber's candles placed in brown paper bags with enough sand to hold the candle erect. They are usually set 5 to 10 feet apart along the frontage of the home, the sidewalk or driveway and lighted at 6 p.m. Christmas Eve. They actually burn about eight hours, but the traditional time for snuffing them out is 10 p.m.

THESE LUMINARIAS are being sold in Palatine by the Palatine Center of Infant Welfare Society of Chicago and four local Girl Scout troops. The Mount Prospect and Elk Grove Village Junior Woman's Clubs are also selling them. Each group plans to use the proceeds for a favorite philanthropy.

In Elk Grove orders are being taken by all the Juniors, and they may also be placed by phoning Mrs. Richard Coleman, 593-0297. The luminaria kits contain six candles, six brown bags and enough sand to fill them for $1.25.

Proceeds will go to Marklund Home for children in Bloomingdale and other Junior projects.

In Palatine, the kits will be sold, at $1 each for six luminarias, this Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. at Palatine National Motor Bank, Smith and Colfax, and the Plum Grove Club, Plum Grove Estates, Buyers are asked to bring their own buckets or other containers for the sand.

If any kits are left after Sunday, a second sale will be held the same hours and same locations on Sunday, Dec. 8.

PALATINE INFANT Welfare Center is taking advance orders and reminds buyers to pick them up Sunday. The center uses all its proceeds for medical care and family counseling for needy mothers, infants and children in Chicago's near northwest side.

Helping the Infant Welfare with this luminaria project are Girl Scout Troop 363 led by Mrs. David Evans and Mrs. Thomas Hanna, Troop 614 led by Elsie Avischious and Jan Stilling, Troop 101 led by Sally Havermann and Troop 888 led by Marge Clementi and Pamela Wade.

THE MOUNT PROSPECT Junior Woman's Club sale is Saturday, Dec. 14, from 9 a.m. to noon at 516 S. See-Gwun. The kits are $1 for six candles, six paper bags and sand. Advance orders are being taken by Mrs. David Williams, 392-9411.

Proceeds will aid the Brain Research Foundation.

UNICEF cards sold at two locations

The League of Women Voters of the Arlington Heights - Mount Prospect area is making UNICEF Christmas cards available at several locations in the coming weeks. The cards, which aid the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, come in a variety of scenes and at several prices.

There is a display with orders being taken at Mount Prospect State Bank, 15 E. Busse Ave., now through Dec. 21. The league will be selling the cards at the Arlington Heights Post Office on Saturday, Dec. 7, from 9 a.m. to noon.

A complete selection is also available from Bobbi Longlais of Mount Prospect, 255-6167.

Jeans under red velvet

Santa is just as likely to be young

by JILL BETTNER

Underneath the long, curly white hair and flowing beard of Santas who will be arriving soon in area department stores, there is likely to be a person more accustomed to blue jeans and a faded blue workshirt than a red velvet suit.

Retired grandfatherly types no longer seem to be the only ones interested in giving St. Nick a hand with the task of getting Christmas lists from the younger set.

In fact, you might say Santa Claus will be truckin' down the lane this year, if the group of Santa's helpers who attended a training session run by an Elk Grove Village temporary employment agency is any indicator.

Averaging between 18 and 25, the pupils came to class to learn how to hide their own long locks under a wig, use a pillow around the middle, how to talk and act like Santa Claus.

MUCH OF THE session at the Elk Grove Holiday Inn was devoted to coping with zingers, which little kids will come up with while sitting on Santa's knee.

Like the girl who looks up at Santa and asks innocently, "Will you bring me a little brother?"

"This is definitely not your department," Santa schoolmarm Pat Trattner of Western Girl, Inc. told the class. "Tell the child who wants a brother or sister to pray for one or talk to Mommy and Daddy."

Or the inevitable, "You're not Santa Claus — I just saw him at another store."

One veteran Santa offered an answer for the child who does not go for the Santa's helper idea.

"Just tell him you're a fast runner," he suggested to the newcomers. "It stops 'em dead."

SANTAS were warned not to ho-ho-ho it up (it scares some children, Miss Trattner said), not to smoke cigarets while wearing the flammable beards and practive getting into their costumes.

Some members of the class who did not already come equipped with their own padding expressed some misgivings about meeting a child's expectations of Santa Claus.

To prove that just about anybody can play the role, Miss Trattner used a slim girl with long blonde hair as a model.

With a pillow in place for the "bowlful of jelly" effect, under red pants and jacket, black fur-topped boots, white gloves and a stocking cap, the girl could have fooled even Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer.

THE PAY FOR Santa's helpers averages about $3 an hour on an eight-hour shift. This year, Miss Trattner said the economic situation seems to have created a greater number of applicants for the job.

There are some things a Santa's helper cannot learn in a class or try to fake. In interviewing anyone interested in the job, Miss Trattner said she looks for the twinkle in the eye that has to come from a genuine love for children.

"We want warm, outgoing jolly people because, of course, that's what Santa is," she said. "The most important thing, whether the person who wants the job is young or old, is that he cares about kids and can communicate with them."

By fire engine or sleigh, Santa's coming to town(s)

Santa Claus will arrive in Palatine, Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect today via sleigh and horsedrawn carriage.

He will visit shopping centers throughout the Northwest suburbs at various times before the Christmas holiday. Children can visit Santa at:

- Mount Prospect Plaza. Santa arrives today and will be there daily. Photos can be taken with Santa for a fee.
- Randhurst Shopping Center, Mount Prospect. Santa takes his seat in Santaland at 9 a.m. today. Along with him will be Uncle Ned and Cookie from Bozo's Circus and the Hersey High School band. Mrs. Santa is collecting Toys for Tots for the U.S. Marines and will be there until Dec. 23.
- Northpoint Shopping Center, Arlington Heights. Santa arrives in a horsedrawn carriage at 7 p.m. today. He will be on duty Saturdays from noon to 5 p.m. until Dec. 16 when he will be at the center daily from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Santa headquarters will be in the Down Under lower level of the center.
- Palatine Mall. Santa arrives today in his sleigh and will give free rides to children.
- Countryside Mall Palatine. Santa will be on duty from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. today, Dec. 13 and Dec. 20 and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Dec. 14 and 21.
- Rolling Meadows Shopping Center, Rolling Meadows. Santa comes by fire truck Saturday to his house on the mall. On Saturday a free bus will pick up children and their parents and take them to visit Santa.
- Arlington Market, Arlington Heights. Santa arrives by fire engine Dec. 7.
- The Hobbyist, Weathersfield Commons, Schaumburg. Santa will visit the store Dec. 7 from 1 to 3 p.m.
- Countryside Court, Mount Prospect. Santa will be in the center from noon to 5 p.m. Dec. 14, 15, 21 and 22.
- Palatine Savings and Loan, downtown Palatine. Santa will arrive by fire engine. He will be on duty from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Dec. 13 and Dec. 20; he will be on duty from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Dec. 14 and 21.
- Woodfield Mall, Schaumburg. Children can visit Santa in the Grand Court. While waiting they can see Robin Hood and his Merry Men. Santa and Mrs. Claus arrived at Woodfield Nov. 22.
- Golf Mill, Niles. Santa will be on duty Monday through Friday from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m., on Saturday from 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. and Sunday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. from now until Dec. 7. After Dec. 7, his hours will be: Monday through Saturday, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sunday, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday Santa will visit the north mall; on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday he will visit the south mall. On Sunday, he will visit both malls.

Santa a walking ad for massage parlor

TORONTO (UPI) — Santa Claus has been nabbed by the law — for passing out pamphlets for a downtown massage parlor.

Two policemen walked up to the jolly gent in the red suit and white chin whiskers Wednesday and told him: "You're busted, Santa."

"Far out," Santa replied. "And a Merry Christmas to you both."

Rumor he was on its payroll

Lee Harvey Oswald—an FBI agent?

by ROBERT M. ANDREWS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — former CIA Director Allen W. Dulles told his Warren Commission colleagues early in their investigation that they had no choice but to accept J. Edger Hoover's denial that Lee Harvey Oswald was ever an undercover FBI agent.

In a newly declassified document now made public, Dulles indicated the FBI director might not acknowledge Oswald's employment even had he known it was a fact.

In the transcript of a private commission meeting Jan. 27, 1964, Dulles said both the FBI and the CIA probably would lie to everyone but the President to conceal the identities of their agents and informants.

THE TRANSCRIPT, published in a new book by Harold Weisberg entitled "Whitewash IV," shows that the high-level commission investigating President John F. Kennedy's assassination was troubled by spreading rumors that Oswald had been on the FBI payroll.

"What you do is you make out a problem, if this be true, make our problem utterly impossible because you say this rumor can't be dissipated under any circumstances," complained House Democratic Whip Hale Boggs.

"I don't think it can, unless you believe Mr. Hoover, and so forth and so on, which probably most of the people will," Dulles replied.

"You can't prove what the facts are," he added later. "I don't think there is an external evidence other than the person's word that he did or did not employ a particular man as a secret agent. No matter what."

In sworn testimony before the commission a few months later, FBI Director Hoover and John A. McCone, then Dulles' successor at the CIA, denied Oswald had any connection — direct or indirect — with their agencies.

AT ONE POINT during the Jan. 27 meeting, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., turned to Dulles and touched on the delicate question of interrogating the investigators.

J. Edgar Hoover

John F. Kennedy

"If Oswald never had assassinated the President, or at least been charged with assassinating the President, and had been in the employ of the FBI and somebody had gone to the FBI, they would have denied he was an agent," Russell suggested.

"Oh, yes," Dulles replied. "They would be the first to deny it. Your agents would have done exactly the same thing,"

"Exactly."

At another point, Dulles said it was "a terribly hard thing to disprove" that someone was a secret agent. But if he were, Dulles said, the man who recruited him would refuse to disclose his identity under oath and might even keep it from his superior.

"I would tell the President of the United States anything, yes, I am under his control. He is my boss. I wouldn't necessarily tell anybody else, unless the President authorized me to do it," he said.

A FEW MOMENTS later, he added: "What I was getting at, I think Mr. Hoover would say certainly he didn't have anything to do with this fellow."

During the 3½-hour meeting, J. Lee Rankin, the commission's general counsel, said part of the difficulty in trying to question FBI authorities about what the agency did in Dallas after the Nov. 22, 1963, assassination was that "they have no problem."

Rankin advised the commission "they have decided that it is Oswald who committed the assassination, they have decided that no one else was involved . . ."

"They have tried the case and reached a verdict on every aspect," Russell said.

"Yes, 'we know who killed cock robin,' " said John J. McCloy. "That is the point. It isn't only who killed cock robin. Under the terms of reference we have to go beyond that."

THE MEMBERS SEEMED to agree with Russell's observation that "of course, we can get an affidavit from Mr. Hoover and put it in this record and go on and act on that, but if we didn't go any further than that . . . there still would be thousands of doubting Thomases who would believe this man was an FBI agent and you just didn't try to clear it up and you just took Hoover's word."

Weisberg, of Frederick, Md., a leading advocate of the assassination conspiracy theory, obtained the transcript and other documents under the Freedom of Information Act after a lengthy court battle.

In his book and in an interview, Weisberg said the commission was so intimidated by Hoover's power that it settled for pro forma denials from Hoover and McCone instead of trying to get independently to the source of the undercover agent rumor while also questioning FBI authorities.

He accused Rankin of engineering a cover-up of what the transcript quoted Rankin as calling a "dirty rumor" that "must be wiped out insofar as it is possible to do so by this commission."

JIM LESAR, a Washington lawyer who helped Weisberg with the book, said the commission was "caught in the situation where the only investigators they had were those of the federal agencies themselves, which put them in the position of investigating themselves.

"Consequently, no real investigation was made," Lesar said.

Rankin, reached by telephone in New York, declined comment. He said he had no "independent recollection" of the matter without checking his voluminous files.

Dulles, Russell, Boggs and Earl Warren, then Chief Justice and the commission chairman, are dead.

'Fearless' Carol Burnett undisputed video queen

The Hollywood scene

by Vernon Scott

HOLLYWOOD — With Lucille Ball retreating from the firing line of a weekly series Carol Burnett becomes the undisputed queen of prime-time television.

Sure, there are Mary Tyler Moore and Valerie Harper. But they play adorable figments.

Only Carol stands in front of those cameras every week and opens a major entertainment show by being herself before a large audience.

"THE CAROL Burnett Show," now in its eighth year, is the longest running comedy-variety show on the air. Its success is due largely to Carol herself, but one would be at a loss to detect a scintilla of vanity in her.

When makeup is applied for a sketch she asks why she can't be made to look more ridiculous. She says, "That's not ugly enough."

She has no trouble with her identity. Carol is feminine, slender and, when she's all dolled up for the opening of her show, beautiful and sexy.

She is also bright enough to know that beautiful and sexy girls are not funny. So she spends as much time as possible in wacky costumes and unflattering makeup and wigs.

"I LOVE TO look like different people," Carol said. "In fact I rely on costume and makeup to inspire a performance.

"Most actors work from the inside out. Not me. If I look like somebody else, then I begin to think like that character. And I really do enjoy laughing at myself.

"I think I have enough identity as myself when I open the show or introduce guests. I never had an identity when I was on the old 'Garry Moore Show' because I was always playing a character. He wanted me to be myself from time to time, but I was frightened."

CAROL IS VIRTUALLY fearless now. She doesn't mind when she blows a line or a sketch falls apart. She has too much confidence in herself.

"What we're doing isn't the most important thing in the world," she said, smiling. "It's easy to remember there is poverty, economic problems and other vital things happening.

"And I don't pay any attention to the ratings — bad or good. We do our best and then go on to the next show.

"I think I have the best job possible. Ten minutes from home, every weekend off. Four or five months off a year. It's wonderful. The show has become a part of my life and Joe's (Joe Hamilton, her producer and husband).

"I think there ought to be more women emcees. Now that the lib movement is coming along more of them should have the chance. Audiences still think a guy in a tux should introduce guests on a television show. But maybe all that is beginning to change."

If so, Carol should be credited with helping open the doors.

Cars too new to worry – yet

432 Granadas, Monarchs may have steering woes

DETROIT, Mich. (UPI) — The owners of new luxury compact Ford Granadas and Mercury Monarchs are being notified that 432 of them may be driving cars that could suffer loss of steering control after extended use.

The Ford Motor Co. said Wednesday that the cars still are too new to cause any concern among owners. There have been no reports of any steering failures, a Ford spokesman said.

The problem is an upper suspension arm that may have been made from steel below acceptable thickness and then installed on the cars between Oct. 8 and Oct. 31, the spokesmen said. The recall involved about 23 per cent of the 1975 models that were first introduced in late September.

The potential defect was discovered during a routine quality control check and records indicated the 432 affected upper suspension arms could be installed on any of the cars built in that period. Inspection and replacement where needed will be done at no cost to owners, Ford said.

Last draftee goes home

All-volunteer Army –a reality at last!

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Everyone in the Army as of today is there because he or she wants to be.

The all-volunteer Army became a reality with the discharge today of the last of the draftees. It is the first time since November 1940 that the military has been composed entirely of volunteers, the Pentagon said.

"This action marks the end of an era," Army Sec. Howard H. Callaway said. "We can now say that every man and woman in today's Army is there because he wants to be there."

Last month the remaining 3,126 draftees in the 800,000-member Army were told they could leave the service by Thanksgiving if they chose.

The Army said Wednesday that 555 volunteered to stay on until their normal two-year tour is over or reenlisted for another tour.

The rest have all gone home.

The last man drafted was Dwight E. Stone of Sacramento, Calif., who was inducted June 30, 1973, only 10 hours before the draft law expired. He would normally have been in the Army until next June.

An Army spokesman said Stone packed his bags and left Ft. Ritchie, Md., for home last Friday.

Crime compensation

What are the major changes in the Illinois Crime Victims Compensation Act?

Any person related to the victim of a crime of violence, even tough he was not dependent on the victim for his support, is now eligible for reimbursement of funeral and medical expenses which he paid for the victim. Another amendment authorizes the filing of claims for as little as $200.

Predator discovery throws off B.C. timetable

BERKLEY, Calif. (UPI) — A husband-wife scientific team reported Thursday night that a flesh-eating prehistoric creature appeared 100 million years earlier than previously believed.

The ancient squid-like cuttle-fish had teeth and used them to prey on other sea creatures more than 600 million years ago, according to an article in the November issue of "The Journal of Paleontology," making it the earliest flesh-eating creature known.

The article by the team of J. Wyatt Durham of the University of California at Berkeley and Jean B. Firby of the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco said the teeth fossils were found imbedded in rock in the White Mountains near Bishop, Calif., 65 miles northwest of Death Valley.

THE PREHISTORIC fish, about four feet in length, once swam in oceanic waters that covered California and Nevada.

Durham and Firby, who have spent six years studying fossils in the remote mountain range, said the teeth were those of a predator, blunted by a lifetime of attacks on hard-shelled prey, probably crabs.

It is the first evidence, they believe, that highly developed predatory creatures existed as early in the evolutionary calendar as 600 million years ago. They had been known to exist 500 million years ago.

Durham and Firby said the teeth fossils were found in rock that dated from the early Cambrian Age, and at first their identity was a mystery.

THEN THEY NOTICED many of the cone-shaped teeth were arranged in elongated bands similar to a radul, the tongue-like structure found in most living mollusks such as snails and mussels. Further studies concluded the teeth "denticles" were from prehistoric cuttlefish, they said.

The team found 40 fossil specimens with the distinctive one-eighth-inch teeth scattered over a wide range of onetime ocean floor.

Remains of most of the creatures from that period were swept away by currents and other disturbances, they said, but the fossils discovered were of cuttlefish apparently caught in an underwater slide.

New legislation

You're safe from unethical collectors

Consumers have gained added protection against unethical bill collectors as a result of enactment of the new Collection Agency Act and amendments to the Criminal Code of 1961 in the last session of the Illinois General Assembly, says the Illinois State Bar Assn.

During the past year many complaints were reported in the news media concerning questionable practices by employes of collection agencies and the placing of outrageous pressures against debtors through the use of threats to debtors and their families.

Effective this month, bill collection agencies must obtain a one year operating license, at a cost of $50, and post a $25,000 surety bond with the Illinois Dept. of Registration and Education. Renewal of the license and bond are required each year.

Employes of the collection agencies also must meet the following qualifications:

- Be citizens of the United States, of good moral character and at last 21 years of age.
- Have had at least one year experience working in the credit field or a related area.
- Not have been convicted of a crime involving moral depravity.
- Have an accepted credit rating, no unsatisfied judgments, and never have declared bankruptcy.

THE CONDUCT of debt collectors also is regulated by the new legislation. For example, no collector may threaten force, violence, or physical harm to a debtor, his family or property. Unless there is a legal basis for a criminal complaint, the collector may not threaten arrest or criminal prosecution. To seize or attach or sell the debtor's property, the collector must have a court order. He may not take the property without disclosing the necessity of a court order to the debtor.

A collector may not disclose information adversely affecting a debtor' repuation for credit-worthiness if he knows or has reason to know that the information is false. The collector may not initiate communication with a debtor's employer unless there has been a default in payment of the obligation for at least 30 days. At least five days prior to giving notice to the employer, written notice mut be given to the debtor at his last known address of the collector's intention to communicate with the employer.

No debt collector may communicate with the debtor or any member of his famiy at such a time of day or night and with such frequency as to constitute harassment. The collector may not use profane, obscene, or abusive language or engage in any conduct intended to cause mental or physical distress to the debtor or his family.

THE ILLINOIS STATE Bar Assn. also points out that fraudulent misrepresentation by bill collectors is covered by the new legislation. The collector cannot use any form of communication which simulates legal or judicial process or which gives the appearance of being authorized, issued or approved by a governmental agency or official or by an attorney when it is not. He may not use any badge, uniform or other identification of any governmental agency or official except as authorized by law. Nor may he conduct business under any name or in any manner which suggests or implies that a collection agency is bonded if it is not, or is a branch of or is affiliated with any governmental agency or court if it is not.

In addition, no debt collector can legally represent that an existing debt may be increased by the addition of attorney's fees, investigation fees or any other charges if they may not legally be added to the existing debt. He cannot collect or attempt to collect any interest or other charge in excess of the actual debt unless such charge is expressly authorized by the agreement creating the debt, or unless in a commercial transaction such interest or other charge is expressly authorized.

A consumer suspicious of such illegal activities may file a complaint with the director of the Department of Registraton and Education. If it is determined that the complaint is valid, a public hearing will be held to settle the matter.

Violations of the Collection Agency Act and amendments to the Criminal Code of 1961 carry penalties which vary from prosecution as misdemeanors to felonies.

True Love's is hard to find. Without a map.

Why did we put Love's Restaurant where we did? Don't ask! The fact is, it's too late to move it. So. It takes a little effort to find Love's—but it's worth it. Because...

Love's is:
- An absolutely unique dinner experience.
- Hickory specialties (ribs, chicken, steaks and much more).
- Generous cocktails.
- Lovely prices.

For example: for $5.75! Chicken and Ribs! Tantalizing, succulent Pork Ribs and Barbecued Chicken basted with Love's original sauces. Including—choice of soup, dinner salad or Love's cole slaw—and—Love's barbecued beans, corn-on-the-cob, baked potato and hot biscuits.

True Love's may be a little hard to find... without a map. But now you have one. Besides. Where Golf and Higgins Roads cross, a triangle is formed—"Love's Triangle"—and that's always easy to find.

Love's opens every day at 3:00PM for our "Bolla Grande" Happy Hour. Dinner service begins at 4:00PM.

Win at bridge

by Oswald and James Jacoby

Play of honor proves costly

We aren't going to try to settle the argument about whether North or South bid too much on the way to six hearts. Suffice to say that with West sticking in a club overcall, the bid figured to be a loser.

West opened the jack of spades and East made the mistake of rising with the king. There was little purpose in that play. His partner had not underled the ace. If East had hung on to the king, South would have wound up one trick short of his slam.

South grabbed that king with his ace and noted that his queen-nine were now established as the top tenace in that suit.

He proceeded to run off all six trumps, while discarding two spades, a club and a diamond from dummy. Then he cashed dummy's three top diamonds to discard his own eight of clubs.

South was now left with the queen-nine of spades and king of clubs. West in back of him decided to hang on to two spades and a club.

Now South led dummy's club. West won the trick and had to lead a spade right into South's tenace.

Alexian's 'employe of month' a mom of 11

Mrs. Robert Hoberg, 410 Marguerite, Elgin, has been named the December "employe of the month" at Alexian Brothers Medical Center, Elk Grove Village. The announcement was made by Brother Felix Bettendorf, administrator.

An employe for seven years, Mrs. Hoberg began working on the night shift and performed both admitting and switchboard functions. As the hospital staff grew she became a full-time admitting clerk on the night staff.

The mother of 11 children, Mrs. Hoberg and her husband, a baker known for his cake artistry, agree that their family works together. "It's the only way we could make it work," she said.

'Cowardly' king the real power in strategic pawn games

Shelby Lyman on Chess

The king is preeminent in king and pawn endgames. Whereas earlier the king cringes in the corner, he may in the final stages "roam" the board at will. Paradoxically, the king suddenly will acquire great range and apparent speed with the removal of the much more powerful pieces.

It does not matter that progress is achieved by regal ministeps. As nothing is moving faster, two kings will seem to race against each other; in a few moves they can influence several different fields of action.

Understandably, the king does not function by himself. His destiny rises and falls with his pawns. And though the king proceeds a single square at a time, one move can be crucial.

Such is the microscosmic drama of king and pawn endgames in general. Let us look at the simplest of that genre: king and pawn opposing their counterparts.

OUR FIRST position would seem to belie any claim to drama or complexity. It would appear that in a race the black pawn will reach its queening square immediately after white, and the game will be therefore drawn.

But there is a surprise. white has unexpected possibilities. He may threaten to interfere with the advancing black pawn, and force the black king to match his moves (four for four), while it chaperones the endangered pawn. The black king will stop on its original square. But the white king will no longer be blocking a check by the queening white pawn.

The path of the two kings is given schematically in Diagram 1 and at each crucial point in the succeeding diagrams.

OBSERVE FIRST how white's 1. K-Q5 and 2. K-B4 (Diagram 2) force the black king back to R5, lest the black pawn fall.

The white pawn then starts its march with 2. P-KN4 and black retaliates with its own 3 . . . P-QN4 check. This last move forces white back to the square Q3 (after 4. K-Q3), where he will not be attacked again by the advancing pawn. (Diagram 3)

After 4 . . . P-N5; 5. P-N5, P-N6; P-N6, K-R6 (else the pawn will be stopped by the white king); 7. P-N7, P-N7; 8. K-B2!, K-R2 and white queens with check, winning the game. (Diagram 4)

Note that the centralization of the white king is the key to his win.

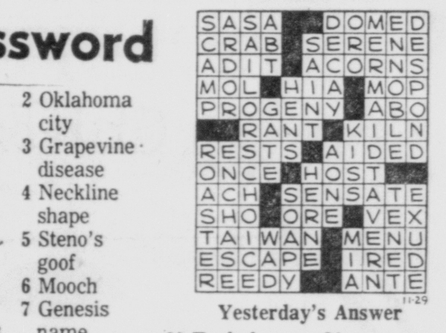
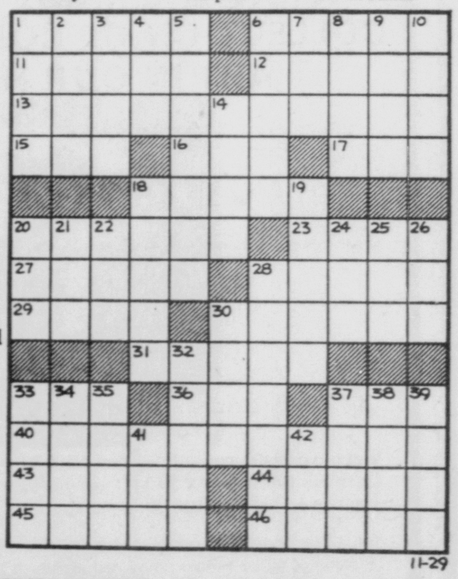
Yesterday's Answer





DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE – Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Secret Service may claim coins without paying

by Mort Reed

With an excessive number of gold coins surfacing, a question arises: Has the Secret Service the right to confiscate these coins without some form of remuneration to the original owner? The answer can be found in Section 492 of Title 18 of the United States Code.

"Seizure and forfeiture is not taking property without due process of law within the meaning of the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution since such coins were neither property nor the subject of property, but were products of felonious acts outside the law." Page 295 Encyclopedia of U. S. Coins.

Nothing in this section authorizes the secretary of the Treasury to return to a person from whom a coin was taken either the counterfeit or the value of the bullion it contained.

THE TREASURY Dept., through its enforcement arm, the Secret Service, has the authority to determine when a coin is counterfeit; when unlawfully in the possession of a party from whom taken; and to forfeit it, and after forfeiture, to direct in what manner it should be disposed of with no judicial condemnation being necessary.

As a bureau of the Treasury Dept., the Secret Service is the oldest law-enforcement agency in the federal government, with headquarters in Washington D.C. and field offices throughout the United States. It was established in 1865 for the express purpose of checking widespread counterfeit and alteration of the nation's currency.

The duties of the Secret Service are prescribed by the U. S. Code, Title 18, Section 3056. In addition to providing protection for the president, president-elect, vice president, the vice president elect, their families and related responsibilities, it functions are:

The detection and arrest of persons engaged in counterfeiting, forgery or alteration of currency, checks, bonds and other obligations of the U. S. and foreign governments, including violations concerning the manufacturing, sale and use of tokens, slugs, paper or other things similar in size and shape to any of the lawful coins or other currency of the United States.

AN AUTHORIZED coin of the United States is an obligation of the United States, and any unauthorized reproduction as defined in the U. S. Code, as considered unlawful and subject to penalities described in violations by classificiatton.

Reading Sections from Title 18 of the U. S. Code will familiarize readers with the requirements of the code, thereby avoiding direct or indirect involvements in an illegal act pertaining to the coinage of the United States.

A statement by the director of the Secret Service to the effect that an informed public is a strong foe of the counterfeiter is backed by constant public relations efforts to educate the public on the detection of counterfeit money and steps to be taken when a piece of questionable currency is found in circulation.

- Do not return the questionable coin or bill to the passer. Unless it is detected at the time of exchange at a bank or cashier's window.
- Delay the passer. Use any reasonable excuse to delay the passer until help can be summoned, such as a store manager or person of authority to whom you can relate the situation without causing the passer to notice. Note his physical appearance, license plates, etc.
- Telephone the nearest police headquarters. Explain the conditions under which you received the counterfeit, give a description of the passer, his car or any other identifying qualities.
- Mark paper currency. Write your name or initials and the date — in ink — on the face of paper currency believed to be other than genuine. Ask the responding officer for his identification (this is not considered offensive to a police officer). Ask for a receipt before surrendering the counterfeit, but under no circumstance surrender it to anyone other than a recognized police officer or bona-fide representative of the Secret Service.

Unitarian leader scores a victory for candor

by Rev. Lester Kinsolving

Ever since the Presbyterian minister-soldier John Witherspoon signed the Declaration of Independence, Congress has had some clergy members.

But now, probably for the first time in American history, the ranking officer of an entire denomination has been elected to the U. S. House of Representatives.

Joseph Fisher, who won election in northern Virginia's 10th District, is moderator of the 450,000-member Unitarian-Universalist Assn., whose 1,200 branches extend across North America.

Fisher accomplished what many political observers described as the most stunning upset of the 1974 election. He defeated the 11-term incumbent, Republican Joel T. Broyhill, dean of the state's congressional delegation.

Among a number of reasons for this upset is the fact that Broyhill took a position far more typical of most ecclesistical leaders. He refused to discuss the issues in public with his opponent present, just as he had refused to do so with his 11 previous opponents.

SUCH REFUSAL to allow the voters the inimitable opportunity of comparing candidates during a face-to-face discussion no longer is permitted in the United Presbyterian Church. For five years ago, upon motion of a student delegate from the University of Oregon, the Presbyterian General Assembly adopted a new procedure. All candidates for moderator are required to appear together on the platform to give brief statements of their positions and to answer questions from the floor.

After one hour of seeing how each candidate deals with each question, the General Assembly, having been provided with a sometimes devastating scrutiny of the candidates, is much better informed than by either autobiographical brochures or word of mouth.

At least one heavy Presbyterian favorite has been upset by this careful examination. Yet in the 3-million-member Lutheran Church in America, the incumbent president, the Rev. Robert Marshall, loftily refused an invitation to discuss the issues prior to his reelection last summer.

He was invited to do so by the first man in the history of the denomination who has ever dared to campaign openly for the presidency, the Rev. Wallace Fisher of Lancaster, Pa.

REV. FISHER FACED an uphill fight, during which one of his fellow pastors warned, "They'll crucify you!"

Marshall had completed one four-year term — with two immediate presidential predecessors whose tenures amounted to 24 and 26 years, respectively.

When candidate Fisher asked for an opportunity to address the preconvention Synod meetings across the nation, he received no invitations. Marshall, as the denominations's incumbent president, needed no such means to become known to the voters.

REV. FISHER'S supporters then requested the list of convention delegates from denominational headquarters in Manhattan. But they were informed by the denomination's incumbent secretary, the Rev. George Harkens, that the executive council (over which incumbent candidate Marshall presides) had decided against providing any voters' list to any group.

Yet the fruit of this ecclesio-political high-handedness was at least a momentary embarrassment to incumbent Marshall. For instead of the usual acclamation of election on the first ballot, the incumbent president failed to attract a majority vote — due to 168 votes for the rebellious Rev. Fisher.

And while Marshall eventually won, the convention ordered a study of open election procedures.

Jesuit's 'vision' may upset many devotees

World of religion

by David E. Anderson

Malachi Martin is a religious optimist at heart.

But the former Jesuit's vision of the future is not one to put at ease people committed to the present forms of organized religion.

To fashion a way of explaining what he believes is happening spiritually in the world, Martin devised the metaphor of the castle. The castle is a way of speaking of the ideal, of "a vision in which all the material conditions of human living were invested by 'spirit' and thus perfected humanly."

Martin says there have been half a dozen times in history when the "castle vision" appeared and humanity tried to shape the vision into the ideal state.

THESE VISIONS, he says, came at such places as Mecca, with the rise of Islam, in Jerusalem, with the vision of Abraham, and perhaps most strangely, in Peru, Ind., where Martin sees a kind of "linear spirit" that speaks for the American version of the ideal state.

For Martin, all these visions of the spriit of transcendence failed when people tried to make them concrete, as for example in the extension of the Islamic empire.

In one sense, the fomer adviser to Pope John XXIII says in his book, "The New Castle," these visions failed because they became wrapped up in exclusionary religions.

NOW, HOWEVER, and this is where Martin's optimism shines forth, there is a new castle vision, one that already has appeared to millions of people.

This vision, he says, is appearing "not in images and not with concepts . . . directly to peoples inner selves."

And he sees the present dislocations of society — such things as the Watergate affair — as a sign of the new vision.

Martin, who still describes himself as a Roman Catholic even though he has left the Jesuits, says he cannot put the new vision into precise language, but in a wide-ranging interview did say "there is a new thing abroad among ordinary people, most who are not real church people.

"The church no longer embodies their ideals," he says, adding that he sees in people "a new fellowship, a new commonality."

AMERICA IS THE only place where the new vision has a chance to arise but it will not be just an American vision, he says.

"The thrust of the American experiment," he added, "was to create an environment that didn't interfere with you. That is what is at issue now."

The result of this vision, which Martin believes is even now infecting people's lives, will mean humanity will "arrive at a new understanding of humanness."

UNLIKE SOME OTHER churchmen who are criticizing the increased mechanization of life through technological advances, Martin welcomes such advances warmly.

"There will be greater and greater mechanization," he said, "but the spirit is catching up with it.

"What we can do is to respond to spirit . . . because free response to love is the only action typical of the human person."

Confusing and uncertain as Martin's castle vision is, it's nice to find someone seeing in the present a hope for the future.

Congregation will dedicate sanctuary today

The congregation of B'nai Jehoshua Beth Elohim, 901 Milwaukee Ave., Glenview, will dedicate its newly completed sanctuary at 8 p.m. today.

The sanctuary, completed in July, is the culmination of a building program that began in September 1973.

Rabbi Mark S. Shapiro will lead a special Shabbat service, assisted by Cantor Harold Freeman and the adult youth choirs. Rabbi Leo Wolkow of Temple B'nai Yehuda in Homewood will be a guest speaker and Rabbi David Cedarbaum, first spiritual leader of Congregation Beth Elohim, will participate.

The public is invited to visit the sanctuary and view the memorabilia on display which shows the history of the congregation.

The doctor says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

When swallowing hurts

I have an ailment in swallowing food. The food lodges between the esophagus and the entrance into the stomach. I have had an emergency situation where it was necessary to be admitted to a hospital and have the steak that had lodged in this area removed. Twice since then I have had rubber tubes inserted to stretch this entrance to the stomach. This has been particularly successful.

There are times when phlegm appears in this passage to a point where it is impossible to take food at that time. I have been told that I do not have a hernia in this passage, nor did the X rays show one.

There are times when a swallow of water or any liquid causes such pain and total obstruction of the esophagus that I feel that I have taken my last breath. Food with moisture, like milk on cereal or gravy, cannot be eaten as this type of food causes the trouble as stated above.

You have an esophageal stricture. Usually this is the result of many years of intermittent irritation of the lower esophagus. The acid material in the stomach leaks back into the lower stomach and causes the irritation. Doctors call this esophageal reflux.

Normally the lower esophagus is protected by a valve or sphincter mechanism that closes the passage between the esophagus and the stomach. When it doesn't work right, the leak occurs. Often this is associated with a hiatal hernis, but it can occur without a hernia.

Through the years the irritation causes scar formation. The contracted scarred area produces the obstruction. The small opening may not allow the passage of solid food. That is why the steak lodged in the opening.

THE USE of dilators to stretch the opening is good treatment and is often successful. The pain you describe is spasm of the muscles in your esophagus. It can be quite severe, bad enough to bring tears to the eyes of a strong man.

Even though you don't have a hiatal hernia, you should follow the same routine. You need to prevent the leaking of acid material into the lower esophagus that causes the condition to progress.

Just think of it as if your stomach were an open bottle and you don't want it to spill into your esophagus. You will need to limit the size of your meals, avoid lying flat, and don't have a tight belt or any construction around your waist.

You will need to keep your stomach acid neutralized, too. Small amounts of antacids every hour during the day, or at least every two hours, will be helpful. You may also need some at night. You should really do as much as you can to limit the problems of the reflux to avoid further scarring and obstruction.

Link found between beer and cancer

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two scientists say they have found a statistical relationship between beer drinking and cancer — but warned that does not necessarily mean beer causes the disease.

Statistics from 51 states and 24 foreign countries show that regions with the highest per capita beer consumption generally also have high rates of rectal and intestinal cancer, the two researchers said.

The findings by Dr. James E. Enstrom of the UCLA School of Public Health and Dr. Norman E. Breslow of the University of Washington were published in the Journal of the National Cancer Institute.

ENSTROM SAID the researchers looked for a relationship between cancer and consumption of beer, wine, liquor and cigarets.

They found no correlation between any cancer and wine drinking, he said, but the statistics used were for 1960, when there were not many wine drinkers in the United States. They found a relationship between hard liquor consumption and cancer of the esophagus in men, Enstrom said, but found many more statistical relationships involving beer.

Checked against 20 varieties of cancer for men and 19 for women, states where more beer is drunk had higher than average incidences of cancer of the large intestine, stomach, rectum and kidneys in both sexes, liver and breast in females and bladder in males, the study showed.

In the states with the lowest beer consumption — South Carolina, Alabama and Arkansas — the average resident drank about 26 quarts a year. The death rate from rectal cancer in those states is about three per 100,000 persons.

Rhode Island and New York, where per capita beer consumption is more than three times as much — about 80 quarts a year — have the highest rectal cancer mortality rates in the nation, about 10 per 100,000, or more than three times the death rate in the three Southern states.

THE SAME GENERAL pattern appeared in statistics from the 24 foreign countries surveyed, they said.

Wisconsin has the highest per capita beer consumption, an average 100 quarts a year, and ranked just behind New York and Rhode Island in deaths from rectal cancer, about nine per 100,000.

California, with an average of 59 quarts, had seven deaths per 100,000.

A weakness of the study, the authors noted, was that it is based on statewide averages, not directly on beer drinkers.

But, they said, a study in New York showed that 35 per cent of men with rectal cancer and 31 per cent with intestinal cancer were beer drinkers, compared with 19 per cent beer drinkers in a control group.

Hamburger-french fry syndrome breeds acne: prof

MUNCIE, IND. (UPI) — Hamburgers, French fries and soft drinks may be a major factor in the serious acne outbreak among residents of Indiana's Muncie-Anderson area, a Ball State University professor says.

Dr. Richard Bogg, a medical sociology professor, has been studying acne vulgaris for two years. He already has studied the complexions of youth in Ireland for comparison with those in the Muncie-Anderson area.

"The people I studied in some of the rural areas of Ireland had little acne and virtually no visible scar tissue," Bogg said. "People in the Muncie-Anderson area have more serious acne than any place I have ever visited."

ONE OF HIS initial findings is that Irish youngsters don't snack like Americans or throng to hamburger stands. Bogg took 120 color portraits of Irish youth in parks last summer as part of his study and is comparing them to similar shots taken in parks in Muncie and Anderson.

"What is surprising about Irish youth is the uniform high quality of complexions in Ireland — not just the absence of acne lesions," Bogg said. "It suggests that a very healthful lifestyle contributes to one's general appearance and also is the first defense against acne."

Bogg bemoaned his belief that American young people "would rather keep the acne than improve their eating habits."

But he feels dietary habits are just one factor. He lists social stress, lack of exercise and climate or weather as contributing to the acne problem.

'Make them work'

Now that the polls are closed, the counting complete, we know the winners, good or bad. But what about the losers who also were going to change everything. Are they going to continue to work in the interest of good government? As private citizens they can be effective as watchdogs to see that we do have good government.

Also, if the communications systems continue to talk depression we will have one. The U.S.A. is noted to overreact. Last winter's energy shortage showed us that. Yes, I know what it is to be without bread and a job and like everyone else to pay high prices for food. Who remembers 1950-1958 and 1965. We had setbacks during these periods. Unemployment went up. No one talked depression and all worked out.

Facts people must remember: bank accounts today are insured to $20,000, in 1929-1932 this was not so; stocks can be bought on 85 per cent margin, in 1929 the margin was 10 per cent and this caused the fall of the stock market; today the government has unemployment insurance for the ones out of work, which will overcome some effects, not so in 1929-1932.

Today many industries are still running hot and heavy. We are in a period of adjustment of inventory and high cost. Sure I am concerned since my income is based on commission and I've seen a recession now since June with a decline in orders and new accounts. But this is not the end. Let's take a positive view and work and not be negative in our thoughts or actions.

If unions and management work together much can be done. Speaking of unions, the UAW workers when laid off get 95 per cent of their base pay for 39 weeks. Their numbers show up in the percentage of unemployed so 60 per cent is not true.

Who is looking for depressions? I think the big money, so they can buy everything for a fraction of what it's worth. Someone is pulling strings and it's time someone cut them. The citizens of this country can do much, but be positive, do not be apathetic or negative. Work in the interest of positive government. Let your elected officials know you're around, either by voice or letter. Check their actions, how they vote on issues and send your dollars. You gave them your vote, now make them work for you. It is time to end lobbies — private groups. Now is the time government responded to John Q.

The senator from the Midwest must concern himself with the lumber industry in Washington and the fishing fleets in Maine and Louisiana as well as the merchant fleets throughout the world and not the farmer alone. All these industries are jobs and progress, strength of the country. Let's change the exports of raw materials to finished goods. It takes more people to make a TV than a ton of steel. Let's get our GNP back up where it belongs. We've got lots of work to do, so let's get busy.

'Freedom of choice' urged for PE classes

Dear Russ Attis:

Congratulations on your Fence Post letter printed Friday, Nov. 1, in The Herald. It is obvious by your letter you have given considerable thought to the subject of compensatory physical education at the high school. However, the basic fallacy of your argument is "compensatory" and not "physical education." To keep a long letter short, your rationale that "we have a moral responsibility to see that our future generations are physically, mentally, morally and socially alert — shaped-up and ready to attack life with all the physical vigor and mental ability needed to get the job accomplished" and that we are going to accomplish this moral responsibility through compensatory physical education is simply an over-kill on your part. It just might be possible to meet our moral responsibility better by supporting our democracy and freedom of choice and make daily physical education elective rather than compensatory.

Jaycees thanked

On behalf of the Maine-Niles Assn. of Recreation for the Handicapped and the Des Plaines Park District, I would publicly like to say thanks to the Des Plaines Jaycees for their generous gift of $300 to the association.

It is a comforting feeling knowing there are individuals in the community involved in providing community service to the extent that the Jaycees are.

If it is ever convenient for you or your readers, I would be glad to share some of the experiences our children are allowed to have through such consideration and foresight. I believe they would find our slide presentation most rewarding.

I personally would like to thank the Jaycees for taking an active role in the development of recreation for all individuals in our communities. The willingness to contribute to our association is a concrete indication of their awareness of the total needs of the communities involved.

'Pities' flag thief

Halloween of this year, as every year, I decorated my windows and had treats for the children. I must say I enjoy this as much as the children do. The next morning I discovered that the American flag was gone.

I pity the kid who stole it. Obviously you were never taught the difference between fun and stealing at home. Parents, what did your kids bring home that night? Dn't you know or don't you care?

Member urges caucus participation

letters to the editor

We agree, "We should help decide. ." We, in our opinion, means all the citizens of Arlington Heights, all the registered voters of Arlington Heights. The Herald ran three front page articles on the Caucus meeting that was held on Oct. 20, inviting participation by all registered voters of Arlington Heights. The turnout was not overwhelming. Some areas were not represented at all, and one district had only one representative. However, there were enough people present who felt the need to help and were elected to serve on the Arlington Heights Caucus candidate recommendation committee.

This committee is composed of one representative from 19 geographical areas in the village, which in their division are called districts, each of which represents approximately 1850 registered voters.

This committee has met twice since its inception. The second meeting held Saturday, Nov. 9, lasted from 9 a.m. til 3:30 p.m. They heard Dave Patterson, chairman of the board of local improvements, express his views of the board's duties. Former village president John Woods was asked to give his opinion of the characteristics the committee should be looking for in candidates based on his experience. Russ Colvin, a present board member, gave his opinion on both subjects. The balance of the time was spent in deciding the questions that would be asked of all candidates by the committee as a whole.

This committee has asked the help of every citizen in the village of Arlington Heights in seeking qualified candidates. Letters have been mailed to all the known organizations in the community asking for their help in securing candidates for the five seats to be filled in our April 1, 1975, election. Letters have been sent to all known active participants of village committees and commissions, inviting them to help in the choice of candidates. Individual members of the committee are encouraged to contribute names of candidates. Even Paddock Publications was asked for constructive suggestions.

The candidate recommendation committee is diversified in their interests and priorities, but they were able to decide on a common ground for basic qualifications to be considered. They will review the qualifications of each candidate who appears before them, and upon the completion of their study, a quorum consisting of a majority of the committee eligible to vote will by secret ballot select two or more persons for each of the elective offices. Thereafter, the names will be made public.

At the second general meeting of the Caucus, tentatively scheduled for Jan. 19, all who attend will vote and decide on one slate of candidates. Every registered voter in Arlington Heights may and should attend this meeting.

Even with this selection of a slate it is not precluded that the candidates selected will be elected in April. History proves that Caucus selected candidates have not always been elected.

Therefore, the Caucus does not assure that a clique of like-minded citizens run the village. You, the voters, decide.

In viewing the low voter turnout at our open meetings and at past general elections is it an assumable fact that it is easier to criticize the caucus system than to participate?

Our 'wonderful' paramedics

On Nov. 6, we had a terrible scare when our 5-year-old son, Michael, woke from his sleep unable to breath.

While doing what I felt I could (to no avail), my wife was on the telephone with our doctor's answering service who called the Palatine paramedics.

Although it seemed like an eternity, it took only eight minutes for the paramedics to arrive at our home and administer oxygen to our Mike. The paramedics then took him to Northwest Community where he received additional treatment and is back to almost normal today.

It's a good feeling to know that Palatine has these wonderful paramedics around — just in case they are needed. Our heartful of thanks to you, Palatine paramedics. God bless all of you.

Dirt heap defended

Village manager, Village of Palatine:

On Nov. 5, the Palatine Herald ran an article concerning a "mount of dirt" blocking the issuance of an occupancy permit for the recently opened Brunswick Bowling Alley. The article stated that the "mount" was "considered a nuisance in addition to an eyesore."

I realize that, to the village, the mount might be considered these things, but, to several nearby citizens of Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, and Arlington Crest, this hill and its surrounding areas are thought of in entirely different ways.

For several years, not only youngsters and teenagers but also young adults from these areas have enjoyed the pleasures of motorcycling and bicycling on the numerous trails and pathways.

My last point is concerned with that of the wildlife which is presently inhabiting this section. I'm sure you've noticed the increased amount of dead oppossums, rabbits and other small animals on Wilke Rd. and U.S. Rte. 14 lately. It's obviously a result of the tilling of the area of land surrounded by Ill. Rte. 53 and Wilke Rd.

And so, if this mount is removed, much more wildlife would be left homeless and eventually die.

Not only do I feel this hill and the surrounding area should not be removed, but perhaps purchased by the village, or the park district, to be used permanently for these purposes, and still others as well.

Blasts Schlickman

Re: "Schlickman Hits Court Decision on Parochiaid," Oct. 23.

It is not surprising that with his record, Rep. Eugene Schlickman objects to any court decision or law which protects citizens from all schemes which would force them to support his religion, or any religion. Or does Mr. Schlickman now claim that promoting religion is no longer the purpose of a parochial school?

Mr. Schlickman should read a little history and learn why Patrick Henry's bill to assess all citizens in Virginia for the support of the religion of their choice was opposed by devout churchmen and political leaders alike. Let him read Madison's famous Memorial and Remonstrance Against Religious Assessments which killed that bill and guaranteed the adoption of our federal Bill of Rights.

'Index needed'

I am a 14-year-old high school student and I would like to know why you don't have a more detailed index in your paper to include such sections as school lunch menus, Movie Round up, The Fence Post, etc. Many times I have picked up the paper, looking for the school lunch menus and had to go through the entire paper to find it. So, may I suggest adding a more detailed index to your paper.

Timely quotes

Children are very good at putting their parents at ease when discussing sex. Adolescents need counseling most but most teenagers — particularly boys — don't want to ask parents questions on the subject. 'Watch judges!'

I guess a good title for my letter would be "Name that judge."

Concern for what is happening in our courts is becoming very obvious. Who is making the decisions? Our judges! If each time a court case is written up in The Herald (and all papers, as a matter of fact), the article should include the name of the judge. In this way the people will become familiar with their names. Then when election time rolls around we can make better decisions at the ballot box.

I personally used the guide published in The Herald to help me on Nov. 5. It was the only way that I had some idea of who was qualified.

All the judges in our district were elected or re-elected but in some cases there were enough negative votes to warn the judges that many people are no longer automaticlly voting yes.

Let us know what the judges are doing and then perhaps we can make knowledgeable decisions at the ballot box. Hopefully ridding the "benches" of judges who are making decisions for the criminals and against the people.

'More optimism'

Dear Ms. Lea Tonkin:

I must protest your headline story in the Nov. 8 issue of The Herald.

It is not true that most residents say we are headed for a depression. Only 46 per cent responded that way, according to your figures.

The story could have been written in an optimistic note with as much or more veracity than the sour tone of your story. Can it be that the panic approach sells more papers?

St. Viator lands 4 spots on All-Area team

If these 22 players went to the same high school, they'd probably win the state championship. This is one fine group of talented young men.

Presenting the Sixth Annual Paddock Publications All-Area football team. An aggregation that will help many college teams to victories.

The Herald sports staff selected the best 11 athletes on offense and a like number on defense. Of the 17 schools served by Paddock's chain of Cook County newspapers, 12 are represented on the first team.

St. Viator — the only area team to advance past the first round of state football playoffs — landed four players on the team.

Schaumburg — winner of the Mid-Suburban League — was next with three.

Placing two each were Buffalo Grove, Hersey, Prospect, Rolling Meadows and Forest View.

Elk Grove, Maine West, Arlington, Maine East and Wheeling had one player each on the first team.

This year the Herald is proud to announce two players for special distinction — St. Viator's Bobby Walsh and Schaumburg's Ken Jaffke. They are our honorary captains for the offense and defense, respectively.

Walsh quarterbacked St. Viator to a sparkling 9-2 record. The Lions' last loss came in the second round of the state tourney, leaving them among the best eight teams in Illinois.

Jaffke played both ways at tackle in helping his team win a 7-6 thriller from defending MSL champion Hersey in the Super Bowl. They lost in the opening round of the tourney.

Former standouts that have been honored in the past were Hersey's Mark Zakula and Elk Grove's Don Weadley (1973), Elk Grove's Jeff Stewart (1972), St. Viator's Joe Bombicino (1971), Arlington's Scott Douglass (1970) and Conant's Jim McGraw (1969).

Each of the all-area football players will receive an attractive certificate suitable for framing.

A special mention team — made up of the second best offensive and defensive players — was also named. See inside for details on both the first and second teams as well as stories on the honorary captains.

This super tough defensive team terrorized opponents

MIKE BRZUSZKIEWICZ
Lineman
Wheeling

"A super athlete . . . a super competitor." These were among the comments offered by coach Jack Liljeberg on the subject of his versatile (6-3, 218) tackle. Named to the Champaign News Gazette All-State team among a host of honors, Brzuszkiewicz also set a Wildcat precedent in being voted both Most Valuable Player and an honorary team captain by his teammates at the conclusion of the season. A three sport standout who runs the 40 in 4.9, Brzuszkiewicz anchored both offensive and defensive Wheeling units all season, in addition to handling punting duties, led the team in assists and was second in solo tackles from a line position.

TOM STONEROOK
Lineman
Buffalo Grove

A two-way player and one of the decisive reasons for a highly successful first varsity season by the Bison, Stonerook had 79 solo tackles, 26 assists, four interceptions and three fumble recoveries from his middle linebacker slot while captaining the defensive unit. He also played center the entire season on offense. "I just can't say enough about this young man," offered his coach Grant Blaney. "A super kid to work with, a self-made player, a very intelligent youngster . . . he is a real leader type who sets a fine example both on and off the field." Stonerook was named to the Daily News' All-State team.

SCOTT ZETTEK
Lineman
St. Viator

College football recruiters are looking favorably upon this young man whose size (6-foot-4, 215 pounds), ability and desire should elevate him to a position alongside the state's finest prep linemen next fall. Scott delivered his best work in the Lions' hardest fought victories, ending the season with more than 80 solo and assist tackles. Exceptionally quick off the ball, he provides outstanding pass rush. Had seven games with at least seven tackles. Top efforts were against Evanston (11 tackles), Deerfield (10) and Holy Cross (9). Named to the All-East Suburban Catholic first team. This big tackle also played some goal line offense.

TOM MARTINO
Lineman
Schaumburg

Martino directed the Saxons' defense during their MSL championship season. From his middle linebacker spot, this (5-11, 180) senior led Schaumburg in tackles and contributed a number of fumble recoveries and interceptions. Martino, a coaches' all-conference pick two years in a row, used his strength and quickness to spearhead the Saxon defense, which ranked second in the league statistically. He also scored six touchdowns and rushed for 303 yards (a 5.4-per carry average) in seven league games from his fullback position, where his main duties were blocking.

PAUL CORTES
Lineman
Hersey

Cortes, a two-year starter at middle linebacker for the Huskies, was instrumental in the defense that ranked first in the league in least total yardage, rushing yardage and points allowed. In two years, Hersey permitted just 162 points in 18 games. "He's the quarterback of our defense," said Huskie defensive coach Steve Chernicky of his 5-11, 195 senior. Cortes called the signals and

Jaffke looks for challenge in college

Staff Sportswriter

Ken Jaffke limped to the Schaumburg sidelines favoring his tender right ankle. From the look on his face, Jaffke's pain was intense.

The agony was real for the Saxons' 6-foot-1, 230-pound two-way tackle. His ankle, which had been sprained early in the football season, was reinjured again and again during the course of Schaumburg's successful title quest. Jaffke didn't miss a game.

Now, in the Saxons' regular-season finale, coach Bob Ferguson's crew led Conant, 14-0, in the fourth quarter. The game was meaningless since Schaumburg had already won the South championship and was heading to the Mid-Suburban League Super Bowl. But Jaffke's injury put a damper on Schaumburg's spirits.

Conant moved quickly downfield as Cougar runners slid through the Saxon line almost at will. The Schaumburg defense ranked among the league's best, but without Jaffke on the field it wasn't the same. Conant scored.

So when Conant got the ball back a moment later, big No. 73 reentered the game, limping obviously. And Jaffke made three crunching tackles in a row, each time stopping the Cougar runner for little or no gain. On the next play, Schaumburg's Don Clarke intercepted a Conant pass and returned it for a touchdown, wrapping up the Saxons' "meaningless" 20-6 victory.

"They didn't want me to go back in," said Jaffke, a senior with good prospects for a major college scholarship. "But I had to play. We have a lot of pride on defense and we wanted to hold them out of the end zone. I wanted to be a part of the win."

Jaffke certainly knows what winning is. For three years he has anchored both the defensive and offensive lines for Ferguson's Saxons. Finally in 1974, Jaffke and his teammates were rewarded with the MSL title, coming, at last, in a nervous, defense-dominated 7-6 win over Hersey in the Super Bowl.

But Jaffke paid the price, only part of which was the ankle injury. The young man also suffers from unpleasant muscle cramps in both thighs resulting from a calcium deficiency in his system. The doctors can do little to correct the problem, but playing football isn't exactly the best cure for the Schaumburg team captain, either.

"Ken showed a lot of courage this season," said Ferguson. "He knows what it's like to play with pain and still he always gave more than 100 per cent.

"You know, we tried to keep him out of that Conant game — we didn't even start him. But you can't keep him away from the field."

Because Jaffke was always on the field making tackles, recovering fumbles, and forcing the big plays, he has been named the Herald's Defensive Player-of-the-Year. Because he accomplished it all while hobbled by nagging injuries, Jaffke earned every bit of the honor.

"The ankle swelled up a lot," said Jaffke, who is also a standout wrestler and shotputter. "The Elk Grove game was probably the worst, since I didn't practice all week."

In that contest, a must game for both teams, Elk Grove's lightning-quick backs presented the Saxon defenders with their ultimate test. A 230-pound tackle, Jaffke ordinarily runs the 40 in 4.9. The injury hampered his lateral pursuit, but he played the whole game and made his share of tackles as Schaumburg won, 21-7, to clinch the South title.

Jaffke was always there. In the 10-9 win over Rolling Meadows, he made the tackle on Meadows' final offensive play, stopping Steve Breitbeil at the one-yard line. He made a key stop against Hersey when the Huskies were inside the five and driving. In the Saxons' playoff game against East Leyden, Jaffke made 17 tackles!

Jaffke was always there.

He was there to help the offensive line in its often times thankless job of springing the Saxon runners and protecting the Saxon passer. Jaffke and his line mates toiled without glory as Schaumburg rack-

Offensive team has 9 seniors, 2 juniors

RUSS ZONCA
Back
Schaumburg

The junior signalcaller was the driving force in the Saxons' MSL title quest. From his quarterback spot, Zonca directed a fierce wishbone attack that produced the top team rushing figures in the league. Zonca himself gained more than 600 yards on the ground in 1974 and he passed for a 53 per cent completion rate and 500 yards. With 4.6 speed in the 40, the 5-foot-11, 180-pound junior was quick and clever, the main cog in an explosive Schaumburg offense. His 53-yard scamper in the Super Bowl was the big play that led to the winning score — which Zonca tallied. MSL coaches named Russ the Player of the Year.

JOE LITTWIN
Back
St. Viator

Not even two cracked ribs could stop this young man who started and played the entire game in the Lions' season ending IHSA playoff loss to Willowbrook. That type of dedication made Littwin Viator's leading ball carrier this season with 190 attempts for 857 yards. His top yardage games were against Hersey (156) and Holy Cross (105). He gained 90 yards during Viator's IHSA playoff victory over Deerfield, sustaining two cracked ribs during that contest. Joe scored three touchdowns and one conversion for 20 points while adding six pass receptions for 30 yards to his total offense. Another of Viator's nine All-East Suburban Catholic selections.

JEFF FORSTER
Back
Hersey

With 680 yards gained in 116 rushing attempts, Forster ranked second in the MSL behind Elk Grove's Willard. The Huskie senior averaged 5.9-yards per carry in addition to hauling down 11 passes for another 112 yards and two TDs. Forster (6-0, 180) was the league's leading scorer with nine touchdowns for 54 points, helping Hersey to their fourth straight North title. As a junior, Forster lugged the ball 43 times for 289 yards in a reserve role, an average of 6.7. His senior year was capped by All-Area recognition in the Chicago Daily News.

DAVE SMITHERN
Back
Buffalo Grove

Establishing a number of school records that figure to stand for a long time to come, he passed for over 900 yards, threw 14 touchdown passes and scored twice more himself. He also kicked the team's extra points. Second-ranked in Mid-Suburban League passing, Smithern tied a conference mark for most TD passes at 12 and finished third in the circuit in overall total offense. Most significant statistic of all however may have been his league low mark of only three interceptions in 111 attempts. "An exceptionally poised and talented all around athlete," observed his coach Grant Blaney. "He made our offense run this year as well as I could have ever asked."

Walsh eyes Naval Academy; Can he overcome QB jinx?

Mike Klein
Staff Sportswriter

Short Collegiate Careers of Herald Area Quarterbacks . . . subtitled, And They Said Run For Glory . . . at Wide Receiver.

The membership numbers our area's finest football talent. Recent additions include Palatine's Jim Stauner, Arlington's Terry Ormsbee and Elk Grove's Jeff Stewart. All were outstanding prep quarterbacks. But each chose the University of Illinois where he no longer runs an offense.

To that list add St. Viator's Stan Bobowski, now of Notre Dame, and Hersey's Mark Zakula, currently at Southwestern Louisiana. Like the first three, they are no longer quarterbacks.

But unless the young man changes his mind, there will be no position switch for Bobby Walsh. He's a quarterback and that's it. Or else he'll drop football for engineering.

"Whatever school I choose, I'll make sure I play quarterback," said Walsh. "I don't want a school where right now they've got an outstanding freshman quarterback.

"And I'd be really scared to pick a school like Notre Dame because of the talent they've got. They can get almost any kid they want. They'll take a lot of quarterbacks just because they're always good athletes."

Some applause, please, for Bobby Walsh. He's our unanimous choice for Herald Offensive Player-of-the-Year. And one of four St. Viator athletes selected to Paddock Publications' sixth annual All-Area football team, announced today.

It's been nine years since this 5-foot-11, 180-pounder played his first football game. Enough schools are interested that four more seasons seem ensured. But do not look for Walsh beyond the college game. He's not interested.

"After the fun and games, you've got to go somewhere," said Walsh, who passed for 16 touchdowns and scored eight others this season on the Lions' 9-2 IHSA playoff team.

"If something else materializes (in football), then okay. But I'm not planning on anything. Getting a good education is more important."

Walsh's sights are set upon the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., "because I've wanted to go there for a long time. But I'm not closing off other schools. The Naval Academy just offers a real good career and education."

His lifetime bag: Engineering with an eye toward pilot training. Admitting he might not enjoy five years active duty after graduation, Walsh added, "There's always a demand for Naval Academy graduates in business. So much respect is involved."

They say that sports, especially football, creates the kind of young men who will make America strong and pull the correct polling booth levers, however difficult the choice.

Maybe so. Better said, it should teach people to appreciate each other. Something called teamwork. And that, reasons Walsh, is why St. Viator wins football games. Not because of one person.

"Everybody around here didn't think we'd do much this season," said Walsh, who accounted for 1,473 yards total offense while also returning punts, kickoffs and playing occasional deep safety.

"But the team believed. We thought we'd go all the way," he added. "I think in the end that three games in eight days and our lack of size finally wore us down."

It is difficult to make Bobby Walsh talk about himself. He doesn't go in for blowing hot air around. The conversation swings to teammates, friends and Viator head coach Jim Lyne.

Walsh and other Lion seniors are the first group to play entirely under Lyne's system. They were freshmen when he came to Viator from Hales-Franciscan.

Walsh always admired Lyne's "seriousness about the game. Some kids it really turns off," he confessed. "But being a quarterback, I like that. We'd have chalk talks . . . 40 minutes a day I'd sit with him. He devotes his whole life to winning the game.

"There were times on the practice field when I thought I was really bad," Walsh said, alluding to Lyne's unending critical evaluations.

"When the right moment came, though, he'd give me a lot of praise either before a game or in public. I got better because he could see what I was doing wrong."

We haven't seen an end to the Walsh clan. Bobby has three younger brothers. Tom earned a sophomore football letter this fall. Brothers Jack and Brian are in seventh grade.

Watch Jack, says Bobby. "He'll be one of the best athletes that ever goes here. He's bigger than me and I know he'll be better than I am."

And you can bet that might bring Bobby Walsh more joy than even playing quarterback for the Naval Academy. As Bobby says of his own future, "Football only goes so far. Then you've got to get out and do something else."

A special assignment for veteran official

Bob Frisk
Sports Editor

For Norman Geske "the glow hasn't worn off yet."

There had been nothing in his 28 years as an official to top that experience Saturday in Normal, Ill.

Geske headed the crew that worked the 5A state championship high school football game.

"That was the high point of my career, and I'm still excited about it," he said this week as he looked back on the thrilling overtime battle between Glenbrook North and East St. Louis.

Geske, the 52-year-old principal at Joyce Kilmer School in Buffalo Grove, served as the head man, the referee, on the four-man crew that handled the dramatic game won by Glenbrook North, 19-13 at Illinois State University.

It was the ultimate officiating assignment in the very first state football tournament in history. And the game itself, a classic for sheer drama, will be talked about for years.

"You know, this was one time it was a shame the game couldn't end in a tie," said Geske. "Those were two fine teams and so evenly matched. They were real gentlemen out on that field too, champions who played and acted like champions."

As the referee, Geske had general control of the game and was responsible for rules interpretation and enforcement. Among his duties was staying with the quarterback, watching for "cheap shots" by the defense, and this cost him a good look at one of the most dramatic moments in the state title game.

Early in the fourth period Glenbrook North's Don Broadridge unloaded a 50-yard scoring pass to Sam Poulos that deadlocked the championship action. It was a beautiful strike.

"That's one of the real disappointments when you're an official," Geske said. "You can't look away from your area of assignment and watch the ball. You can hear the people shouting and you get an idea what's happening but as close as I was to that play Saturday, I really didn't see it until I watched the replay on television that night.

"Say, that was quite a throw by that kid, just like a professional."

Geske's enthusiasm for his avocation, for the game of football, vividly comes through in everything he says. As he points out, with emphasis, "I have a love affair with football."

Although he's been associated with the game for almost 40 years, as a player and official, this school principal still eagerly waits for assignments that number 50 to 55 in a typical football season. He has never tired of the fall sport.

"I've officiated football, basketball and baseball for the same number of years," Norm said, "but football is my favorite — by far. I thoroughly enjoy the game.

"There might be times on the bases in baseball when you stand out there and don't do anything. And then the past five or six years I just haven't been happy working basketball.

"I guess I can't live with the basketball crowds any more. This will be the first winter I haven't worked basketball after 27 years. I better let somebody younger step in — with a thicker skin. Anyway, maybe I need the rest."

Geske, who attended the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee, got his start in officiating "because coaching gave me ulcers."

"I had to make a decision after about five years as a coach at Beloit High School in Wisconsin," he said. "Coaching just wasn't for me as I found out. When I was in college, they stressed that if you were going to coach football you should know something about the rules. We had to pass a test to get a Wisconsin officials card. It just took off from there."

Geske went to Glencoe, Ill. from Beloit and taught junior high math for 11 years. A former principal at the Carl Sandburg School, he served as director of instruction for Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Dist. 21 schools before requesting the reassignment as school principal.

Married and the father of three daughters, Geske was named principal of the Joyce Kilmer School in 1967.

"No matter how busy I might have been in education through the years, I never lost my interest in officiating," he said.

"There are all kinds of little worlds people are involved in. Some save stamps. Some save coins. My world of special interest revolves around officiating, and it's been so very satisfying through the years. Just the camaraderie of getting together, driving to the games, is part of the fun of the job.

"Sure, you run into an emotional coach once in awhile," he continued, "but I've never been assaulted or really bothered. Football is a tough game, a rough game, but the coaches are getting better and there have been very few incidents of dirty play, very few fights. You can almost be sure when you go to work a game around here that you'll leave with a good taste in your mouth.

"What impresses me about these high school coaches is how professional they are, what excellent teachers they have become. The same goes for the high school administrations which exercise such tremendous control over their programs."

Geske has worked so many games in three sports for 28 years that it is difficult to pinpoint the most dramatic moments, but he does recall some of the great players and teams.

"I remember the first high school football team I worked from the Chicago area was Proviso with Ray Nitschke at quarterback," he said. "He was all-pro with Green Bay as a linebacker but he was something to watch as a quarterback in high school.

"And I'll never forget working the Kenosha (Wis.) High School games when Alan Ameche (former all-pro running back with the Baltimore Colts) was there. That just had to be the finest high school team I've ever seen. They had three boys on their starting eleven that wound up in the NFL.

"I also remember working games when Jim Hart (now the passing star with the St. Louis Cardinals) was quarterbacking Niles West. You know, you can always seem to pick out the super kids just by watching them for a little while. They're different, they dominate so completely."

Although there have been many fond memories through the years, nothing could top the thrill Saturday of officiating the first state football tourney in Illinois history. That made everything seem so worthwhile, all the traveling, all the hours, all the hard work.

"Yes, that was the highlight. There can be no question about it," Norm Geske stressed again. "No, the glow hasn't worn off yet."

Tourney play highlights weekend basketball card

A Herald staff report

Nine area high schools will participate in basketball tournaments this weekend, some which began on Wednesday and others that will open tonight. In addition, two schools will host single contests.

The Mid-Suburban League champion Conant Cougars will start preparation for their conference title defense when they entertain New Trier West tonight at 8. The Cougars beat the Cowboys last year.

The Prospect Knights dropped their opener last week against Evanston, a tough Suburban League foe. Tonight at 8, Prospect will try to even the score against another Suburban League squad when they host New Trier East.

Two local teams will journey to the LaGrange Holiday tourney which begins tonight at 7 when Arlington faces De La Salle. Forest View will follow with a game against host LaGrange at 8:30. Both teams will play again on Saturday.

Schaumburg, a winner over Maine North in the opener, travels to the Crown Thanksgiving tournament in Carpentersville tonight. The Saxons will open against Lake Zurich at 6:30 and then they will take the court twice on Saturday — at 2 p.m. against Rockford-Jefferson and at 8:30 versus Crown.

Competing in the York tourney will be Maine East, a one-point winner over Palatine last weekend. The Demons will open at 6:45 tonight against a tough Oak Park squad which has already knocked off two Central Suburban League opponents. Maine East will meet York Saturday at 1:45 p.m. and they will face Morton West at 6:45 that evening.

In continuing tourney action from Wednesday, Rolling Meadows will meet Niles North tonight at 7 in the Maine North Festival and the Mustangs will play again Saturday at 8:45 p.m. against the host team.

In the Mundelein tournament, Buffalo Grove will play Carmel tonight and the Bison will meet Warren Saturday.

Wheeling will continue play in the double-elimination tourney at Woodstock tonight, and Hersey and Fremd will resume play at the Glenbard West tourney.

In a solo contest scheduled for Saturday, St. Viator will host Palatine at 8 p.m.

The Conant Cougars, who inaugurate their season tonight, have a hard act to follow — last year's 22-4 record.

For a coach who lost all but one player from his MSL championship team of last year, Conant's Dick Redlinger has a bright outlook on life in these last days leading up to the opener with New Trier West tonight.

"A lot of people expect us to be down from last year," Redlinger said. "But, frankly, I think it will be between Conant and Prospect in the South Division. We aren't going to be anywhere near as bad as some people like to think. We'll definitely win more games than we lose."

The one man who returns from the championship season is 6-4 Ron Sulaski and he'll be at center when the Cougars open.

"Ron played against (Hersey's Dave) Corzine and (Arlington's Dan) Donahue so he got some good experience last year," Redlinger said.

"We've got another big kid named Bob Glasscott (6-6) who won't start but will see a lot of action against bigger teams.

"We saw him in P.E. class and talked him into coming out for the team. He's got to learn to be more aggressive but he's really smooth around the basket and has a nice shot."

Redlinger's starting guards both come up from the junior varsity team. Both are seniors and 5-9. They are Mark Pellegrino and John Rudzena. The forwards will be Mike Frisch and, for the time being, Ed Berry.

"Berry is a transfer from St. Gregory in Chicago and he's got a lot of the hot dog stuff he picked up down there," Redlinger said. "I'd be starting Brian O'Donnell but he's got some floating bone chips in his elbow and he won't be ready to start Friday night."

Frisch will open with an ankle he twisted recently.

Redlinger will have Corey Rathman and Paul Christiansen to come off the bench. Both have jayvee experience. Pete Scaffidi, who Redlinger calls a "miniature Roger Sander," will also help out.

Sander is perhaps the biggest loss Redlinger will have to worry about. His bulk (6-6, 260 pounds) proved difficult to contend with when opponents traversed the inner reaches of Conant's zone last year.

"Scaffidi has size 14 shoes," Redlinger said, "so he'll grow some more. He's 6-2, 220 now and with three more inches and 30 pounds he'll be a ballplayer.

"We don't have the big, slow kid we've always had in the past," Redlinger said. "So we won't be able to be as patient on offense as we have before. We've got to get the ball off the board and go with it.

"In practice we've had four kids on the business end of the break so I know they like to run."

Elk Grove skates to third straight in hockey action

Elk Grove High School defeated Crystal Lake 3-1 for their third straight victory in the Northwest Suburban Hockey League.

In a very close-checking game Elk Grove came from behind to defeat Crystal Lake. Although Elk Grove outshot them 60-5, magnificent goal tending by the Crystal Lake goalie almost led them to an upset victory.

Defensemen Bob Brunn, Terry Gloss, Tony Saltarski and Mike Walsh stopped Crystal Lake at the blue line, breaking up any attack Crystal could mount. Goalie Steve Cimino played well in the nets for Elk Grove.

Crystal Lake scored in the first minute of play as Elk Grove's goalie was screened on a shot to take a 1-0 lead. Mike Pecorelli tied the game for Elk Grove assisted by Bill Tucker and John Campbell.

The next period and a half were played in the Crystal Lake zone with Elk Grove being stopped time and time again from scoring.

In th third period Larry Mitsch scored the second goal, set up by a magnificent pass from Gary Pratchard. Terry Gloss also assisted. John Campbell scored the third goal assisted by Mike Pecorelli and Bob Brunn.

The next game is Saturday vs. Cary Grove at 8:00 p.m. at the Arlington Ice Spectrum.

Harper opens tonight in DuPage tournament

by CHARLIE DICKINSON

Harper's basketball team, after a week's rest, will go back on the road in search of their first win this season when they meet Waubonsee in the opening round of the DuPage College Tournament tonight at 7:00.

The second game of the night's card will kick off at 8:45 with the host Chaparrals meeting Lake County. The tournament will carry over into Saturday with the losers of the first round games meeting at 7:00 and winners playing for the championship at 8:45.

Harper's quest for that initial victory will receive a stiff test against Waubonsee. The Chiefs have been in the Skyway Conference four years and finished no lower than second. They are the defending conference champions, building an 11-3 record last year.

Coach Ray Lumpp's immediate problem is replacing Leo Grimes, the league MVP last year, and, in the words of a rival coach, "a super scorer, but more important, a super team player."

"The team comes first," Lumpp said. "If we win fine, but we must always hold our heads up, win or lose. We think we'll be respectable this year."

Robin Reder will operate the offense and at 5-4½ Harper is not likely to see a smaller guard all year. Sherman House, 6-2, will provide leadership at forward.

The Chiefs' high-low post offense will be manned by 6-6 Bill Sambrooks, who played for Kaneland High School's state qualifiers two years ago, and 6-3 Steve Stone. John Dowat is the back up man for both post positions.

Lumpp runs a strenuous pre-season program to "weed out those with poor attitudes. We may not be as talented as some but our players are completely coachable."

DuPage coach Dick Walters finished 25-8 with his squad last year and is looking for good things again this time around. They'll meet Lake County in the second round game and the outcome of that will tell a lot about what Walters, and Lancers' coach Bruce Smith, can expect this year.

Lake County finished 6-8 in the Skyway last year but won their second straight Region IV sectional title and were the only conference team in the state tournament.

Smith will have four lettermen back from that team including 6-6 Lee Moore, the conference's second leading rebounder with 189 in 14 games.

"Moore has all the potential in the world," Smith stated. "It looks like he's heading for a great year."

Fernando Shipley will help Moore on the boards. Shipley, 6-5, was a member of Lake County's Skyway Conference championship team two years ago.

Tommy Rhyan runs the Lancer attack from his guard slot. Mark Gutowski, an aggressive 6-3 freshman from Antioch, is at another forward and Glen Manarik, the team's best shooter, and Vic McGuire are neck and neck for the remaining guard start.

Smith has good size on the bench in 6-4½ Mike Tylkowski and 6-3 Tom Mocogni.

Valentino honored

John Valentino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Domonic Valentino of 213 N. Elm, Mount Prospect, is the recipient of the Big 10 Medal of Honor for athletic and scholastic excellence.

Valentino, a standout gymnast for Prospect High School, continued where he left off at the University of Illinois where he was a James Scholar and recipient of the coveted conference award while performing on the rings.

Valentino is currently enrolled at the Illinois College of Optometry in Chicago.

Sets Charity standard — 1-14 Ital

Jerry Paulsen, 17, of Elgin Larkin High School, has set a state free throw record of 304 consecutive shots, his school announced last week.

Paulsen, a senior, took four hours to break the old mark of 301, set in 1969 by Pete Kovacs, a coach in Elgin, who once coached Paulsen.

Earlier this year Paulsen shot 294 before missing.

Wei ranked 20th

Paul Wei, of Arlington Heights, is ranked 20th in the nation in the boys' 14 year old tennis singles for 1974.

Area reps at Conference — 1-14 Ital

Several area figures will take part in the National Federation of State High School Associations 5th National Conference of High School Directors of Athletics in Hershey, Pa.

Wayne Selvig, Director of Athletics at Buffalo Grove High School, will serve as a consultant Dec. 8 for discussions on opening a new school. Elmer Blasco, from Mount Prospect, editor and publisher of "Selling Sporting Goods" magazine, will make a short presentation during a public relations session on Dec. 9.

Finally, Dick Kinneman, Athletic Coordinator for High School District 214 in Mount Prospect will moderate a two-part workshop entitled "Answering the Challenge to Athletic Values."

Advance registration materials are available from the National Federation headquarters, 400 Leslie Street, Elgin, Illinois. (312) 697-4100.

St' Zachary's wins award

The President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports has announced that St. Zachary's School, 567 W. Algonquin Road, Des Plaines, has won the state championship award for the 1974 school year.

The state champion award is given to the school in each state with the highest percentage of students qualifying for the Presidential Physical Fitness Award.

YMCA Opens

Beginning Monday, Dec. 2, the Northwest Suburban YMCA, 300 E. Northwest Highway, in Des Plaines, will open its facilities at 7 a.m. from Monday through Saturday. The "early bird" can swim lengths of the pool, jog, play racquetball, handball, squash, participate in a business men's fitness program, lift weights, shoot baskets or just exercise in any type of program they desire.

Those wishing further information on the early bird program should call 296-3376.

From campuses nationwide

—DePaul University's Blue Demons will launch their 1974-75 basketball season tomorrow against UCLA at Los Angeles.

Head coach Ray Meyer, six victories shy of his 500th career win, is counting on Andy Pancratz and Dave Corzine, both from Hersey High School, to help the team to a post season tournament bid.

Both Pancratz and Corzine are expected to be in the starting lineup when the Devils take the floor against the Bruins.

—Lindbergh Askew, from Harper, and Brian Powell from Elk Grove were among 67 varsity letter winners at Ball State University. Askew earned his monogram in football, Powell in cross country.

—Mike Salerno, from St. Viator and the state champion in the backstroke in 1973, is now a member of the swimming team at Southern Illinois University.

—David Beck was awarded the C. J. Beck award at Carleton College as the most improved player on the football team. Beck is a junior offensive guard from Arlington Heights.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Beck, 305 South Windsor Drive.

Big 10 Medal of Honor goes to area product.

Allsmiller fires in 26 in Buffalo Grove victory

Brian Allsmiller clicked for 26 points including one crucial inside bucket going down the stretch and Buffalo Grove eased into their third straight victory of the season 54-52 over Carmel Wednesday in opening round action at Mundelein's Thanksgiving Tournament.

The Bison are slated to take on the hosting Mustangs tonight and finish up against Warren tomorrow evening at the round robin gathering.

The Corsairs compensated for a lack of height with persistent defense in taking the Grove nearly to the wire. Allsmiller connected on a tip in with a minute-and-half remaining to give his club a 54-50 lead and the Bison held on the rest of the way.

Carmel did have control of the ball under their own bucket with four seconds to go but a steal just at the buzzer discouraged their attempt at a last moment stalemate.

Allsmiller zeroed in for 16 points in the opening stanza but Carmel's 1-3-1 zone shrank in on him after that and it was left chiefly up to the Grove outside game to keep them in contention.

Jeff Schuster came off the bench in response, collecting a dozen pointers from long range and doing a decent job on the boards. Buffalo Grove trailed by two points at the one quarter mark but rallied to tie things up after three periods and remained pretty much in control the rest of the way.

Cold third period sends Hersey to 63-46 setback

Hersey battled Glenbard West on even terms through two periods Wednesday evening but went cold in the third stanza and stumbled 63-46 in the Glenbard tournament.

"They collapsed in on us and we just don't have that good out-shooting," said Hersey head man Roger Steingraber.

The host Hilltoppers, a West Suburban Conference entry, held only a 33-31 lead at halftime but outscored the Huskies 12-4 in the third segment and coasted in with the victory.

"They outboarded us 40-29," said Steingraber, "and we just couldn't get anything going after the halftime."

Rich Madison paced the Huskies with 15 points, all but four in the opening half. Clyde Glass contributed 11, seven in the final period.

Dean Bromann paced Glenbard's balanced attack with 17 points. Kenny Dargatz and Derrick Wilson chipped in with 14 each.

Hersey returns to action today at 4:00 against Glenbard North in the Glenbard West gymnasium, 670 Crescent Blvd., Glen Ellyn.

Different Volks for different folks.

VW Beetle
While most prices in our town have gone up, up, up, the Beetle's has stayed the same, same, same: only $2625*.

The "Thing"
The cost of every "Thing" in our town has just gone down from $3150 to $2775.* And it seems even less expensive when you compare it to the price of a Jeep, Land Rover or Land Cruiser.

412 Wagon
Simply can't do without plush wall-to-wall carpeting, fuel injection, or an automatic transmission? Fret not. Our year-end savings on the 412 make these the kind of luxuries you can still afford.

Dasher
Granted $4,000 is $4,000.* But it's also a small price to pay for what POPULAR MECHANICS calls "...a perfect combination of styling and engineering."

Incidentally, folks, the '75s are coming in every day.
Ask your local dealer for a sneak preview.

*Suggested Retail Prices P.O.E., Beetle 111 $2625, Dasher 2-dr sedan $3975, 181 "Thing" $2775. Local taxes and any other dealer delivery charges additional.

All-Area defensive team

JAY LOOS
Back
Prospect

A key member of the Knight defensive alignment, this talented safety off four enemy passes during the season and had two contests where he was credited with over 20 tackles. "An excellent youngster to work with and a fine college prospect" is the way his coach Dave Keffe described him, adding "He was definitely one of the main reasons we were able to turn things around here this season." Loos was also utilized on offense as a running back, blocker and receiver.

JIM WASWO
Lineman
Rolling Meadows

"Jim was a real sticker," Mustang head coach Angelo Barro described of his team's surest tackler. Roaming from sideline to sideline, this (5-9, 210) cruncher banged helmits on 92 occasions including 61 solo efforts. A headhunter on pass rush and pass defense, Waswo anchored a unit that permitted just 395 yards — second best in the circuit. A key tool on the Mustang kicking game, this linebacker recovered three fumbles and intercepted two passes and was a two-year regular for Rolling Meadows.

JIM STANCZAK
Lineman
Arlington

This two-year all-conference selection cornerstoned an Arlington defensive unit that ran up an impressive string of 11 straight shutout quarters which included victories over Wheeling, Fremd and arch-rival Hersey. This (6-0, 196) senior linebacker was excellent at playing off blocks while dropping opposing runners for 32 solo tackles and 70 assists. Stanczak also forced two fumbles, recovering one. During his career, Jim contributed 65 solos, 95 assists and an interception.

SEAN DOWD
Back
Maine West

At 5-7, 150, Sean was Maine's smallest player yet teammates voted him Most Valuable honors and for good reason. He led the Warriors with 57 solo tackles and three pass interceptions from his safety position despite missing one game due to knee injuries. In a rarity, Sean was named All-Conference on offense and defense by Central Suburban South coaches. He tied the Warrior single season school record with 31 pass receptions for 524 yards. During a two-year varsity career, Sean caught 48 passes for 708 yards. He hauled down eight passes for 108 yards and one score during the Warriors' 21-20 upset victory over Deerfield.

MARK SELVIG
Lineman
St. Viator

Mark emerged as the Lions' leading stopper with nearly 100 solo and assist tackles. He set Viator's single game high this year with 10 solo tackles against Notre Dame and later had nine solos in defeat at St. Francis deSales. This linebacker paced the Lions with eight solos and four assists during their season opening upset of Evanston. An All-East Suburban Catholic selection, Mark handled Viator's kickoff duties and also rushed for one touchdown during the Lions' 54-point shutout win at Carmel. His last play pass interception preserved the Lions' 25-18 come-from-behind victory against defending Mid-Suburban champion Hersey.

ed up the league's best rushing credentials.

Plenty of college scouts have been watching Ken perform on Saturday afternoons for the past few months. His size and quickness make him prime college material, and, as a B-student, Jaffke welcomes the chance to pursue his education. He knows that the choice of schools is an important one in his life.

"I suppose I could go to a small school where I'd be sure of playing," said Jaffke, "but I'd rather go to a bigger school where it would be more of a challenge — someplace where I could prove my ability."

Ken has already done it all in the Mid-Suburban League.

Rolling Meadows hockey results

Rolling Meadows Warriors 9, Evanston 2

The Warriors came out strong, checking close and skating hard. Eric Ortinau had a three goal hat trick. Also scoring for the Warriors were Scott Sanders twice and one goal each by Ricky Perillo, John Peszak and Joel Basgall. Assists went to Mike Plantan, who had four, Eric Ortinau, Ricky Perillo and Scott Sanders had two each and Joel Basgall had one. Danny Perillo and Mike Whisler supplied solid goaltending.

Rolling Meadows Warriors 1, Schaumburg 1

In the Rolling Meadows Warriors' fourth North Suburban Hockey League encounter, they met a strong Schaumburg team that outshot them, 30-13. The Warriors fell behind but finally salvaged a tie in the last few minutes on a goal by Ricky Perillo assisted by Greg Kowalewski.

Rolling Meadows Warriors 4, Northbrook 2

The Warriors took their traveling show to Northbrook and started out strong but had to hustle to keep the game in the win column. Mike Yosenick scored first assisted by Erick Ortinau and Ricky Perillo. Bill Colacicco was assisted by Greg Kowalewski, Kurt Smith was assisted by Bill Colacicco. The final goal was by Ricky Perillo assisted by Erick Ortinau and Mike Yosenick. Mike Whisler and Danny Perillo stopped 15 shots between them.

Rolling Meadows Warriors 11, Elk Grove 2

The Warriors played together and ran up a season high of 11 goals. Scoring for the Warriors were Ricky Perillo twice assisted by Mike Yosenick on one and Eric Ortinau on the other. Scott Sanders assisted by John Peszak. Erick Ortinau unassisted. Greg Kowalewski scored twice unassisted as did Joel Basgall. Mike Yosnick scored twice assisted by Mike Plantan on one and Danny Perillo on the other. Joel Basgall on his second goal was assisted by Ricky Perillo and John Peszek was assisted by Greg Kowalewski.

Rolling Meadows Warriors 1, Highland Park 2

In a second meeting between these two teams the Warriors had some of the air let out of their balloon. They fell behind in the first minute and never caught up. Eric Ortinau capitalized on one of the many opportunities for the Warriors with a goal assisted by Kurt Smith. The Warriors were outshot, 15 to 12. Mike Shisler and Danny Perillo, the Warriors' two goalies, kept the game close.

MITES TRAVEL DIVISION

Warriors 4, Kenosha 4

The Warriors traveled to Kenosha and had a real battle in a game that ended in a 4-4 tie. Kenosha took an early lead scoring the first goal. Before the first period was over, Tom Short of the Warriors scored to tie up the score.

Chico Kirkham connected for the second and Bob SanFilippo the third Warrior goals to give them a 3-2 edge at the end of two periods.

Tom Short scored his second goals of the day in the third period for the Warriors' fourth and final goal.

PEE WEE TRAVEL DIVISION

Warriors 11, Kenosha 0

Scott Eakins and Jimmy Beckett each connected for a hat trick and Rick Perillo scored twice. Single goals were notched by Ray Mueller, John Nardella and Mike Sweeney. The Warriors hammered the Kenosha goalie with 46 shots on goal.

Warrior goalie Chris Martin earned the shut out in his first game after being sidelined by illness.

BANTAM TRAVEL DIVISION

Warriors 9, Winnetka 2

In their fifth North Suburban Hockey League game the Warriors remained perfect at 5-0 with their win over a fine Winnetka outfit.

Warrior goals were scored by John Zels, Glen Fredrickson, Rich Olsen (2), Russ Thieme, Pat Smith and Dave King who rang up a hat trick.

Warriors 5, Elmhurst Blades 1

The Warriors were on the move in the second period, wiping out Elmhurst's short lived 1-0 edge, with goals by Pat Smith and Scott Ross. Rich Reiger, Dave King and Bret Daley had the three other Warrior goals.

MIDGET TRAVEL DIVISION

Warriors 4, Franklin Park 3

It took the Warriors just 50 seconds to light the scoreboard for the first time when Tom Sweeney took the pass from Bob Paladino and put it high in the net. Franklin Park tied the score but Russ Riendeau gave the Warriors the lead again on an unassisted goal.

Mike Perillo scored the two other Warrior goals, the last winning the game with 32 seconds left.

Warriors 5, Glenview 4

Warriors 3, Niles 0

Goalie Jerry DelGiudice recorded his third shut out of the season. Scoring for the Warriors were Tom Sweeney, Mike Perillo and Russ Riendeau.

Warriors 6, Streamwood 3

The Warriors woke up in the second period, took the lead and went on to their 11th straight win. A fine offensive game was turned in as they outshot Streamwood 36-12. Dan Forkin led the scoring with two goals while Joe Bracco, Bob Paladino, Jim Varey and Russ Riendeau all added one.

Des Plaines fighter in bout Wednesday

Chicagoland's No. 1 ranking middleweight Rocky DiFazio makes a serious bid for world ranking when he battles nationally ranked and former two-time junior middleweight champion Irish Denny Moyer at the International Ampitheatre, Wednesday, Dec. 11.

The 155-pound Moyer, who has more than 100 pro victories to his credit, has defeated Sugar Ray Robinson, No. 1 welterweight Don Jordon and Emile Griffith in his 15-year career. His most recent victory came at the expense of San Diego native, Vincente Medina.

DiFazio, who lives in nearby Melrose Park, holds a 20-0-2 record which includes a pair of wins over Canada's fifth-ranked middleweight Dan Boulter.

DiFazio's stable mate, lightweight Angel Mayoral, will fight in a second 10-rounder against Johnny Copeland of Joplin, Mo.

The Baja, Calif. transplant, who lives in Des Plaines, with promoter Joe Granata, is the Ring Magazine's third choice among world class lightweights.

The 22-year-old Mayoral holds a 66-4-1 record, including a victory over former Olympian and current U. S. Lightweight Champion, Ray Lampkin.

A victory by DiFazio over Moyer will almost certainly propel the popular middleweight in the top 20 class of world middleweights.

DiFazio's manager, Bob Salerno said he would seek a bout with former world champion Emile Griffith if the suburban Chicagoan defeats the veteran Moyer.

"Moyer will be a good test for Rocky, and a great fight for the fans," Salerno said. "Both are stand up fighters. Not too much dancing, more toe to toe punching. And Moyer's a world class fighter. He's got more than 130 fights and plenty of 'em are against the best in the world. If Rocky wins he deserves national ranking."

Mayoral has been angling for a title bout with Lampkin ever since his unanimous victory over the champion. After that he'd like to try world champion Roberto Duran of Ranama.

"So far neither fighter has expressed an interest," Salerno, who also has the contender's contract, said. Salerno and promoters of Grand-Rand Boxing Enterprises, are attempting to schedule former world champion Ken Buchanan of Scotland.

At Fair Lanes

The Kooky Koalas rolled high series in the Thursday Eye Openers League with a classy 1974. High team game honors went to the Minny Mouses with a 700. Top bowler of the week was Angie Pilcher, who rolled a 178-478. Other high scores were turned in by Darleen Eaves, 206-459, Shirley Twigg, 178, Grace Lisching, 171, and Lorri Forsyth, 168. Scotty Cole picked up a 5-10 split and Grace Lisching converted the 5-7.

Arlington Minor Hockey

Mite Division
Traveling Team
Park Ridge 2, Arlington Heights 0

Goalie Kwilas made 25 saves to keep his team in reach but a fine Park Ridge defense nullified all of Arlington's moves.

Palatine 4, Arlington Heights 3

After giving up three goals in the first period, Arlington came alive and made Palatine work hard for the win.

Goals for Palatine were scored by Bleeker, Dalgiekh (who also earned two assists), Padgett and Brewer. Achil was credited with an assist.

Brian Pond scored twice for Arlington and C. Anderson notched the other goal. S. Gould and S. Krauss were credited with assists. Jeff Robins, Jerry Vainisi and Mark Brunner also played well.

Squirt Division
Traveling Team
Arlington 7, Evanston 0

Arlington put it all together in this game. Fine defensive play blunted the Evanston attack. And when Arlington switched to offense the whole team worked together.

Tony Ackels and Arne Lindbloom each scored two goals, with Geoff Williams, Bill Kuhn and Kevin Pond notching single tallies. Scott Simon earned two assists. Williams, Kuhn, David Del Ghingaro, David Grabarek, Scott Brunner and Scott Butler one each.

Elmhurst 3, Arlington Heights 0

Elmhurst played fine hockey to beat Arlington in this NIHL game. Dean Voss in goal played well with 21 saves, but Elmhurst contained the Arlington forwards, allowing only three shots on their goalie.

House League
Blazers 3, Flyers 1

The Blazers won the game in the first period, scoring two goals. From then on the game was even.

Geoff Gruenwald, Francis Reilly and Don Laube scored for the Blazers, with Perry Del Ghingaro earning an assist.

Pete Fortunski notched the lone Flyers goal, unassisted.

Flyers 1, Sharks 0

Steve Ballagh scored on a fine individual effort for the Flyers early in the first period. Fine defensive play by the whole team, and in particular by Keith Spaulding in goal foiled the attempt of the Sharks to take the game away.

Addison 8, Blazers 1

The Blazers tried hard but couldn't cope with a strong Addison team. Reilly got the consolation goal on a great individual effort.

Pee Wee Division Traveling Team
Park Ridge 5, Arlington Heights 2

Arlington played fine hockey for two periods, keeping the score tied until the third period. The greater depth of the Park Ridge team told in the third period when they wore down Arlington.

A. Lund scored one goal for Arlington and helped set up the other. M. Brawley notched the other tally, with D. Schrager and D. Chatten earning assists.

Winnetka 4, Arlington Heights 0

Winnetka outplayed the Arlington team and only fine goal tending by J. Aiello kept the score down.

Park Ridge 1, Arlington Heights 0

Park Ridge scored early in the first period and had to play all out to deny Arlington the tying goal.

Arlington Heights 1, Palatine 1

Super goaltending by Palatine, backed up by Jenkin's goal earned Palatine the tie with an Arlington Heights team that played fine hockey.

M. Brawley tallied for Arlington, assisted by R. Garber.

Arlington Heights 4, Oak Park 0

J. Aiello got the shutout as Arlington played fine hockey. Goals were scored by M. Brawley, M. Aiello, R. Garber and F. Del Ghingaro.

Assists were earned by A. Lund, B. Mitchell and C. Hermanson.

Arlington Heights 4, Wilmette 2

Again playing good hockey, Arlington beat a fine Wilmette team. R. Garber scored two goals, A. Lund and M. Brawley one each. Assists were credited to Lund, M. Aiello (2), S. Paulson and T. Butler.

Bantam Division Traveling Team
Northbrook 2, Arlington Heights 0

Steve Schrager, in goal for Arlington, played outstanding hockey, making 50 saves. Despite the loss, the whole team played well against a very strong Northbrook club.

St. Jude 3, Arlington Heights 1

St. Jude outlasted Arlington in the third period, the first two periods being even.

Steve Thompson got the goal, assisted by Dave O'Neill and Larry Hermanson.

Arlington Heights 3, Westmont Royals 2

Arlington made it through the first two periods aided by fine goaltending by Bob Dallstream as the Royals outshot the home team by a margin of two to one. But the third period belonged to Arlington and they scored twice to win a tight game.

Brad Schuman scored the first goal, outhustling the defense in front of the Royal's goal. Steve Thompson and Rusty Gould scored the other goals, Gould also picking up an assist.

Randy Smith, Pat Lightner, Steve Sica, John Mitchell and Dan Schmidt were also credited with assists.

Bantam Division - House League
Team Two 3, Crystal Lake 1

Tim Gillogly with two goals and Joe Carcerano with a goal and assist led the scoring. Allan Lattof also earned an assist in the hard fought game.

Rich Port Rangers 6,
Hoffman Estates House League 0

Hoffman Estates played a fine first period but the greater experience of the Arlington team told in the final two periods. Bucholz in goal for Hoffman Estates made a total of 31 saves to keep the score down.

Tom Gorski scored twice for Arlington and also earned an assist. Bob Nolte, who also had an assist, Scott Goldbeck, Larry Bokas and Tom Estey scored the other goals. Joe Cormier, Larry Bukas, Joe Bucos, Bob Patterson (2) and Anson Gray earned assists.

Crystal Lake 5, Rich Port Rangers 1

Crystal Lake proved too much for Rich Port although the team didn't quit, scoring a consolation goal in the last period. Bob Nolte was the scorer, assisted by Larry Bukas.

Junior Division Traveling Team
Deerfield 4, Arlington Heights 3

A great game where the issue was in doubt until the final whistle. Paulson, in goal, made 28 saves. Goals were scored by Walsh, McGuire (who also earned an assist) and Conway. Cunningham and Voss were credited with assists.

Arlington Heights 15, Niles 1

Hat tricks fell like rain in this overwhelming victory. Walsh, Conway and Retzer each scored three goals, Glander, Voss and Hudec two each. Walsh also earned five assists, Conway and McGuire three each, Retzer, Cunningham and Hudec two apiece, with Glander and Voss earning single assists.

Arlington 10, Elmhurst 1

In another fine victory, John Walsh had another good game, scoring three goals and earning two assists. Cunningham also notched a hat trick. Other goals were scored by McGuire, Voss, Retzer and Hoss. Credited with assists were McGuire, Retzer, Hoss (2), Fenderson and Mattox.

At Elk Grove Bowl

The Elk Grove Ladies Major League had one of its best nights to date with 15 games of 200 or better, 13 500-series, and one series of 600. Once again Sue Kaiser pounded the maples for her second 600-series in a row. She rolled games of 235 and 222 on her way to a 603. Teammate Dottie Schamrowski bowled 204-215-572 to help move B&H Blueprint into first place, one point ahead of O'Dowd Carpet. Gateway Supply shot the year's high team series of 2117 as Mally Maihack rolled a 211-202-583, Jean Bates had a 224-554, and Helen Timmel, 504. Individual runnerup honors went to Dot Wilkens, 225-201-596. Others on the honor roll were Marilyn Andersen, 202-203-555, Bonnie Hofbauer, 214-552, Ruth Ziegler, 207-543, Sue Nolte, 215-531, Pam Cwik, 524, Marlene Jacobsen, 506, Fran Lindsey, 223-504, and Corky Pfeiffer, 500. Pfeiffer and Judy Kramkowski converted splits.

All-Area offensive team

joyed a record-shattering season at the controls of a team that averaged almost 30 points per game. Jim eclipsed the Mid-Suburban League's decade-old total offense standard by running and throwing for 1,219 yards in a single season. His passing arm singed opposing defenses for 1,066 yards, mangling the eight-year-old mark of 1,031. A three-sport standout, this quarterback tallied 26 points, rushed for 157 yards and completed 64 of 130 tosses for 10 touchdowns.

RANDY CLARK
Lineman
Prospect

Prospect led the entire Mid-Suburban League in rushing offense for 1974 and one of the main reasons was an outstanding line, led by this 200-pound senior standout. Clark also played at defensive tackle all season and was graded out at a superior 90 per cent effectiveness rate over the entire year, leading the Knights in that department. "He has all the tools to become a big school lineman," observed coach Dave Keefe. "I felt he dominated his position both ways in every game we played this fall."

STEVE BREITBEIL
Back
Rolling Meadows

A three-time varsity football letterman and three-sport star, Steve was voted among the top 100 prep backs in the nation by Popular Sport Magazine on the eve of his senior campaign. Breitbeil responded by pacing the Mustangs in scoring (24 points), rushing (100 carries for 308 yards) and passing (61 completions in 116 attempts for 634 yards) while earning a berth on a Chicagoland All-Area squad. The captain of his club and a standout defensive safety, Breitbeil's career total offense mark includes 2,273 yards and 25 touchdowns.

JOHN WILLARD
Back
Elk Grove

Playing behind an offensive line that was often decimated with injuries Willard still led the Mid-Suburban League in carries (119) and yards gained rushing (707). The fact Willard was often injured himself never stopped this (5-10, 160) senior from playing both offense and defense for the 4-4 Grenadiers. He also led Elk Grove in scoring and caught passes for 80 yards. "Willard played up to his potential better than any player I've seen in a long time," said Grenadier coach Don Schnake.

MIKE LAUESEN
Back
Maine East

New holder of Blue Demon career (1,410), single season (870) and single game (222) rushing records. Scored 10 touchdowns and two conversions for 64 points during senior year. Gained 100 or more yards in five games, three times surpassing 150. Set single game Maine East record in season opener against Kankakee St. Anne. Added 13 pass receptions for 139 yards, giving him 1,009 yards total offense from scrimmage. As team captain, helped lead Maine to 6-2 record, its first winning ledger in 15 years. Earned team Most Valuable Player honors and was a shoo-in on the All-Central Suburban North first team, voted by coaches.

NEIL SCHMIDT
Lineman
Forest View

The favorite target of Mid-Suburban League-leading passer Jim Petran, Neil Schmidt's ability to catch the ball was almost overshadowed by his impressive credentials once the pigskin was tucked away. This lanky (6-1, 180) end cradled 28 receptions for 563 yards — an average of better than 20 yards a grab and six touchdowns. "His primary responsibility was catching the ball," coach Fred Lussow confirmed, "but he sure knew what to do with it after that." Neil's best production came against Conant when he hauled in eight passes for 198 yards and two touchdowns.

Nine patented spray tools. A unique sealant that's attracted to metal and actually creeps into welded seams. Trained technicians who know the inside of your car like the backs of their hands.

Our process is so thorough that we can give you a money-back guarantee against rust-through on your new car for 5 years or 50,000 miles.

But there's one catch. To get your guarantee, we must rustproof your car within 3 months or 3000 miles of the date you pick it up. Because rust starts in a hurry.

Call us now. While there's still time.

It's Us. Or Rust.

Resolution

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT ON THE 21st DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1974, THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF COMMUNITY CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL DISTRICT 54, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS ADOPTED THE FOLLOWING RESOLUTION:

RESOLUTION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF SUBSECTION 9(h) OF SECTION 18-8, THE SCHOOL CODE OF ILLINOIS, TO MAINTAIN AN OPERATING TAX RATE OF 2.144200 PER CENT

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Education of Community Consolidated School District Number "54," Schaumburg Township, Cook County, Illinois, as follows:

SECTION 1. All references to statutory provisions herein made are to Section 18-8, The School Code of Illinois, as amended by House Bill 2753 (1974).

SECTION 2. WHEREAS, it is the intent of this Board of Education to avail itself of the provisions in Subsection 9(h) of said Section to maintain an operating tax rate above the minimum operating tax rate of 1.950000 per cent to produce funds in the amount of 15 per cent above the established foundation level of $1,260.00 per ESEA-Title I weighted average daily attendance (WADA) pupil, subject, however, to the backdoor referendum provisions of said Subsection 9(h); and

WHEREAS, this school district had a combined 1972 operating tax rate for the funds described in Subsection 9(b) in exess of 1.950000 per cent, the actual authorized 1972 tax rates being as follows:

Levy	Tax Rate Per Cent
Educational*	1.610000
Operations, Building and Maintenance*	.375000
Illinois Municipal Retirement	.059200
Working Cash	.050000
Fire Prevention and Safety*	.050000
1972 Operating Tax Rate	2.144200

*maximum approved tax rate

; and

WHEREAS, for the 1972-1973 base expenditure year this district was authorized to receive funds from local taxes contained in Subsection 9(b), 1972-1973 actual general state aid entitlement, Section 18-8.1 state support, 1971-1972 total claim for state impaction, 1971-1972 tax equivalent grant aid, and 1971-1972 state-owned housing aid per ESEA-Title I WADA pupil as follows:

FUNDS: Local Taxes	$ 5,592,382.90
General State Aid	6,330,596.77
Section 18-8.1 Aid	-0-
State Impaction Aid	-0-
Tax Equivalent Grant Aid	-0-
State-Owned Housing Aid	-0-
Total	$11,922,979.73
1972 Equalized Assessed Valuation times 1972 Operating Tax Rate Pupil Count: 1972-1973 ESEA-Title I WADA	13,134.97
Base Expenditure Amount per ESEA-Title I WADA (Total funds divided by the pupil count)	$ 907.72

; and

WHEREAS, this Board of Education is authorized to tax beyond the level of 1.950000 per cent applicable to elementary school districts; said total of the tax rates authorized to be extended by the county clerk(s) for the funds set forth in Subsection 9(h) for the levy year 1972 being 2.144200 per cent;

NOW THEREFORE, be it further resolved by the Board of Education of Community Consolidated School District Number "54," Schaumburg Township, Cook County, Illinois, as follows:

SECTION 3. This Board of Education desires to avail itself of the provisions contained in Subsection 9(h) to make or increase expenditures for innovative programs, research and experimental programs, and other enriching experience.

SECTION 4. This Board of Education does hereby determine to maintain an operating tax rate above the aforesaid minimum rate of 1.950000 per cent and to produce the amount of funds necessary to produce 15 per cent above $1,260.00 per WADA pupil.

	Amount	Amount in Excess of $1,260.00 per WADA pupil
15 per cent increase authorized by Subsection 9(h): ($1,260.00 x 15 per cent)	$ 189.00
Amount authorized expenditure per ESEA-Title I WADA pupil after applying increase provided by Subsection 9(h): ($1,260.00 + $189.00)	1,449.00	$ 189.00

SECTION 5. By virtue of the provisions of Subsection 9(h) of Section 18-8, this district is authorized to maintain such minimum tax rate necessary to secure the funds required to produce $189.00 per ESEA-Title I WADA pupil and therefore this district is authorized to maintain a minimum operating tax rate of 2.144200* per cent determined as follows:

Equalized Assessed Valuation for 1972 ($260,814,428) divided by the 1972-1973 ESEA-Title I WADA pupils (13,134.97):	$19,856.49
Amount in excess of $1,260.00 per WADA pupil; (189.00) divided by equalized assessed valuation per ESEA-Title I WADA pupil ($19,856.49) times 100 equals additional operating tax rate	.951829%
Statutory base rate (1.950000 per cent) plus additional operating tax rate (.951829 per cent):	2.901829%

This Board does hereby authorize the maintenance of an operating tax rate of 2.144200* per cent (statutory rate of 1.950000 per cent plus .194200 per cent).

Should this resolution be effective, either by virtue of an approving election, should a petition be filed, or by virtue of the failure of a petition to be filed, the county clerk(s) is hereby authorized to extend for tax purposes such minimum operating tax rate of 2.144200 per cent for the funds referred to in Subsection 9(h).

SECTION 6. In conformity with the provisions of Subsection 9(h) a petition may be filed with the Secretary of this Board of Education at the Administration Office - Community Consolidated School District 54, 804 West Bode Road, Schaumburg, Illinois, School District "54," within 30 days from the date of the adoption of this resolution, signed by not less than 10 per cent or 2,000, whichever is lesser, voters of this school district, requesting the submission of this resolution to a referendum, whereupon a special election shall be called for voting on a proposition in the form specified in Subsection 9(h). If no such petition is filed with the Secretary of this Board on or before 30 days from the date of the adoption of this resolution, then this school district shall thereafter be authorized to maintain the operating tax rate of 2.144200 per cent hereinabove provided, and the Secretary of this Board shall certify to the county clerk(s), regional superintendent, and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction a copy of this resolution and the fact that no such petition has been filed.

By order of the Board of Education of Community Consolidated School District 54, Cook County, Illinois.

Dated this 21st day of November, 1974.

Ordinance No. 2541

AN ORDINANCE providing for borrowing money and issuing bonds of the Village of Mount Prospect, Cook County, Illinois, to the amount of $4,000,000 for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring land and constructing and equipping a new public library building thereon and purchasing an existing building for use as the Village's administrative offices, and providing for the levy and collection of a direct annual tax for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds.

WHEREAS, the Village of Mount Prospect, Cook County, Illinois, has a population in excess of 25,000 as determined by the last official census, and accordingly pursuant to the provisions of the 1970 Constitution of the State of Illinois, and particularly Article VII, Section 6(a) thereof, said Village is a home rule unit and as such may exercise any power or perform any function pertaining to its government and affairs, including, but not limited to, the power to tax and to incur debt; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of Section 6(d) and 6(k) of said Article VII of said 1970 Constitution, the Village of Mount Prospect has the power to incur debt payable from ad valorem tax receipts maturing within forty (40) years from the time it is incurred and without prior referendum approval; and

WHEREAS, on the 15th day of October, 1974, the President and Board of Trustees of said Village did adopt an ordinance determining the procedures to be followed in the borrowing of money for public purposes of said Village and in evidence of such borrowing the issuing of full faith and credit bonds of said Village without referendum approval, such ordinance being entitled:

ORDINANCE NO. 2531

AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING PROCEDURES TO BE FOLLOWED IN INCURRING INDEBTEDNESS FOR CORPORATE PURPOSES, ISSUING NON-REFERENDUM BONDS TO EVIDENCE SUCH INDEBTEDNESS AND AUTHORIZING AND DIRECTING THE LEVYING OF A TAX, WITHOUT LIMIT AS TO RATE OR AMOUNT, FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ON SUCH BONDS AS THE SAME BECOME DUE

(referred to hereinafter as the "Enabling Ordinance"); and

WHEREAS, it is deemed to be necessary, essential and in the best interests of the inhabitants of the Village of Mount Prospect, that land be acquired and a new public library building be constructed and equipped thereon, and existing buildings be purchased, furnished, and improved for use as administrative offices for the Village of Mount Prospect (all of which is hereinafter referred to as the "Project") in accordance with engineering reports and plans now on file in the office of the Village Clerk for that purpose the estimated cost of which will be not less than $3,150,000 for the new public library building and not less than $850,000 for the building to be used as administrative offices for the Village of Mount Prospect; and

WHEREAS, the Village of Mount Prospect, Cook County, Illinois, is authorized by the provisions of the Constitution of the State of Illinois, above referred to, and pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Enabling Ordinance, to incur indebtedness payable from ad valorem property tax receipts maturing within forty (40) years from the time of incurring the same without prior referendum approval; and

WHEREAS, it is necessary that the Project be constructed in order to meet the needs of the inhabitants of the Village, and it is necessary for that purpose that the sum of $4,000,000 be borrowed at this time and in evidence of such indebtedness full faith and credit bonds of the Village be issued in the principal amount of $4,000,000 and that such indebtedness be incurred without submitting the question of incurring such indebtedness to the electors of said Village for their approval;

NOW, THEREFORE, Be It Ordained by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Mount Prospect, Cook County, Illinois, as follows:

Section 1. That the President and Board of Trustees of said Village hereby finds and determines that the borrowing of $4,000,000 for the purpose of constructing the Project is necessary for the welfare of the government and affairs of the Village and that such borrowing is for a proper public purpose and is in the public interest.

Section 2. That in order to raise the sum of $4,000,000 needed for the purpose of constructing the Project, there be borrowed by, for and on behalf of the Village of Mount Prospect, Cook County Illinois, the sum of $4,000,000 and to evidence said loan negotiable coupon bonds of said Village be issued. Each of said bonds shall each be designated "Corporate Purpose Bond, Series 1974," be dated December 1, 1974, be numbered consecutively from 1 to 800, inclusive, be of the denomination of $5,000 each and become due serially on January 1 of each of the years and in the amounts and bear interest annually at the rates as follows:

Interest on said bonds shall be payable on July 1, 1975, and semiannually thereafter on the first days of January and July in each year, which said interest payments to date of maturity of principal shall be evidenced by proper interest coupons attached to each bond and maturing on the dates herein provided. Both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at First National Bank of Mount Prospect, Mount Prospect, Illinois. The seal of said Village shall be affixed to each of said bonds and said bonds shall be signed by the President and by the Clerk of said Village, and said coupons shall be signed by said officials, respectively, by their respective facsimile signatures, and said officials, by the execution of said bonds, shall adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on said coupons.

Section 3. That the bonds hereby authorized shall be payable to bearer, provided, however, that such bonds may be subject to registration as to principal in the name of the holder on the books of the Treasurer of said Village, such registration to be evidenced by notation of said Treasurer on the back of such bonds so registered. No bond so registered shall be subject to transfer except upon such books and similarly noted on the back thereof, unless the last registration shall have been to bearer. Such registration of any of said bonds shall not, however, affect the negotiability of the coupons attached to said bonds, but such coupons shall continue transferable by delivery merely.

Section 4. That each of said bonds and the interest coupons to be thereto attached shall be in substantially the following form:

(Form of Bond)

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF ILLINOIS COUNTY OF COOK
VILLAGE OF MOUNT PROSPECT
CORPORATE PURPOSE BOND, SERIES 1974

Number—— $5,000

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, that the Village of Mount Prospect, Cook County, Illinois, hereby acknowledges itself to owe and for value received promises to pay to bearer or, if this bond be registered, to the registered holder hereof, the sum of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($5,000) on the first day of January, 19——, together with interest on said sum from the date hereof until paid at the rate of ———— per cent (——%) per annum, payable on July 1, 1975, and semiannually thereafter on January 1 and July 1, on presentation and surrender of the respective interest coupons hereto attached as they severally become due and payable. Both principal and interest are hereby made payable in lawful money of the United States of America at ————, ————, Illinois. For the prompt payment of this bond, both principal and interest, as aforesaid, at maturity, and the levy of taxes sufficient for that purpose, the full faith, credit and resources of said Village are hereby irrevocably pledged.

This bond is one of a series of bonds issued by said Village for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring land and constructing and equipping a new public library building thereon and purchasing an existing building for use as the Village's administrative offices, pursuant to and in all respects in compliance with the applicable provisions of Section 6 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Illinois, and in compliance with the provisions of an ordinance adopted by the President and Board of Trustees of said Village establishing the procedures for issuing full faith and credit non-referendum bonds, and an ordinance authorizing the issuance of this bond and the series of which it forms a part, duly published and now in full force and effect.

It is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Illinois, and including the procedures established by the Village ordinance for the exercise of its home rule powers conferred by Section 6 of Article VII of said Constitution of the State of Illinois in issuing its full faith and credit bonds payable from ad valorem property tax receipts without prior referendum approval, to exist or to be done precedent to and in the issuance of this bond, have existed and have been properly done, happened and been performed in regular and due form and time as required by law; that the indebtedness of said Village of Mount Prospect, represented by this bond and the issue of which it forms a part, and including all other indebtedness of said Village, howsoever evidenced and incurred, does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation, and that provision has been made for the collection of a direct annual tax, in addition to all other taxes, on all of the taxable property in said Village sufficient to pay the interest hereon as the same falls due and also to pay and discharge the principal hereof at maturity.

This bond is subject to registration as to principal in the name of the holder on the books of the Village Treasurer, such registration to be evidenced by notation of such Treasurer on the back hereof, and after such registration no transfer hereof, except upon such books and similarly noted hereon, shall be valid unless the last registration shall have been to bearer. Registration hereof shall not affect the negotiability of the coupons hereto attached, which shall continue negotiable by delivery merely, notwithstanding registration hereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, said Village of Mount Prospect, Cook County, Illinois, by its President and Board of Trustees, has caused its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed, and this bond to be signed by the President of said Village and by its Village Clerk, and the coupons hereto attached to be signed by said officials, respectively, by their facsimile signatures, and said officials, by the execution hereof, do adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on said coupons, all as of the first day of December, 1974.

That interest or principal coming due at a time when there are insufficient funds on hand to pay the same be paid promptly when due from current funds on hand in advance of the collection of said taxes herein levied, and when said taxes shall have been collected, reimbursement shall be made to the said funds in the amounts thus advanced.

Section 6. That forthwith as soon as this ordinance becomes effective, a copy hereof certified by the Clerk of said Village, shall be filed with the County Clerk of Cook County, Illinois, and said County Clerk shall, in and for each of the years 1974 to 1994, inclusive, ascertain the rate per cent required to produce the aggregate tax hereinbefore provided to be levied in said years, and said County Clerk shall extend the same for collection on the tax books in connection with other taxes levied in said years, in and by said Village for general corporate purposes of said Village, and in said years such annual tax shall be levied and collected by said Village in like manner as taxes for general corporate purposes for said years are levied and collected, and in addition to and in excess of all other taxes, and when collected such taxes shall be used solely for the purpose of paying principal and interest upon the bonds herein authorized when same mature.

Section 7. That the funds derived from such levy be and the same are hereby appropriated and set aside for the sole and only purpose of paying principal of and interest on said bonds when and as the same become due. That the funds derived from the sale of said bonds be and they are hereby appropriated and set aside for the purpose hereinbefore set out.

Section 8. That forthwith after this ordinance has become effective as provided by law, the bonds herein authorized shall be executed and delivered to the Treasurer of said Village and be by him delivered to Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Company, Chicago the purchaser thereof, upon receipt of the purchase price therefor, same to be not less than the par value of said bonds plus accrued interest to date of delivery and a premium of $218.00, and that the contract for the sale of said bonds to said purchaser, heretofore entered into, be and the same is hereby in all respects ratified, approved and confirmed.

Section 9. That the principal proceeds of the sale of said bonds shall be devoted to and used with due diligence for the completion of the Project for which said bonds are hereby authorized to be issued. The President and Board of Trustees represents and certifies that:

(1) the said Village expects within six months after the delivery of said bonds, to incur substantial binding obligations equal to at least 2½% of the estimated total Project cost to commence construction of the said Project;

(2) the President and Board of Trustees expects that over 85% of the spendable proceeds of said bonds, including investment proceeds, will be expended on or before December 1, 1976, for the purpose of paying the cost of said Project, said date being within three years following the date of issue of said bonds;

(3) work on the said Project is expected to proceed with due diligence to completion;

(4) said Project has not been and is not expected to be sold or otherwise disposed of in whole or in part prior to the last maturity of said bonds;

(5) all of the principal proceeds of the bonds are needed for the purpose stated in the form of bond above set out, including expenses incidental to such purpose and to the issuance of the bonds; and

(6) to the best of the knowledge and belief of the President and Board of Trustees, there are no facts, estimates or circumstances that would materially change the conclusions and representations set out in this Section.

Said President and Board of Trustees also certifies and further covenants with the purchaser and holders of said bonds from time to time outstanding, that so long as any of said bonds remain outstanding, moneys on deposit in any fund or account in connection with said bonds, whether or not such moneys were derived from the proceeds of the sale of said bonds or from any other sources, will not be used in a manner which will cause such bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" within the meaning of Section 103(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and any lawful regulations promulgated or proposed thereunder, including Sections 1.103-13 and 1.103-14 of the Income Tax Regulations (26 CFR Part 1), as the same presently exist, or may from time to time hereafter be amended, supplemented or revised. The President and Board of Trustees reserves the right, however, to make any investment of such moneys permitted by state law if, when and to the extent that said Section 103(d) or regulations promulgated thereunder shall be repealed or relaxed or shall be held void by final decision of a court of competent jurisdiction, but only if any investment made by virtue of such repeal, relaxation or decision would not, in the opinion of counsel of recognized competence in such matters, result in making the interest on said bonds subject to federal income taxation.

Section 10. That a full, true and complete copy of this ordinance be published within ten days after pass

Would you tell me how the TV series "The Fugitive" ended, starring David Janssen? I believe it played in the early 60s and I would like to know if the one-armed man or the police lieutenant, who was chasing Richard Kimball throughout the series, killed Kimball's wife. Thank you.

Arlington Heights

David Janssen

David Janssen (Dr. Richard Kimball) finally found the one-armed man he had been pursuing in the series. The one-armed man admitted to having been a witness to the murder of Kimball's wife. The police lieutenant killed Mrs. Kimball, with whom he was having an affair.

Could you please tell me about Jacqueline Courtney who plays Alice Matthews on "Another World." Is she married? Has she got any children? Has she starred in anything else besides "Another World"? Please include an address.

M.J.
Palatine

Jacqueline, a New Jersey-born actress, is married and has one young daughter named Jennifer. She started out in television by appearing on commercials and then on TV shows. She played a title role in NBC's "Our Five Daughters" (a drama series) and she has also appeared on "The Doctors," "The Secret Storm," "The Jackie Gleason Show" and "Route 66." You can write to this charter member of "Another World" by sending your letters to NBC Press Department, National Broadcasting Co., 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N.Y., 10020.

Please list the addresses of CBS, ABC and NBC because I want to write to them concerning some of their TV shows.

Could you please give me some information on Dustin Hoffman and also print a picture of him.

L.S.

Dustin Hoffman

Dustin, one of today's top movie actors, has appeared in a number of films such as "The Straw Dogs," directed by Sam Peckinpah. Before appearing in his first film, "The Graduate," for which he received an Oscar nomination, Dustin really hadn't made a name for himself. He finally got a big break when he won a part in "Journey of the Fifth Horse." He received an Obie Award for best actor as an eccentric Russian clerk and the Drama Desk, Theater World and Vernon Rice awards for his part as a plumber in "Eh?", directed by Alan Arkin.

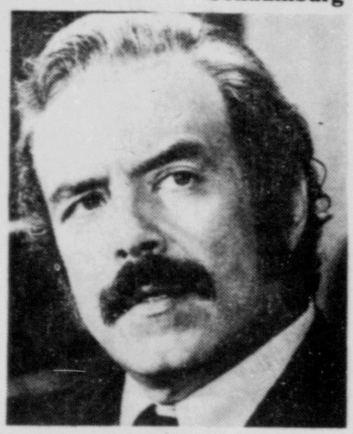
Since "The Graduate," Dustin has appeared in "Midnight Cowboy," his second film, which proved to the public that he was one of the finest actors around. In addition, he won his second Oscar nomination for his role as Ricco Rizzo in that film. Next, he appeared in "John and Mary" with Mia Farrow, then "Little Big Man," in which Dustin went from a very young man to a 120-year-old senior citizen. Most recently, he appeared in "Papillon" with Steve McQueen.

Dustin tried out for the part of Che Guevara in the film "Che!" and also for Michael in "The Godfather" but didn't get either role. He also would like to play the part of Adolph Hitler, if he ever got the chance, since he feels "there really is a thin line between destruction and construction. A man can be a tremendously destructive person and still be human too...I don't think Hitler thought of himself as Hitler but as a great man."

Dustin would really like to be doing more directing at this time, since he used to do that sort of work at community theaters when he couldn't get acting jobs. He feels directing is much more fulfilling as well as more relaxing. He doesn't really enjoy acting that much, even though he no longer feels self conscious in front of the camera. Dustin acts because "I think it's the thing I'll ever do best in this life."

Could you please tell me why Pernell Roberts, who played Adam Cartwright on "Bonanza" left the show before it stopped running? Please print his picture.

G.G.
Schaumburg



Pernell Roberts

Pernell simply wanted to do more things. It was entirely his choice to leave and since that time he has been performing in the theater and he has also guest-starred on various television programs.

Is Len O'Connor, one of Channel 5's veteran news commentators, going to resign? I have admired him for many years as a man who continually speaks out about the Chicago political machine.

I.O.
Arlington Heights

Len retired from Channel 5 or you could say he was divorced from the network because of differences of opinion with the policy of NBC-TV and WMAQ. Len was offered jobs with WGN and WTTW and rumor has it that he is leaning toward WTTW, the PBS station, although the plans are not definate yet.

I would like the address of Walt Disney Studios. Thanks.

AVIATION ASSOCIATES, INC.

Cessna Pilot Education gets you in the air fast.

Saves you time and money.

A recent survey shows that Cessna Pilot Center students averaged 25% fewer hours flying time to get their private pilot certificate.

95% of CPC students passed their FAA written exam the first time they took it.

Cessna's unique integrated learning program is the reason. Ground and flight training are coordinated into a logical sequence for faster, surer learning.

See for yourself. Come out and take a $5.00 introductory flight.

32 COMMONWEALTH EDISON Presents CHURCHILL THE MAN at 6 PM

32 Churchill the Man
Commonwealth Edison presents this BBC-produced documentary without commercial interruption, one hundred years after the birth of Sir Winston Churchill and nine years after his death. The story of one of the giants of our century, "Churchill the Man," focuses on Churchill as seen through the eyes of his daughter, his friends and acquaintances, putting a man of myth into human perspective. The special features a commentary by Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and a visit to Chartwell, the family home, with Churchill's daughter, Sarah.

Saturday, November 30

(9) Civilisation

"Heroic Materialism" The final episode takes us to the present state of Western civilization. We are the world of the moon shot, the atomic bomb and the computer. The skyscrapers of Manhattan, the suspension bridge and the impersonal machine are objects which express the deepest feelings and aspirations of our time. Attention is paid to engineers, the growth of railways and the shape of modern science. Kenneth Clark also discusses great humanitarian reformers like Wilberforce and Lord Shaftesbury. He sums up by saying that despite atom blasts and doomsday machines civilization continues to inch ahead "like a rock climb, three steps up, two steps down --but in the end --an ascent.

Are you a fix-it executive?

Some people are very good at it. Maybe you're one.

And maybe we can help you. None of us at the bank are really very good with a hammer. But we're great when it comes to money. And that's why we're here. To help you with money problems.

If you need a fix-it loan for a home improvement job, or even new storm windows, we're the people to turn to. Or if maybe you need a consolidation loan for your projects and a few of the fine things in life, we're the right people for that, too.
